SPECTACULAR CAREER OF GERMAN RAIDER ENDS

Eitel Forced to Intern at Newport News—Captain Heartbroken—Was All Ready for Dash

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 8.—With the interment of the German auxiliary cruiser, Prinz Eitel Friedrich and her crew, the commerce destroyer ended her spectacular war career. Decision of Captain Thierichens of the Prinz Eitel to intern his ship followed the receipt by him of an imperative notice from the United States government early last night that the time limit for his stay in this port would expire at midnight. Had he not asked to intern his ship Captain Thierichens would have been compelled to depart from American waters not later than 4 a. m. today. In requesting permission of the Washington government to intern Captain Thierichens explained that failure of expected relief to arrive made the step necessary rather than "deliver crew and ship to fruitless and certain destruction by British and French warships waiting off the Virginia capes."

Horace S. Bacon Affected Mentally, Shot Himself This Morning

Had Been Ill and Acting Queerly—Sketch of His Career in Business

Horace S. Bacon, one of Lowell's most prominent citizens, committed suicide in his home at 107 Stevens street at 6 o'clock this morning by shooting himself in the head with a rifle which stood in the corner of the room. Physicians were summoned immediately following the shooting but nothing could be done as death was instantaneous.

Mr. Bacon had been suffering from melancholia for several weeks and was under the care of two physicians. For the past two weeks or so he was more or less despondent on account of his illness and at times, it is said, he acted queerly. This morning's act followed a night during which he had gained little rest as his illness seemed to madden his mind and he could not get relief.

Shortly before the suicide Mr. and Mrs. Bacon had been in the room together. The latter left the room for a moment but hardly had she crossed the threshold when she heard the report of a rifle and upon turning around she discovered her husband lying on the floor with blood pouring from his forehead where the bullet had entered. Assistance was sent for but Mr. Bacon had passed away before anyone arrived.

Medical Examiner Meigs was called to view the body. The result of his examination showed that deceased had been suffering from an illness which he feared could not be cured. He was 45 years of age.

Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Baldwin Bacon, and was born in this city in 1869. He was educated in the local public schools, graduating from the high school in 1887. He then went to Boston where he was assistant paymaster of the Norway Steel and Iron company for two years. In 1892 he was appointed commissioner of deeds and had an office at 61 Central street. At about this time he was graduated from the Harvard law school though he never practiced his profession to any extent.

After discontinuing his office downtown, Mr. Bacon spent his time in caring for his real estate until appointed registrar of deeds in 1903 to succeed the late Capt. Thompson. He became a candidate for the office but was defeated by William C. Purcell, the present incumbent. Mr. Bacon was highly esteemed by his associates in business and the various fraternities to which he belonged and the news of his passing was a great shock to them.

Mr. Bacon employed most of his time of late at the local Masonic temple, where he was one of the most prominent members. He was a member of Kilwinning lodge, Mt. Horeb R. A. chapter; Royal and Select Masters; Pillgrimage Commandery, Knights Templar and was of the 32nd degree, Scottish Rite Free Masonry. Besides being past master of his lodge, he was high priest of his chapter and also served as district grand high priest of the 11th district. He was a past district deputy grand master for the Blue lodge of the 12th Masonic district. He was a past commander of his commandery.

THE LATE HORACE S. BACON

At the time of his death, Mr. Bacon was recorder of his commandery and also the M. W. master of Mt. Calvary, chapter of those Croix, and was actively engaged in elaborate preparations of the exemplification of the 18th degree and had brought through his individual efforts that degree of rite to a state unequalled in his history in Lowell. His loss to free Masonry cannot be realized.

Besides being connected with the Masonic bodies, deceased was an active member of the Lowell Historical society, a son of the American Revolution, a former secretary of the Highland club and was connected with other organizations.

He is survived by a wife, Melvina M., two sons, Horace S. and Stephen S.; one sister, Mrs. Walter E. Murkland and one niece, Miss Dorothy B. Lyman.

Military Expert Says Nine or Ten Months More Will Exhaust All Reserves—Belgian Troops Advance Along Western Side of Ypres

ROME, April 8.—The nations now at war have lost 5,950,000 men in the first eight months of the conflict and spent $8,400,000,000 in the first six months, according to figures prepared for the Avanti, a socialist organ by its military expert. The article declares the only result of the war will be a reciprocal wearing out of the forces engaged and not a military victory. It is calculated that nine or ten months more will exhaust the reserves of men and that the country which will suffer least from this exhaustion will be Russia.

TWELVE WOMEN AND CHILDREN KILLED BY BOMBS DROPPED BY AUSTRIANS

PARIS, April 8.—Twelve women and children were killed and 45 others injured by bombs dropped by Austrian aviators in the market place at Podgoritz, Montenegro, yesterday afternoon, according to a Cetinje despatch to the Havas agency. Many buildings were destroyed by the missiles, seven of which were dropped from the aeroplane.

BRITISH STEAMER ISMAHIA ARRIVED AT RIO JANEIRO TODAY

RIO JANEIRO, April 8.—The British steamer Ismahia came into Rio Janeiro today and an anchor had she dropped anchor than speculation was rife as to her real character. She has on board 148 passengers and the captain declares his destination is the Falkland Islands. Lack of coal compelled him to land in here. He declined any further explanation nor has it been possible to learn why such a large number of passengers are going to the Falklands.

British warships are still believed to be in Falkland waters and it is being said here that the Ismahia is a transport taking 148 officers and men to reinforce their crews.

WESTERN SIDE OF YPRES COMPLETELY FREED OF GERMAN BY BELGIANS

LONDON, April 8.—The Belgian legation here has received a telegram from the Belgian minister of war dated yesterday which reads as follows: "The western side of the Ypres canal in the direction of Drel Grachen has been completely freed of the enemy by Belgian troops. The Germans fled in disorder leaving behind them machine guns and ammunition."

"Today passed off quietly. The hostile artillery showed very little activity."

COMBINED LAND AND SEA ATTACK ON DARDANELLES

Italy Still Trying to Make Peaceful Settlement With Austria—Other War News

Gen. Pau of the French army, who has reached Naples on his way from Petrograd and the Balkan capitals, corroborated the reports that the allies are preparing for a combined land and sea attack on the Dardanelles. When this attack is made, the general says, the Turkish fortifications must fall.

Austrians Drop Bombs
Austrian aviators dropped seven bombs yesterday on Polgoritz, Montenegro. A Cetinje despatch says that 12 women and children were killed and four other persons wounded.

Italy Ready to Strike
Although she has concentrated her army along the Austrian border and her navy within striking distance of the Adriatic, Italy is still employing every means available which may lead to a peaceful settlement with Austria of the question of territorial concessions.

Losses During First Six Months
The losses of men during the first six months of the war are estimated by the military expert of a Rome newspaper at 5,950,000. The cost of the war in that period is placed at $8,400,000,000.

Advices from Rome indicate that even should Italy become embroiled in the war she will not strike for some time. It is believed in Rome that the decisive struggle among the nations now at war will not begin before the early summer, which would allow Italy a considerable interval in which to decide upon her policy.

The Austrian correspondent of a Turin newspaper telegraphs that he has reliable information that there is a basis for the reports that Austria is seeking peace with the triple entente powers, the better to deal with Italy. Semi-official negotiations, he says, have begun.

Sectarian Bill Lost — Batcheller Resolve Killed — How the Representatives Voted

BOSTON, April 8.—The state house of representatives refused yesterday, 107 yeas to 115 nays, to order to a third reading the so-called Batcheller bill, which would amend the state constitution so as to forbid the appropriation of public funds for sectarian purposes.

The house, by a vote of 111 yeas to 118 nays, also refused to substitute for an adverse committee report the Fitzgerald amendment, which would prevent public appropriations for any institution not controlled by the state or local authorities. Then the house took the same action on the Cross amendment, which in general resembled the Fitzgerald resolve.

The debate on these measures consumed practically the whole afternoon session; indeed, the house sat until almost 6:45 so that they might be disposed of.

The Fitzgerald resolve was first on the motion of Mr. Lonsdaley of Boston that it be substituted for the unfavorable report of the committee on constitutional amendments.

Then Mr. Cross of Royalston made a similar motion on his resolve. Finally the house took up the Batcheller resolve, which had received a favorable report from the committee and was

Kill Catarrh Germs and Stop Catarrh

Breathe This Antiseptic Dry Air In Your Own Home and Quickly Kill Catarrh, Head Colds and Sinusitis

One of the surest signs of catarrh of the head, nose and throat is catching cold easily. When you have catarrh the mucous membranes are inflamed, swollen and sensitive and a slight draft or sudden change of temperature at once sets you sneezing, sniffling and wiping your nose. Then again while these delicate tissues are in an inflamed state the catarrh germs sneezed out and coughed up by other sufferers find quick and easy lodgment in your affected nose and throat and immediately start eating their way into your raw sore organs. Then your catarrh gets worse and you wake up mornings with tongue thick, mouth sticky and nose all stopped up.

Catarrh can be overcome and the germs of catarrh destroyed if you will go to any good drug store and ask for a large complete Hyomei (pronounced Hye-me) treatment, consisting of a bottle of the oil of Hyomei and a small hard rubber inhaling device.

You put a few drops of the Hyomei oil into this inhaler and then put it between your lips and breathe naturally this pleasant, antiseptic healing air of Hyomei way into your nose, throat and lungs. After each five minutes your air passages are cleaned out, you breathe easily and the discharge stops and if you will do this every day for a few weeks you will drive every catarrh germ and every symptom of catarrh entirely from your system.

Hyomei, when used with this inhaling device is always sold with the positive guarantee that it must give you successful results, or you can have your money back.

generally regarded as the most important of the three pieces of legislation.

The committee had divided in its reports. Senator Nowell of Hamilton and Representative Fitz-Henry Smith, Jr., of Boston, Catherine of Beverly, Jerome S. Smith of Provincetown, Coe of New Bedford and Ralph M. Smith of Somerville, making a majority of the committee, had reported favorably on the Batcheller amendment and "in favor of withdrawal" on the Fitzgerald and Cross amendments; a minority, consisting of Senators Bartlett of Pittsfield and McGonagle of Boston and Representatives Donahue, Lewis and Santosuso, all of Boston, had dissented on all three reports.

Mr. Lonsdaley of Boston opened the debate. He moved to substitute the Fitzgerald resolve for the report of the committee. He said he was opposed to the Batcheller amendment because it was an unequal-for insult to a large part of the population of the state and because it was based upon a promise which did not conform to the facts.

In past years, he said, the legislature has appropriated for private charitable institutions a total of $5,350,000, of which only $19,000 went to Catholic institutions. For educational institutions, privately controlled, he said, $5,514,000 had been appropriated, and not a dollar of this went to Catholic institutions.

The appropriation for non-Catholic institutions, he said, had jumped from $255,000 in 1899, to more than $500,000, an increase of more than 500 per cent, yet the Catholics would never protest against such appropriations if they were not now confronted with such a proposition.

Now that the matter has been stirred up, Mr. Lonsdaley said, the legislature should take action of which it will always be proud. It should pass an amendment to the constitution which will absolutely prohibit such appropriations for any purpose and for all time, and will place all institutions upon an equal footing.

Founded on Bigotry

Mr. Sherburne of Brookline spoke next. He opposed all the proposed amendments, but particularly the Batcheller resolve, about which he said:

"The Batcheller amendment is based for the reason that it prejudices the future. It is based because it is unnecessary, for our present constitution now gives practically all the protection that the Batcheller amendment seeks. It is based because it upsets without any valid reason, many laws which have worked perfectly well.

"But the strongest reason of all against this amendment is the fact that it is founded on religious prejudice and bigotry. This man Batcheller, a political free lance, out of a job, working upon the latent distrust which many Protestants feel toward the Catholic church, has collected together a goodly following, among which are numbered men who have no business to lend their names nor to commit the

"He has fanned into flame once more, for his own advantage and nothing else, the old anti-Catholic prejudice and has made many sincere and honest men believe what is not a fact, that our schools are in danger and that public funds may be used for other than public purposes.

"I, as a Protestant, resent this movement as unfair and as un-American. It is insulting to thousands of our citizens. It is unsettling to orderly government. It is contrary to our traditions of religious independence.

"There is bigotry on both sides, and we cannot legislate against it, but when it appears in this place we can turn the light of day upon it, and by refusing to lend ourselves to narrowness and prejudice, stand for the ideals of the great mass of our citizens."

SEC. BRYAN HOPES IOWA DEMOCRATS WILL VOTE AGAINST OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Secretary Bryan made public tonight a letter he had written to L. W. Kennington, democratic national committeeman from Iowa, expressing the hope that the democrats of Iowa would take a stand for prohibition and vote against officials who would be controlled by the liquor interests.

Mr. Bryan added in a statement that he hoped to see the democratic party taking the prohibition side wherever the question was raised and that if the liquor interests insisted upon making the selection of a national committeeman an issue the people opposed to the liquor traffic could not afford to ignore it.

"I do not know," stated Mr. Bryan, "to what extent the question will be an issue in the campaign next year. At the present time it does not seem probable that it will find a place in the platform of either the democratic or the republican party; but there is no reason why the national committee should not represent the sentiment of the party on this subject, as on other subjects."

Mr. Kennington had written Mr. Bryan that his name was being urged in behalf of a candidate for the national committee.

In his letter to Mr. Kennington, Mr. Bryan points out that the legislature of Iowa has voted statutory prohibition and has also submitted to the people a prohibition amendment to the constitution; also, as he insists, that the liquor interests have already ruled out one good man because he is "dry."

COMPENSATION ACT CHANGES

The state house of representatives spent all its morning session yesterday in debating various amendments to the workmen's compensation act. Several bills which would extend the scope of the act, were substituted for adverse committee reports, and will take their places in the orders of the day.

The committee on ways and means reported ought not to pass on the bill to establish a state school fund; this bill had received a favorable report from the committee on education.

The committee on public institutions reported no legislation necessary on so related to the reorganization of the prison commission, and to placing the control of the state, as well as the reorganization of the state board of charity.

The same committee, with Messrs. Ames, Ames and Sinnott dissenting, reported a bill for a new hospital at Waltham for the insane on the Metropolitan district.

The committee on harbors and public lands reported a bill authorizing a loan of $350,000 for improving the harbor of Fall River.

The rules were suspended in order to admit for consideration Mayor Curley's bills providing for a new bridge over the Charles river between Boston and Dedham.

GOLD DUST

For every brightening and cleaning purpose in every home

Gold Dust is used at least three times a day in millions of homes everywhere.

Yet there are many thousands of housewives who think Gold Dust is only for one or two uses—They would not use anything else but Gold Dust for washing dishes, for example—Or for scrubbing floors and woodwork, washing windows, etc.

Gold Dust should be used for cleaning and brightening everything. It is most economical; it is most satisfactory and it is most sanitary. Cannot scratch or harm any surface, and it will dissolve and remove all dirt and grease

The active principle of Gold Dust is so remarkably thorough that you rinse away the dirt and grease, leaving a newness, a cleanness and a brightness which delights.

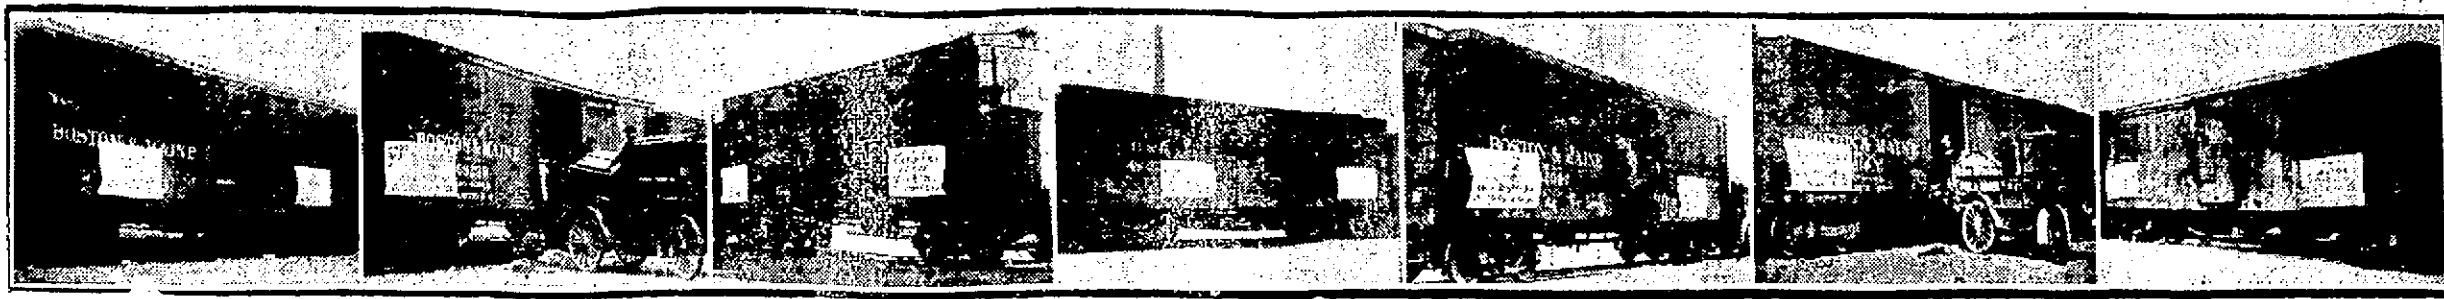

Gold Dust forces its way into the corners and crevices where neither fingers nor washcloth can reach. It truly works for you. Any woman who has washed dishes with Gold Dust knows what that means.

Gold Dust is the leading washing and cleaning powder in the world; it is indispensable once you know it.

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS

In the matter of the daily dressing of the hair mothers have no end of little girl coiffures from which to choose. For the child with perfectly straight locks the Russian style, cut short and bobbing around the ears and neck, has long been a general favorite. Practical and comfortable as it unquestionably is, the one objection to it is the extremely boyish look which it gives.

The latter is relieved somewhat by a slight pompadour effected by parting the hair on either side of the head at the front and tying the intervening locks at the left of the head. Or, for the very young child, the hair is parted on a perfectly straight line on either side of the forehead and caught each in a small, bunched bow of soft ribbon. This style of hair dressing is becoming only to a child with rather low brows. The particular charm in either of these rather severe styles lies in the freshness and brightness of the bow or bows that set them off.

The careless, untidy mother has no right to expect nature to provide her with a fine, healthy child. He may be well proportioned and healthy when he comes into the world, but he will soon lose strength and health if he is not kept clean. Badly raised clothing causes eruptions, for the remains of soap, salt soda and lye irritate the baby's tender skin.

Carelessly washed diapers cause chafing and nervous affections. Bacteria germs will find a lodgment in inflamed creases that ought to be dimpled, pink folds of healthy skin. A dirty or soiled scalp itches, and itching keeps the baby awake, making him nervous and fretful. I know mothers who spend hours sewing on lace and embroidering tiny frocks, yet who hurry through the process of bathing. This is a grave injustice to the child.

Your child has a right to all the beauty you can endow it with. If your baby has thin eyebrows and lashes, try to encourage their growth. It can be done. Feed the eyebrows with a little cocoa butter or vaseline.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

If you are very careful you can even louch the lashes with a tiny camel's hair brush dipped in melted vaseline. I know a man and wife whose looks were marred by scanty lashes and colorless brows. When her babies came this woman determined to do something to improve this unfortunate inheritance. She rubbed vaseline into the brows, had the lashes cut twice before the babies were three months old, asking the family physician, an excellent surgeon, to do this for her, and then she touched the roots of the lashes with melted vaseline. Her children, now all in their teens, have beautiful brows and lashes.

If you are careful about how to lay the baby when sleeping you will not have any trouble with outstanding ears. Lay the child on both sides alternately and see that the ears are flat.

When they extend abnormally they can be improved by a slight operation and made to lie flat to the head. This will make them look smaller but the actual size of the ears cannot be changed.

I have seen children of eight or ten years whose faces are asymmetrical—that is, larger on one side than the other—and physicians say this may have come from always sleeping on the side. Later in life when the form of the face is fixed the adult may form any sleeping habit he likes, but the baby should be trained to sleep on either side.

It is absolutely criminal to let a child distort its mouth by sucking thumb or fingers. Let no mother deceive herself by saying that the habit is the child's great comfort, a natural soothe and pacifier. In later years that child, especially if it is a girl, will call her mother to task for permitting the indulgence.

I have seen mothers actually start babies in this fatal habit of finger-sucking by giving them what is known as a "pacifier" or rubber nipple on a ring. It is natural for a baby to suck at something. He is born hungry.

When he is very young he will continue making sucking motions with his mouth after the breast or bottles have been taken away from him. If he happens to whimper the mother thinks the little sucking motion must be satisfied, she gives him the pacifier or actually sticks his thumb in his mouth, and the mischief is begun.

Very young children do not need hair tonic, but the hair should be massaged gently two or three times a week, and brushed thoroughly every day. Until a child is about three years of age, its hair is usually washed during the bath. After that it should be thoroughly washed every two weeks until the child is six years old. After a severe illness a child's hair should be closely cut, shaved if the hairdresser thinks it necessary. It may seem a pity to sacrifice pretty curls after such a slight ailment as chickenpox, but if there is a single seab on the scalp the hair should be cut, as nests of dandruff almost invariably form in the scars and the hair may always be thin and poor as a result.

The practice of combing the heads of children frequently with a fine tooth comb is a bad one, as the points of the teeth are quite sure to scratch and irritate the scalp, and are almost sure to produce scurf and dandruff.

CONSTIPATION OR COMFORT?

There can be neither comfort nor good health where constipation exists. Most people suffer from this cause at intervals, many are chronic victims.

The old-time remedies for this very common complaint are nauseating doses of some powerful purgatives that leave the condition worse than before.

In the new laxative, Pinklets, is presented a dainty, sugar-coated granule, that is free from unpleasant effects, does not upset the stomach nor gripe but simply gives nature the needed assistance. Once used Pinklets and you will never return to salts, oil and harsh purgatives.

Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free sample, or get a full size 25-cent bottle of Pinklets from your own druggist.

THE PROBLEM OF THE UNEMPLOYED

Lowell Better Off Than a Majority of Cities—Mayor Talks on New Public Hall

There has been a great deal of talk about Lowell's unemployed and it was during a discussion of the question at city hall this morning that some important and interesting facts were brought out.

Martin Conley, superintendent of the Chelmsford Street hospital, dropped in when the discussion had warmed up pretty well and after listening patiently to some fellows who didn't seem to know just what they were talking about, Martin butted in.

"Your dope on the unemployed question," said Mr. Conley, "is away off. Lowell is better off in that respect than most cities throughout the country and other cities wonder how it is that Lowell, a manufacturing city with a cosmopolitan population, has pulled through the winter so well.

"We have heard terrible tales from other cities about the problem of the unemployed, but the only talk of Lowell's unemployed is that they are unemployed in Lawrence cost that city $18,000 during the months of January and February. So great was the demand for aid that it was necessary to employ 23 additional clerks in the charity department. The applicants for aid couldn't be taken care of at the headquarters of the charity department and it was found necessary to rent a vacant store.

"Fall River's unemployed cost that city $14,000 for the month of January and in New Bedford four times as many applications for aid were received during the months of January, February and March as were received in Lowell. New Bedford's demands totalled 700 as against 150 in Lowell.

"The city of Springfield for the first time in her history has been heard to complain about the problem of the unemployed. Every city has had to deal with the problem and Lowell has fared much better than the average.

"Down in Lawrence the Lawrence social service committee gave out cards to the unemployed. The committee went around to the houses of the applicants distributing cards. The committee did not take any histories of the cases, but that is being done at the present time, the committee going back over the route on which the cards were distributed. Before the histories were taken the recipients of aid were not pauperized, but after the history is taken the one helped becomes a pauper."

Mr. Conley said that there are 483 inmates at the Chelmsford Street hospital at the present time and that the biggest number at any time during the winter months was 520.

At the present time the sum of $2200 is being paid each month to the mothers of dependent children, as against $1800 and $1900 a month last year. Eighty-eight mothers are being assisted at the present time.

Public Hall Question

Mayor Murphy stated today that the proposition for a public hall in connection with the Memorial building was not meant to block the way for the proposition for a new public hall of the kind of hall that would take the place of the old Huntington hall.

"There was a public hall in Memorial building before the fire," said Mayor Murphy, today, "but it was not very much used. It has a seating capacity of about 300 and I understand from the architect that the seating capacity of the hall that could be built in connection with the reconstruction of the Memorial building would have a seating capacity not exceeding 1000. Lowell requires a hall with greater seating capacity than 1000 and, as a matter of fact, we do not contemplate spending any more on a new hall in the Memorial building than the amount of the insurance.

"I fear that it will be difficult with the money received for insurance to make the building absolutely fireproof from the second story, but what I most want to emphasize is that the plan to build this hall is not meant to stall the proposition for a new public hall."

At the conference held yesterday afternoon Architect Frederick W. Stickney said he was convinced that the reconstruction of the hall should be carefully considered. He said it would involve a great expense. The mayor and Commissioner Putnam thought that the work on the building, the reconstruction of it, should be done without calling on the city to spend any money aside from the $91,000 to be received as insurance.

To this Architect Harry Prescott Graves replied that he did not believe, under those conditions, that much fireproofing could be done. He told them they were liable to make a patch work job before they got through. Mr. Graves spoke about the new regulations of the state about ventilation, and the many things that have to be looked after now which did not have to be considered when the building was put up.

Classical Association

Those of Lowell's teachers who are members of the Classical Association of New England will go to Boston, Friday, to attend the tenth annual meeting of the association. The meeting will be held in the Museum of Fine Arts.

The association is made up of several hundred members, all of them teachers of classical subjects in colleges or secondary schools. Its purpose is to promote the study of meth-

FUNERALS

KEEFE—The funeral of Thomas Keefe took place this morning from the chapel of J. J. O'Connell, 888 Gorham street at 9:30 o'clock and was largely attended by many sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral proceeded to the Sacred Heart church where a funeral high mass was sung by Rev. John Flynn, O. M. I., at 10 o'clock. There were many beautiful floral offerings, including: Large willow of lilies, plants and roses, inscribed "Brother" from Mrs. Frank Burke, Mr. Daniel Keefe and Mr. Cornelius Keefe and other bouquets. The bearers were: Augustus Ryan, James Barrows, Denis Donohue and Frank Burke. Interment took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where Rev. John Flynn, O. M. I., read the committal prayers at the grave. Undertaker J. J. O'Connell had charge of the funeral arrangements.

AVEIRO—The funeral of Matilda Aveiro took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Undertakers M. H. McDonough. Services were held at the Portuguese church on Charles street. Rev. Antonio Rodriguez officiating. Burial was in the Western cemetery where the final prayers were read by Rev. Antonio Rodriguez. Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons in charge.

CASSIDY—The funeral of Della Agnes Cassidy took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from the home of her parents, 5 Bear of 238 Suffolk street, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 9 o'clock a funeral mass was sung by Rev. Joseph Curtin. The floral offerings included: pillow of roses and lilies inscribed "Sister" from the brothers of the deceased and pieces from the Lardner family. Aunt Della, Mr. and Mrs. C. O'Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy and Mr. and Mrs. Lovett and family. Spiritual bouquets from Miss Rose Latham, Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald, Margaret Teague and Miss Nellie Riley. The bearers were Robert McManus, Robert Lardner, Thomas Cassidy and Thomas Sexton. Interment was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where Rev. Fr. Curtin conducted the burial service at the grave. Funeral Director James W. McKenna in charge.

DEATHS

GODFROI—Reo, aged 6 months, died today at the home of the parents, Wilfrid and Dorilla Godfroi, 133 Perkins street. Burial took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

PERSONALS

The farce comedy Baby Mine, at the Merrimack Square theatre is one of the funniest productions ever given there. It is a sure cure for the blues.

Mrs. A. E. Jay of 19 Beach street has left for Minneapolis, Minn., where she was called to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. A. E. Lawson, who is critically ill.

BODY OF EX-GOV. GUILD

BOSTON, April 7.—Public exercises in memory of former Governor Curtis Guild, who died yesterday, will begin tomorrow when the body will lie in state for six hours in the Hall of Flags at the state house. Detachments from the artillery and cavalry branches of the militia will act as guards and the first hour will be given up to state officials, members of the legislature and employees at the state house.

The funeral services on Friday will be of a semi-military character, with officers who served on Governor Guild's staff acting as ushers.

CHURCH FIRE

A still alarm this morning was for a chimney fire in a dwelling at 19 So. Whipple street. No damage.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE AND CRACK GERMAN BATTERY IN THE SNOW

CROWN PRINCE FREDERICK WILLIAM GERMAN BATTERY IN THE SNOW

BERLIN, April 6.—In the winter warfare German batteries have given good accounts of themselves. This branch of the service is the hobby of the German crown prince. At the outset of the war it was held that in the winter campaign the Russians would overwhelm the German troops. Late accounts, however, show that the German troops have withstood nicely the rigors of the winter campaign.

HOUSE ENTERED

Home of Vice President Marshall Broken Into by Burglars

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 7.—The home here of Thomas R. Marshall, vice-president of the United States, has been entered by burglars, it became known today. Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall are visiting relatives of Mrs. Marshall in Scottsdale, Ariz. It had not been learned today if anything of value had been taken. The robbery was discovered by Mr. Marshall's neighbors, who found a window had been broken. There was no silverware or jewelry in the house when the robbery was investigated but the neighbors presumed that such articles had been removed before the Marshalls departed, early in March, on their western trip.

FOR SIEGE OF MATAMORAS

REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE VILLA TROOPS HAVE ARRIVED OUTSIDE THE CITY

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, April 7.—After ten days waiting some of the reinforcements expected by the Villa troops for the siege of Matamoras arrived today outside that city. These reinforcements were the advance guard only, the main body consisting of artillery forces being delayed by lack of railroad facilities. In Matamoras squads of soldiers are at work on what appears to be additional defenses. The trenches surrounding the city now are so high that United States army officers say that their height may become a handicap in a battle reducing the zone of rifle fire by forcing the defenders to fire toward the ground instead of parallel to it.

Bags of earth topped by steel rails have been piled about some of the machine guns at the top of the trenches.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE REJECTED

HARTFORD, Conn., April 7.—A proposed constitutional amendment giving women the right of suffrage in this state was rejected by the Connecticut house of representatives today.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

NEW HAVEN, April 7.—Announcement was made here today that the annual tournament of the Connecticut Golf association for the state championship will be held at the Brooklawn club, Bridgeport, July 7 to 10.

ATTACK ON DARDANELLES

CONSTANTINOPLE NOT ALARMED. SAYS VON DER GOLTZ—TURKEY WELL SUPPLIED

VIENNA, April 7.—Field Marshal Von Der Goltz on his way back to Constantinople from Berlin stopped in Vienna and saw Emperor Francis Joseph. Later he spoke to a reporter of the Neue Freie Presse of his visit, saying: "I found Emperor Joseph in a serious mood but resolute and very confident."

Regarding the situation in Turkey, Field Marshal Von Der Goltz said: "Turkey today is better prepared than ever. She has a million and a quarter of well trained men in addition to several hundred thousand reserves for any emergency. As the entente powers are interested politically in exaggerating the news of the destruction of the outer forts of Sed El-Bahr and Kum-Kaleh, which was only partly favorably to them, was made to appear a great victory. How little Constantinople was alarmed by these attacks may be seen from the fact that the sultan remained in his palace, a short distance from the sea. Nor did the attacks have the least effect upon the population."

THE U. S. NAVAL RESERVE

Sec. Daniels Sends Explanation to The Sun as to Scope of Act Just Passed by Congress

In reply to a letter of inquiry from The Sun, Secretary Daniels of the navy department sends the following reply and a statement explaining the scope of the new naval reserve bill in which many Lowell young men are interested:

March 29, 1915.
Editor, The Lowell Sun,
Lowell, Mass.

My dear Sir:
Replying to your letter of the 24th instant requesting information as to the recent naval reserve act passed by congress, the department takes pleasure in enclosing for your information, a copy of the naval reserve act and circular letter which is being sent out to all honorably discharged naval men, who have been out of the service for a period less than eight years, and would appreciate any assistance you may lend in helping to bring this important legislation before the public in your section of the country.

Very truly yours,
Joseph M. Daniels,
Secretary of the Navy.

Washington, D. C.,
March 11, 1915.

Sir:—There is forwarded herewith for your information a copy of the act of congress, approved March 3, 1915, creating a naval reserve of honorably discharged men, and authorizing graded pay according to length of service in the navy to men who elect to join the reserve.

This act contains features of much interest and importance to you, and deserves a careful reading. It was intended not only to create a naval reserve of honorably discharged experienced men but also to increase the efficiency of the regular service by offering substantial inducements to experienced men now in the navy to remain for longer periods and to ex-navy men in civil life to reenter the navy and, by so doing, have their previous service counted in determining the amount of graded pay they will receive when they join the reserve at some future date. This feature deserves your careful consideration as well as, prompt conclusion in the matter as the navy quota is now almost full and enlistments will soon have to be suspended in order not to exceed the number allowed by law. A waiting list to fill vacancies as they occur will have to be established at an early date. The law naturally prefers to fill vacancies by enlisting ex-service men rather than recruits and therefore, offers you this opportunity.

Consider first whether you wish to reenter the navy and have your previous service counted for graded pay when you join the reserve at some future time. If you have been out of the navy less than 8 years and are less than 35 years of age and physically sound you are eligible to reenter in the regular service.

If you decide to reenter the regular service, consider the advantages you will have by joining the naval reserve and having your name on an honor roll of the country, virtually established by an act of congress because the law allows only honorably discharged men to join the reserve.

There will be organizations of the reserve in every community where there are two or more members. They will be required to report at a designated place in their own community each quarter for muster and inspection and to sign pay roll. Failure to so report will cause forfeiture of pay.

Calling them into active service on board ship for drills and exercises is optional with the department. When so called they will receive travel and subsistence and full pay of their ratings.

In the intention, in this regard, to ascertain and suit the convenience of the men as far as practicable, as is the time of such active service, as is done in the case of the naval militia.

Eligible consideration will be given to the occupation of the man and its requirement of his services.

Read carefully the act and note the following:

(1) You must be a citizen of the United States.

(2) Your last discharge must have been honorable to enable you to join the reserve.

(3) If you decide to join the reserve within four months from date of discharge your pay will be $30 per annum. If you have served four years in the navy or for a minority enlistment $60. If you have served eight years, and $100 if you have served 12 years.

(4) If you serve 15 or 20 years in the navy you can be virtually retired on one-third or one-half pay.

(5) If you reenter in the navy your previous service will count to give you these advantages.

As you know, men usually get to be chief petty officers before they have 16 or 20 years' service, and their pay in the reserve would run from $35 to $60 or more per month.

(6) If you join the reserve after four months and within eight years from date of discharge your pay will be $12 per annum, and you will get an outfit or uniform when first called into active service. You can, however, increase this pay by serving another enlistment in the navy and then enlisting in the reserve within four months from date of expiration of such enlistment. In this connection remember that all your previous naval service counts in figuring out the pay you will receive.

(7) Men in the reserve will be given a distinctive badge or button indicating their membership in the reserve as well as their honorable service in the navy.

(8) When called into active service you will get the full pay of your rating as well as travel allowance and subsistence.

After a careful consideration of this matter, act promptly. Go to a recruiting ship or a recruiting station and reenter in the navy or enlist in the reserve. At any rate fill out the enclosed card and mail to the bureau in order that a place may be saved for you in the quota allowed by law.

If you know the whereabouts of other ex-service men the bureau would thank you to communicate with them on this subject or send their addresses.

It is important to all concerned that they should know the opportunities which congress has so liberally provided for them.

Respectfully,
Victor Blue,
Chief of Bureau.

Establishing Naval Reserve

There is hereby established a United States naval reserve which shall consist of citizens of the United States who have been or may be entitled to be honorably discharged from the navy after not less than one four-year term of enlistment or after a term of enlistment during minority. The naval reserve shall be organized under the bureau of navigation and shall be governed by the articles for the government of the navy and by the naval regulations and instructions. Any member actively employed with the navy or whenever employed in authorized travel to and from prescribed active duty with the navy, its members shall be employed as members of the naval reserve and shall while so employed be held and considered to be in all respects in the same status as enlisted men of the navy on active duty except that they shall not be advanced in rating in time of peace. When not actively employed with the navy, members of the naval reserve shall not be entitled to any pay, bounty, gratuity, or pension except the pay expressed in the provisions of this act. No member shall be entitled to retirement by reason of such service in the naval reserve.

Enlistments in the naval reserve shall be made in the rating in which the member is honorably discharged from the navy for a period of four years unless sooner discharged by competent authority. No man shall be first enlisted in the naval reserve after eight years from the date of his last discharge from the navy, nor unless he be found to be physically fit to perform the duties of the rating in which he last discharged, nor shall any man whose last service in the navy was terminated by any means other than by an honorable discharge be eligible for enlistment in the naval reserve. Reenlistments in the naval reserve shall be made under such regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy.

Enlistments in the naval reserve shall be made in two classes. Class one shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve within four months from the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy. Class two shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve after four months and within eight years from the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy.

In addition to the enlistments in the naval reserve above provided, the secretary of the navy is authorized to transfer to the naval reserve any enlisted man of the navy who may, after two years from the date of approval of this act complete service in the navy of sixteen, or twenty or more years, and be entitled at the expiration of the enlistment to an honorable discharge. Such transfers shall only be made upon voluntary application and in the rating in which they are serving, and the men so transferred shall be continued in the naval reserve until discharged by competent authority.

Members of the naval reserve of class one and men transferred to the naval reserve shall be required to keep on hand such part of the uniform clothing outfit as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy, and all members of the naval reserve shall be issued a distinctive badge or button which may be worn with civilian dress.

Members of class one who have served less than eight years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $30 per annum, and those who have served eight or more years and less than twelve years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $60 per annum, and those who have served twelve or more years in the navy, $100 per annum. All members of the naval reserve of class two shall be paid at the rate of $12 per annum, and when first called into active service on board a vessel of the navy shall receive an allowance for an outfit of clothing not exceeding $30 in value, to be expended under regulations prescribed by the secretary of the navy.

Members of the naval reserve who have, when transferred to the naval reserve, completed service in the navy of sixteen, or twenty or more years shall be paid at the rate of one-third and one-half, respectively, of the base pay, plus permanent additions thereto, which they were receiving at the close of their last service in the navy.

Members of the naval reserve may, in time of peace, be required to perform not less than one month's active service on board a vessel of the navy, during each year of service in the naval reserve and such active service shall not exceed two months in any one year. Provided, that the foregoing active service with the navy may be required to perform active service with the navy throughout the war, not to exceed the term of enlistment in the case of those enlisted in the naval reserve. Any pay which may be due any member of the naval reserve shall be forfeited when so ordered by the secretary of the navy upon the failure, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy, of such man to report for muster and inspection.

Those members of the naval reserve of class one, and those members who have been transferred to the naval reserve, who re-enlist in the navy within four months from the date of their discharge from the naval reserve, shall not be entitled to a gratuity of four months' pay, but their re-enlistment in the navy shall be held and considered to have been made within four months from the date of discharge from the navy for the purpose of continuous service pay. The period of time during which members of the naval reserve were actively employed with the navy while enlisted in the naval reserve shall, for the purposes of retirement, be counted as active service in the navy in the case of those who re-enlist in the navy after service in the naval reserve.

Magnesia Fine For Acid Stomach

Quickly Stops Sourness, Acidity, Belching, Bloating, Stomach Pains, Etc., and Makes Digestion Easy

Most folks who after eating experience a sour burning sensation in the stomach and are troubled with gas, bloating or a heavy lumpy feeling call it indigestion and take a peppermint or something of the kind to help the stomach digest the food and push it into the intestines.

In most cases these people have what physicians call an acid stomach. Their stomachs secrete too much hydrochloric acid which mixes with their food so that it ferments and sours and makes them uncomfortable. Instead of using something to artificially push this sour acid mass into the intestines where it will do almost as much harm as in the stomach they need a simple antacid that will quickly and harmlessly neutralize the acid in their stomach and make its food contents sweet. Then digestion becomes natural and pleasant and the disagreeable symptoms of heaviness, burning gas, belching, bloating, etc. all vanish.

Ordinary Bismuth Magnesia which can be obtained at any drug store is excellent for this purpose but should always be bought in sealed bottles to insure its purity and full strength. Either then or powder form, it can be obtained at any drug store and is sure that it is BISTART'S MAGNESIA—net just plain or colored Bismuth Magnesia which are not good for this purpose.

Bismuth Magnesia is a true antacid. It is taken after meals will neutralize all the excess acid in your stomach and prevent or stop all stomach distress.

RECEPTION AT Y. W. C. A.

Farewell Party to Miss Routelle Who Goes to Take Up the Work at Canton, China

Miss Harriet L. Routelle, who recently resigned from the local Y. W. C. A. to accept a position as general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Canton, China, was tendered a reception at the Young Women's Christian association last evening. The affair was held in Kilton hall, and about 200 friends of the popular young secretary assembled to wish her success and happiness in her new field. The board of directors and girls of the association presented Miss Routelle a black leather suit case and a purse of money. Refreshments were served and music was furnished by Cushman's orchestra.

Miss Routelle leaves Lowell on Saturday of this week for her home in Chelsea. From there she will go to San Francisco and thence to China.

OUR STREET FLAWS

Last Monday evening what might have been a sensational accident was averted in this city only through the coolness and bravery of a driver for the fire department. A fire motor combination truck proceeding to a fire and going at a good rate of speed suddenly arrived on the Moody street bridge and was stopped only a few feet from the bridge railing. Had the driver lost his nerve, the heavy piece of apparatus with the seven firemen aboard would undoubtedly have plunged to the river bed, thirty feet or more below. That the accident was avoided so narrowly is a cause for deep and thoughtful congratulation.

There is another feature of the incident, however, which should be considered: What was the cause of the accident? The direct cause was the snapping of an axle, but the indirect and real cause was apparently the bad condition of the street at the junction of Moody and Merrimack streets. Many automobilists and drivers of other vehicles have complained of the cradle holes that are to be found there in abundance, and traffic will be menaced at that point until the street is repaired. Had the great auto plunged through the bridge railing and carried its occupants to death on the rocks, there would be a public outcry that would not easily be stilled, but in this as in everything else, prevention is best. In this one instance is food for thought for our officials, and the frequent warnings of The Sun have been justified. Yet, the condition at Moody street is only typical of conditions in all parts of the city.

The hearing at city hall Tuesday evening also served to call attention strikingly to our myriad street imperfections. Some of the gentlemen who were there to protest against the expenditure of $3000 for a military celebration July 4 said pertinently that when driving through the streets they came across many "depressions" and "elevations" that might be eliminated by the expenditure of the amount to be blown in for a holiday show. Any Lowell driver will support them in this statement.

Not for a long time have there been better or stronger arguments for the permanent repair gang or gangs that The Sun has long advocated and that the mayor referred to in his last inaugural. We should have such a gang, working independently of the larger street force and attending to the small defects that multiply so rapidly and that get so serious when neglected. At the present time all the minor defects in a street must apparently wait until the entire street is reconstructed, but this is not so in other cities. Anybody who takes trips along the fine state boulevards that run by the beaches may see little groups here and there all through the summer filling up holes and depressions and putting a binder on top so that the streets and roads are kept in permanent repair. The Lowell neglect is a costly one in the end, and we have seen in the auto accident referred to above that it is extremely dangerous. We will be lucky indeed if our shortcomings are not brought home to us in some regrettable tragic occurrence.

Another point, in relation to this same matter, merits close attention. Since the advent of the heavy motor trucks which have replaced the horse drawn vehicles, it is plain that much of our street surface is not able to stand the wear and tear. The horse traffic had a tendency to beat down the macadam surface, but the wheels of the auto trucks make ruts and holes that are enlarged and spread by the daily traffic. To meet this, our street department must plan for a system of steel construction that will withstand the abuse of modern heavy automobile traffic. The lack of some substantial street paving is undoubtedly responsible for many of the flaws which have been brought to public attention recently.

There is nothing theoretical about Lowell street conditions. We are face to face with practical problems that call for practical solution. It is high time that the city maintained permanent repair gangs and paved the streets to meet modern requirements. The question is by no means a simple one, but it is one that must be met sooner or later, and the sooner the better.

WHAT IS UNEMPLOYMENT?

For some time past there has undoubtedly been a great deal of unemployment and general distress throughout the country, due to the effects of the war on the industries of our great centres, but some things that are now being exploited in the press under the name of "unemployment" look decidedly strange. Even conservative Boston has been giving columns daily to stories of the "unemployed" and the "jobless," and there are features of the agitations that seem to call for close investigation, if future danger is to be averted.

In Boston—and in other cities—certain wordy and windy agitators who masquerade as the friend of the down-trodden have organized bands of so-called "unemployed" and collected them in buildings dubbed "Hotel de Jobless" or something of the sort. Every day these leaders manage to stage some spectacular incident or group of incidents and in consequence the movements they represent are getting a great deal of publicity. Occasionally some condition is revealed which seems worthy, but many aspects of the agitation look like social disturbances of other days, backed by men with most sinister motives. The voices that wear sheep's clothing so effectively may have found a convenient mantle in the term "unemployed" and it is for Boston and all cities to find out the truth before more harm is done.

It is for all individuals and cities that are confronted with demand in the name of the unemployed to ascertain if the jobless are out of work because of no fault of theirs or if they are opposed to work on general principles. Even when prosperity is at a high pitch, it would be possible to find scores of unemployed in all cities, but with them the condition is chronic. Shrewd agitators with an axe to grind would find it very easy to fill hotels with gentlemen of this ilk, but the charitable should not be imposed upon. When, a short time ago, many followers of another "unemployed" movement in Boston were offered jobs on farms, the gang quickly disbanded. When self-elected leaders speak of "unemployment" it might be well for all to ascertain the brand of unemployment they represent.

POLICE OFFICERS' LIVES

The shooting of police officials while in the discharge of their duties is growing alarmingly frequent, and something should be done to prevent it. In most instances the crime is committed by thieves who are discovered in the act and who prefer to take a chance at murder rather than fall into the hands of the law for robbery. Some little while ago a noted criminal who was dining in a Boston cafe was approached by the late Inspector Norton, who quietly told him that he was under arrest. The criminal pulled a revolver and shot the inspector dead. A few days ago, Police Officer Corcoran discovered a thief in the act of holding up the employee of a Boston saloon. Corcoran approached, gun in hand, and asked the robber to surrender. The answer was a volley from the robber's gun, and Police Officer Corcoran lies in a hospital between life and death, with little hope of recovery.

If it comes to point where a criminal will shoot, the police official should shoot first. In the general run of things the man who goes into a store to rob a safe, or who enters a private residence for a haul of jewels or plate is armed to murder, and anybody who strives to stop him takes his life in his hand. Had Norton and Corcoran shot before their assailants had an opportunity to use a gun, society would be the gainer, and probably criminals would not find so much encouragement in the daily papers. When it is a choice between the life of a thief and the life of a protector of the public, let the life of the thief be sacrificed. The best way to speak to rabid criminals is through the barrel of a revolver, well aimed, and the bullet may prove a strong argument against crime.

CONTEMPTIBLE PLAGIARISM

Our New Universities Dictionary defines a plagiarist as "one who steals from the writings of another and passes them off as his own production; literary theft." A species known to newspaper offices is the unscrupulous individual who copies the poem of some standard author and palms it off on unsuspecting editors as his own. Luckily there are not many such, but there are enough to keep every editorial room on its guard, more or less. The dishonest plagiarist does not find it difficult in some cases to gratify his low ambition and occasionally he is able to strut about in his borrowed plumage—a living example of the depths to which vanity may lead when linked with ignorance. Some years ago Lowell was temporarily burdened with a plagiarist who appropriated many titles and degrees from foreign colleges and for a time imposed on the credulous. Growing bolder as his success increased, he finally laid claim to some literary jewels of Tom Moore and incidentally attracted so much unwelcome attention that he found it convenient to leave town. The offence of literary theft as practised by this erratic character and others more recently is a contemptible form of petty deception that is unreservedly condemned by all decent men—in newspaper offices and everywhere else.

THE CHILD MIND

In his recent address before the Teachers' organization of this city, Superintendent Dyer of the Boston schools gave expression to several novel but sensible views that should be thought over and discussed by the parents and teachers of Lowell. He wisely condemned the old-time school severity that Dickens loved to expose and the contrary spirit of idealism that for a time threatened our school system—the spirit that acted on the supposition that the child can do no wrong. It is the opinion of Mr. Dyer that the normal child is neither good nor bad but may be made either, to a large extent, by education and environment. He regards the school pupil as a bundle of impulses, some good and some bad, and he thinks the primary aim of the teacher should be to cultivate the good and discourage the bad. To this end he advises closer study of the tendencies of children at various ages, and says that their training should be in accordance with their capacity and leanings. He differentiates between the kindergarten stage, the habit-forming stage, and the stage when the child begins to be swayed by reason and high ideals and says that any educational system cannot ignore the different periods if it would be fully successful.

SAFETY FIRST IDEA

Here is an exemplification of the "safety first" idea as noted in a local restaurant. A man entered—a fine appearing man, immaculate in attire, though not without a touch of display, by the way—and going to the stand whereon were the glasses and the water bottle inverted in its receptacle took one of the glasses, then took a paper napkin, carefully wiped the glass inside and out, then wiped the glass a couple of times in the water, inside and out, with another paper napkin, wiped his own face and then took his drink of the water, which, it may be remarked, incidentally, he did not try to wipe with the napkin.

LAND FISHING

Rep. Vollmer, answering at a Washington luncheon an attack against his armament exportation bill, said: "These men misunderstood my bill. They misunderstood it as completely as the young lady misunderstood the lasso."

"A young lady, pointing to the lasso coiled on his pommel, said to a cowboy: 'What is that line for?'"

"To catch steers and horses, ma'am," the cowboy answered.

AT HAMPTON BEACH

There will be many changes at Hampton beach during the coming season, it is said, it being contemplated to extend the breakwater along the beach front, as a bill has been passed by the New Hampshire legislature, appropriating $5000 for the purpose. In addition to the $2000 appropriated by the town of Hampton, it is the intention to extend the breakwater, which also serves as a promenade along the shore, and extend it to the beach front, from White Rock island to Great Neck. According to the Hampton Beach Improvement society there will be 150 new cottages erected this season. This week the Goldstein Brothers, who have recently purchased the property, are at work on the improvements.

FOR EVERY SUFFERER FROM CONSTIPATION

Rheumalsins Insures Quick and Safe Relief

The safest, most pleasant and quickest way to relieve constipation and all the misery and ill that go with it, is to dissolve a little Rheumalsins in water and drink it while it is effective. Rheumalsins is a scientifically blended and chemically pure carbonated lithia drink that cleans out the stomach and intestines, eliminates toxins and poisons and leaves the intestinal canal clean and sweet.

If you are bothered with constipation, headache, yellow skin, coated tongue, bad breath, indigestion, biliousness, neuralgia or rheumatism, then you need Rheumalsins. Fine for both adults and infants.

It is a uric acid solvent as well as a saline laxative. Instead of "doping" yourself with drug-forming, heart-depressing "laxative" pills and tablets, take Rheumalsins. It is delicious to the taste and acts quickly without griping or nausea. Rheumalsins is as pure as the natural laxative salts from the Mineral Springs.

The next time you need a laxative, ask your druggist for about five ounces of Rheumalsins. If he hasn't the original Rheumalsins, write to the Rheumalsins Company, Minneapolis, Minn., who will be glad to see that you are supplied.

DOCTOR SCORES AGAIN

"Not long ago," said a Washington lawyer, "I attended a trial in Baltimore, during the course of which there was summoned as a witness a youthful physician. It was natural, of course, that counsel for the other side should, in cross-examination, seize the occasion to utter certain sarcastic remarks touching the knowledge and skill of so young a doctor."

"Are you," demanded the lawyer, "entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

"Yes, sir,"

"Then," continued the lawyer, "I should like to ask your opinion of a hypothetical case. Where my learned friend, Mr. Reed, and myself to hang our heads together, should we get concussion of the brain?"

"Mr. Reed might," smiled the youthful physician.

TWO CLUBS

The man who had been keeping his seat in a closely packed car spoke at last to the young woman who had been trying him intently for five minutes or more.

"I know I ought to get up and let you have my seat, madam," he said, "but I'm pledged against that sort of thing."

"I have just joined the 'Sit Still Club,' an organization we have formed in our part of the town, and if I should violate the solemn obligation I took when I became a member of that body, I should be expelled and held up to the execration of all the other members."

"That's all right, sir," replied the young woman. "You mustn't mind my looking at you. I'm a member of the 'Stand and Stare Club.'"

After which she continued to stand and stare at him—Exchange.

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—use a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effect. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel, they take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums, so do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that "icky" feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "icky" or "dizzy." Note how the "icky" "clouded" brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the Quickest and Surest Stomach Relief

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you betch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes.

"Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

From Rio Janeiro to Rome.

The whole world is clad in the clothes that you had—

Now think of the fellow at home.

Don't give for the pride of the giving; This isn't a charity call.

The fellow whose need you are going to head, is your brother, your neighbor, that's all.

He isn't in Poland or Nome, And the woes he endures are your city's and yours.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Industry council, 1722, Royal Ar-ranum, met last evening in Odd Fellows hall with Regent Harvey J.

Chase presiding and transacted much business of an important nature. Communications from the grand council were read, containing instructions to representatives who are to attend the grand council session at the New American house, Boston, April 22-23.

The committee in charge of the recent whist tournament reported that Lowell council, S, was winner of the trophy. Industry council losing by five points. Under the head of new business, it was voted to conduct a whist tournament in aid of the hospital association. Remarks were made by Regent, Alex. E. Rountree, James E. Gorman and J. W. Sharkey. At the conclusion of the business session, the evening was turned over to the following committee in charge of ladies' night: Thomas Wilson, John McKinley, Harvey J. Chase, George H. Desnoyers, George J. Stetson, T. T. Mower, A. E. Rountree, Harold McLean, Alex. McCartney and James McKenna.

An interesting program was carried out with piano solos by Harold Meehan and Miss Wilson, and songs by Miss Wilson and James E. Gorman. Tables were arranged for whist and the tournament resulted as follows: First lady's prize, umbrella, Miss Ange Brant; second lady's prize, umbrella, Mrs. A. T. Simpson; first gentleman's prize, shaving set, Arthur F. Jordan; second gentleman's prize, five pound jar of tobacco, John J. Gookin.

Admiral Farragut Camp

The handsome silk banner offered to the camp which secured the largest number of new members in the state during the three months ending March 31 was won by Admiral Farragut camp, Sons of Veterans. The banner bears the state seal and was presented by Frank J. Donohue, the retiring division commander. Admiral Farragut camp secured 51 new members during the campaign and now is the largest in the state. On May 28th the camp will celebrate its 25th anniversary and it is expected that more new members will have joined the ranks by that time.

THE BEAUTY OF THE EYEBROWS

When midday sets out with a siduous veneration to transform her self into a rare beauty by the aid of cosmetics and other secrets, found at times on faces and sometimes on fancies, she little realizes the importance of the eyebrows and lashes, not knowing that they contribute much to the expression of her face. Scraggly or coarse, bushy eyebrows suggest a careless, ill-tempered disposition, while well-arched, graceful brows will create the impression that you are amiable and trustworthy. The brows should be brushed often, always in the direction in which the hair grows. If you would possess well-groomed eyebrows. The perfect brow is wide toward the nose, beautifully arched and tapers off to a sharp point. The hair should grow short and thick, but not coarse, and it should lie flat against the forehead. The eyelashes may be made to grow if clipped once a month. This should be carefully done, however, or they will become coarse. It is best to ask some one to do the clipping for you. Each hair that appears bent, split or out of condition is clipped at the end. Cutting the lashes in a straight line is inexcusable, and would only insure coarse, stubby lashes. Be sure that your eyelids are in a healthy condition, for often this is the cause of unattractive lashes.

LED MARCH WITH DICKENS

MRS. ELIZABETH M. MOSES, DEAD AT PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—ALSO DANCED WITH GREELEY

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Moses, widow of Capt. Edward Moses, U. S. N., died suddenly yesterday at the home of Mrs. William R. Weston on Cabot street. She was born in New York Sept. 12, 1829, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo.

Mills. She led the grand march at the ball on Feb. 14, 1842, in Park theatre, New York, on the author's first visit to America. Miss Mills attended the ball with Horatio Bartlett, then editor of the New York Sun.

Mr. Bartlett introduced Dickens to her and the author asked her to be his partner in the grand march. She also danced that evening with Horace Greeley. In 1845 she married Capt. Moses then in the merchant marine, who in 1853 became a captain in the navy, serving under Admiral Dupont. Capt. and Mrs. Moses came to this city in 1853 and Mrs. Moses has since lived here. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. Augusta Arnold of this city and Mrs. Lizzie Hill of New York, also one sister, Miss Emma Mills of New York.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
"When We Were 21" begins a three days' engagement at the Lowell Opera house this afternoon, with William Elliott in the leading role. The production is from the Paramount studio, and that is the best guarantee possible as to its quality. William Elliott, one of the best known actors appearing before the camera today, is his best in "When We Were 21," and his supporting company is fully up to the Paramount standard.

The Opera House has come to be recognized as the home of refined picture entertainment. It retains today the reputation built up by years of competent management, and Lowell people are constantly showing their appreciation of the efforts of the present management to provide high class entertainment. The management appreciates what is being done by the Middlesex Women's club of this city to standardize screen productions and most satisfactory results. The Opera house has contributed its full measure to the work since its resurrection several weeks ago, and there can be no question as to the endorsement of Lowell people. Constantly increasing crowds attest the appreciation of Lowell.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The Six Water Lilies, who headlined the bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, give the most varied exhibition of swimming and diving ever put on a local stage. Collectively it is doubtful if any more accomplished group of water mounds has ever been brought together. While no individual star is featured, it is only proper to remark that Nora Leahy, the long distance swimmer and fancy high diver, shows up rather more prominently than any of the others. Miss Leahy is a physical marvel, although none of the "lilies" is anything but the best of the best. Tonight another aquatic diving contest will be put on in connection with this act, and prizes of gold will be awarded to the winners. The remainder of the bill is up to the high standard set by the management & Co. will give the delectable play, "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet," and Alice May Barker, a youthful violinist, will furnish with her wonderful knowledge of her chosen instrument. Other acts are: Valentine & Bel, Davis, Ray Dooley Trio, Spencer & Brown and the Heart-Sells. Phone 28

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
It there is any funnier play than "Gaby" Mine, the offering this week by the Merrimack Square Theatre Stock Co., then it isn't in the remembrance of many present day playgoers for every one who has yet seen it (and especially audiences have been the rule this week) declares it to be by far the best comedy ever seen. You'll say the same thing too, after you've laughed for a solid two hours at this riot of action and complication. All the different members in the cast are exceptionally good in their respective roles and the result is certainly pleasing. The coming here of the Merrimack performances, the Williamson Expedition of Submarine motion pictures will be presented. This attraction comes to us direct from its Boston theatre run where it achieved a phenomenal success and will be given at 10 and 20 cents. Matinee at three, evening at 5.15. Next week's attraction is announced as being Augusta Evans Wilson's famous play novel, "St. Elmo" with Sam. A. McKary in the title role.

THE OWL THEATRE
The old-time crowds and the old-time popularity are apparent after last at the Owl theatre. Enthusiastic fans crowd the house, afternoon and evening. The feature is a strong drama, telling of a woman's sacrifice, "What a Woman Will Do," is an exceptional feature. The 5 other photographs are excellent, each production being from the best makers. "The Man From the Mountain" holds a special place on the program.

DANCED AT LINCOLN HALL

The Koocheekawans held their annual dance in Lincoln hall last evening. The affair was largely attended and all present spent a pleasant evening. Miner's orchestra was in attendance and the following officers were in charge of the event: General manager, Andre W. Hunter; assistant general manager, Percy U. Feyer; floor director, Albert E. Holdsworth; assistant floor director, Jack A. Dow; chief aids, Paul F. Goward; assistant chief aids, Orlin L. Mackenzie and Alfred J. Healey; treasurer, Percy L. Denison. The matron's corner was presided over by Mrs. William F. Elvin.

Middlesex Women's Club Finds 32 Per Cent Vulgar and Debasening—Complaint Sent to Mayor

An investigation of the moving picture houses of Lowell has recently been conducted by a committee of the Middlesex Women's club and the committee has petitioned the mayor to have the picture shows more strictly censored.

The committee's letter to the mayor is not filled with compliments for the police. The committee states that in some theatre members of the committee were obliged to vacate their seats to avoid inspection from men sitting near them and the committee believes there is grave danger to the city unless something is done to correct conditions. The committee declares that its investigation discloses only too clearly that a large percentage of the pictures shown are of a vulgar and debasing nature and that they ask the mayor to do something toward the enforcement of adequate laws governing picture shows.

The mayor, it is thought, can do anything about it. He says that the license commission of Lowell might step in and only decide to withdraw a theatre license but to unless a certain picture was withdrawn. Then the mayor had another thing to say. He thought that not to grant a permit for a Sunday exhibition, only pictures certain pictures were withdrawn, but "I shall do," said the mayor, "I cannot say."

Club's Letter to Mayor
The following is a copy of the special committee's communication to the mayor of Lowell, April 6, 1915.

Dear Sir:—An investigation of the moving picture houses in Lowell has recently been conducted by a committee of the Middlesex Women's club beginning at 5 P.M. the investigation has shown that a large percentage of the pictures shown are of a vulgar and debasing nature and that they ask the mayor to do something toward the enforcement of adequate laws governing picture shows.

The British government's appeal for women workers has brought responses from more than 7,000 women already. They are wanted to take jobs driving delivery wagons, milk wagons, to work in the dairies and to act in clerical and secretarial jobs, so as to relieve the men who are desirous of joining the army.

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for a fine old-fashioned cough, colds or catarrh trouble that is absolutely unequalled. Get from pharmacy, druggist, 1 oz. of Eucalypti (the aldehyde strength) and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more hacking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils will open, air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, cold or catarrh in any form should give in this prescription a trial.

HARVESTER REPLY LOSS OF THE U-29

Answer to the Government's Brief Filed in Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Lawyers of the International Harvester Co. today filed in the supreme court a reply to the government's appeal in the decision of the federal district court in Minnesota holding it a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and ordering its solution into at least three competitors. The brief declares that the government had asked that the Harvester Oil decision be set aside and the court hold that a combination of business secured by purchase of controlling concerns be declared unlawful. It urged that a new doctrine be established by which large concerns might seek to eliminate competition.

German Admiralty Admits Loss of Great Submarine

BERLIN, April 7.—The German admiralty in an official statement accepts report of loss of submarine U-29. The text of the communication follows: "The submarine U-29 has not returned from its last cruise. According to a report of the British admiralty of March 28, this vessel with her crew was sent to the bottom. She, therefore, must be regarded as lost." The German submarine U-29 was generally believed to have been commanded by Captain Otto Weddigen, who had charge of the U-9 when this submarine sank the cruisers Hogue, Aboukir and Cressy last September. The captain of the British steamer Andalusian, among the vessels destroyed by the U-29, was taken on board the German submarine. The face of the submarine captain was familiar and the Andalusian's captain asked him if he was not Weddigen. This the German captain admitted. Referring to his new command, the U-29, he said it was the last word in German submarine construction. She displaced 800 tons and could make 18 knots on the surface and ten knots submerged. The middle of March she made a raid in the channel and was successful in sinking four British and one French steamships and in damaging three other vessels.

HIGHEST PRICES OF YEAR

HARRIMAN SHARES, U. S. RUBBER AND OTHERS JUMP—INITIAL GAINS PROMPTLY SURRENDERED

NEW YORK, April 7.—Conflicting conditions, resulting from a mixture of buying and selling orders were reflected in today's early trading. Harriman shares, U. S. Rubber and a few less important issues attained highest prices of the year and some of the specialties added one or more points to recent gains. Bethlehem Steel, however, yielded another two points. The local market derived no encouragement from London, where American were materially lower. Selling pressure overcame buying capacity after the first hour and many initial gains were promptly surrendered. Erie 2d pfd fell back a point and other leaders were at or under yesterday's close. Even those specialties whose course has not been guided by the general tendency were disposed to drop. Rock Island was suddenly pushed forward in the second hour, advancing a 3-8 points and the rest of the list showed renewed vigor. Trading renewed operations on the long side in anticipation of an excellent government crop report to be issued at midday. Publication of the crop report showing an average wheat condition far above that of last December failed to exert much influence, although Reading was in demand at higher level. Later the entire list became dull. Buying extended to various miscellaneous issues in the later trading with further material gains. The close was firm.

ENDS HIS LIFE FIERCE FIGHTING

Body of B. F. Marsh Found in Storehouse Filled With Caskets

WORCESTER, April 7.—Benjamin F. Marsh, 69 years old, head of the B. F. Marsh company, manufacturers of concrete caskets and dealers in masons' supplies, committed suicide today in his casket making plant by shooting himself in the head. His dead body was found in a storehouse filled with caskets after a search started when his attorney received a letter informing that Mr. Marsh intended suicide. Ill-health is given as the cause.

Vienna Reports on Conditions in the Pathians

VIENNA, April 7.—The correspondence bureau has the following: "The increased violence served in the fighting in the pathians is coincident with the fine weather. From both Ondawa valley to a point in the south, the fighting is going on. Against the local successes of the former must be set the on the latter. "The Austro-German heights to the east of valley have not weighed in the scale as to justify a general decision. In modern fighting mature very slowly."

BABY'S NARROW ESCAPE

BIG METAL SIGN STRUCK BABY CARRIAGE, KNOCKING IT INTO THE STREET

A small baby, child of Mrs. McEwan of 11 Jewett street, had a narrow escape from being killed yesterday when an electric sign weighing several hundred pounds that was standing on the sidewalk in front of the Young China restaurant on Merrimack street, toppled over and crashed against the carriage in which the child lay asleep. Fortunately the child was not struck by the sign though the baby carriage was badly damaged. The big sign, which was made of some kind of metal, had been left standing on its edge on the sidewalk preparatory to being hoisted to the top of the building. As Mrs. McEwan was passing by with her baby carriage, the sign fell over and struck against the carriage, tipping it onto the sidewalk. The mother of the baby screamed with fright, thinking the little one had been killed and several passersby picked up the carriage. It was then learned that the child was not injured, though one side of the vehicle had been broken. Patrolman Swanwick soon appeared on the scene and after ascertaining that the child was not injured, assisted Mrs. McEwan to remove the carriage from the scene.

WATER CONSERVATION

HARBOR AND LAND COMMISSIONERS SUBMIT REPORT TO CONSERVING THE WATERS

The harbor and land commissioners have made their report regarding conserving the waters and natural streams of the Commonwealth and it is said that because of a preliminary tangle the measure is likely to be killed in the legislature. The report states that the Commonwealth is now paying $25,000,000 a year for the purpose of conserving the waters and natural streams of the Commonwealth and that a large portion of this money can be saved if the water power is developed. Competent experts have estimated that three times the amount of power now derived from the rivers and streams can be developed with a proper scheme. In all the states around the Commonwealth state steps are being taken to conserve the waters and natural streams. The report also states that the Commonwealth is now paying $25,000,000 a year for the purpose of conserving the waters and natural streams of the Commonwealth and that a large portion of this money can be saved if the water power is developed. MOTORMEN ON LICENSE BILL WITNESS STAND IS AMENDED

Bay State Employees Prefer Country Runs, They Testify

Express Hope That Men Will Get Wage Increase

BOSTON, April 8.—Having expressed to their superintendents the opinion that it was easier to operate a car in the country than in the city, seven Bay State Street Railway motormen were yesterday served with summonses at the instance of the company and appeared as witnesses before the board of arbitration in Kingsley hall. Ford buildings of these men have been long years in the service of the road, and all are members of the Amalgamated association. After saying that country runs were their choice, they were cross-examined by James H. Vahey, the carmen's counsel. To him they said they hoped the men would get an increase in wages and a betterment of working conditions.

Robert A. Wilcox of Brockton, who is 67 years old and has been 32 years in service, told Mr. Vahey that he believed in the union, but had no opinion about the graduated scale. Josiah B. Sherman of Brockton, who has been a motorman for 28 years, "guessed" that country running was easier than city operation. He said he appeared as a witness only because he had to.

George Southworth of Fall River told Mr. Swift that he wouldn't have given his "honest opinion" to Supr. Sebelius had he known that it was to result in his being called to testify. William A. Lapham of Fall River declared that he didn't think the company was going to make use of the opinion he had expressed.

Edgar M. Peck, who is 59 years old, of Whitman; Leroy W. Hazeltine of Brockton, 61 years old, and William Monteith of Newport, were the other Bay State men to testify on this matter.

Then followed a delegation of Portland motormen and conductors, who came down from the Maine city to testify along the same lines, that suburban operation is easier than city operation. While in Boston these men are staying at a downtown hotel, the guests of the Bay State.

Those who testified yesterday were Albert N. Vining, Fred M. McNeil, Ernest E. Moulton, Clifford Fogg and Lawrence Ebbesen. Gen. Supr. George K. Gray took the stand and described his visit to Portland to Mr. Vahey and his talks with the men themselves. He said he considered the Portland system fairly comparable with the Bay State lines north of Boston, which come under his jurisdiction.

Prof. Albert S. Richey of the theatrical department resumed the witness stand late in the afternoon for further cross-examination. When he said he could not agree with Prof. Irving Fisher that the cost of living generally has increased as fast as the food prices, Mr. Vahey added: "I agree with you there."

Prof. Richey could not concur in Prof. Fisher's opinion that the general increase in the cost of living during the past four years has been at least 15 per cent. His figure was 8 per cent. for that period.

Today's hearing will be in Kingsley hall.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

MEETING HELD TO EXTEND WORK OF THE LEAGUE—1000 FAMILIES ON ITS LIST

The feature of the monthly meeting of the board of directors of Lowell Social Service league was the reading of the report of Miss M. A. Cotter, the working executive of the league, who called attention to the fact that the league is interested in 75 different families at the present time and that 41 new families were added to the list in March. The league now has 1000 families on its "confidential exchange" meaning the number of families receiving aid of various kinds from the different charities in Lowell.

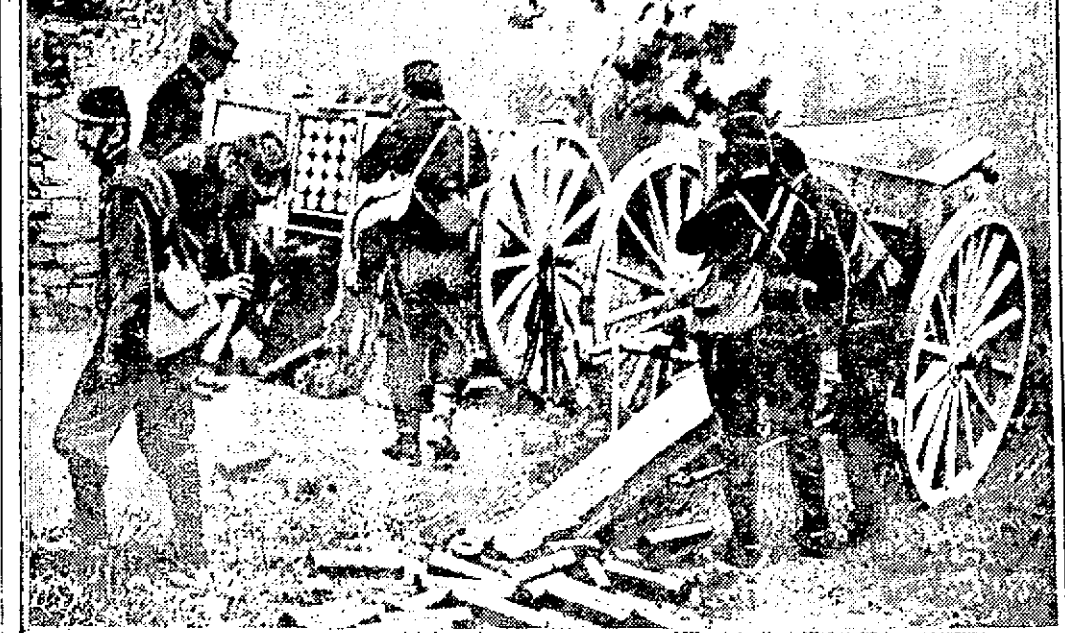

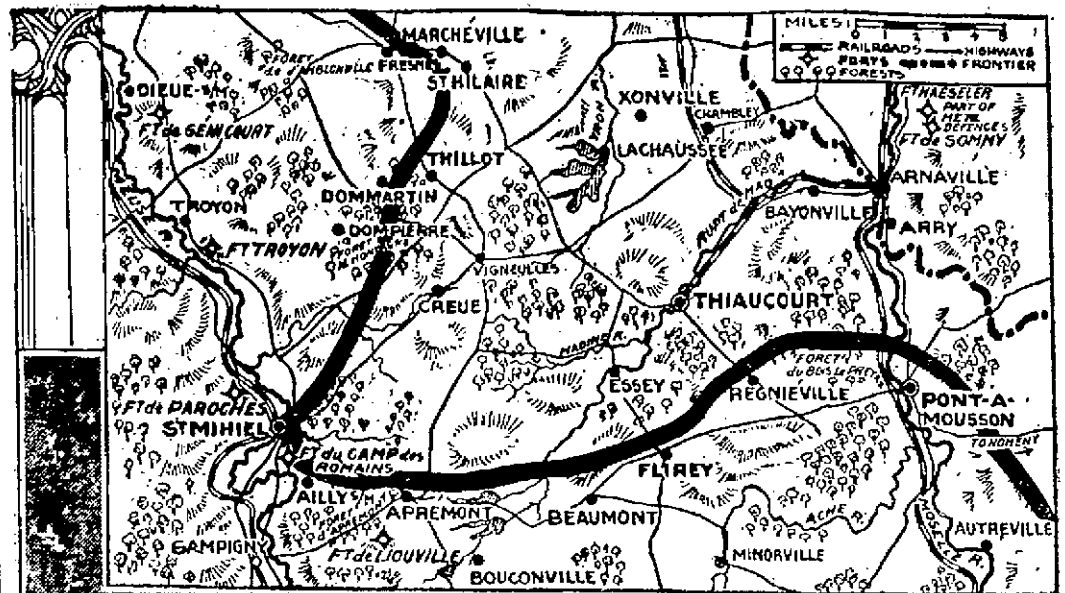

A committee was appointed to be known as the special membership committee and a plan will be evolved to make an effective campaign for a large number of members at one dollar each as well as many members contributing larger sums. Congressman John Jacob Rogers is the president of the league and was present at yesterday's meeting. There were about 14 directors present and a thorough discussion of the problems of the league was held.

FRENCH DRIVE AGAINST ST. MIHIEL AN IMPORTANT MOVE OF THE WAR

MAP SHOWING GERMAN WEDGE ASSAILED BY FRENCH BATTERY

LONDON, April 8.—In an effort to dislodge the Germans from St. Mihiel, at which point is the apex of the narrow wedge which marks the southernmost advance of the invaders, the French troops are conducting a sustained and somewhat formidable offensive between the Meuse and the Moselle. Grated pressure is being exerted by the troops of General Joffre on the line running from St. Mihiel to Pont-a-Mousson. At Ailly, Apremont, Flirey and west of the forest of La Pêtre the attacks of the French were violent, according to the testimony of the German war office. Berlin admits the importance of this move. Now the Germans have been able to hold the St. Mihiel wedge, with an occasional offensive, is no longer a military secret. In the autumn of 1912 a German company rented a large plot of ground close to St. Mihiel for the manufacture of a chemical product. It was a big company and had need of big buildings with solid foundations and deep concrete cellars. In July, 1914, the company stopped operations and closed the plant. When, on Sept. 20, the Army of Metz arrived upon the scene it destroyed the buildings, but found in the concrete cellars perfect emplacements for heavy guns. For nearly two years the plant had been a fort in all but the armament. After Sept. 20 it had that, and the 42-centimeter howitzers so emplaced made short work of the French forts at Troven and the Roman camp, which were armed with 12-centimeter guns.

A DECISIVE BLOW

Villa Faction Defeats Obregon's Army in Central Mexico

EL PASO, Texas, April 8.—By the defeat of General Obregon's army in the last two days in Central Mexico, officials of the Villa faction declared today at Juarez that a decisive blow had been struck at the Carranza cause. Reports to the Villa headquarters said Obregon's force was retreating southward from a point midway between Queretaro and Tlaxcala.

Each side had from 20,000 to 25,000 men, according to reports.

BRITISH MINING MEN PROTEST

EL PASO, Texas, April 8.—British mining men of the Durango district today sent to Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador to Washington, a protest against the amendment to the Mexican mining laws recently adopted by the Villa government.

The mining men asserted that it would be impossible to comply with the law, which requires that all properties shall be worked continually for production. The American mine owners already have protested to the state department, making a similar assertion.

ALIEN WOMEN AND GIRLS

GREATER CONSIDERATION FOR THOSE DETAINED BY IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Greater consideration is to be shown in the future to alien women and girls who have been arrested and detained by immigration authorities under amendments to the immigration rules which just have been approved by Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Hereafter those detained or arrested on their arrival in this country will be placed under the supervision of special female officers who will see to it that they are properly cared for in the immigration station or in philanthropic or other similar organizations. Only in case of absolute necessity shall detained women and girls be placed in jails or other similar places.

"In being the purpose of this special procedure to humanize the administration of the law," says the bureau of immigration, "it is important that the cases of women and girls shall be handled in a particularly considerate and careful manner not only while the aliens are being detained in this country but in the event of deportation, after they arrive in the country of their nativity at the port where they originally embarked for the United States."

DEITRICH OUT FOR GOVERNOR FOOL QUESTION, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Former Congressman to Run for Democratic Nomination

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald and Cong. Phelan May Be Candidates

BOSTON, April 8.—Ex-Congressman Frederick S. Dietrich of Cambridge announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor last night.

He will make prohibition, equal suffrage, a more efficient militia and the enactment of a law to prevent employers using the stop watch on workmen in manufacturing establishments his chief issues.

But it is on the prohibition issue that he bases his hope of success, and in the statement of his position, the ex-congressman said that he believed that the opponents of prohibition would not hesitate to spend $200,000 in the fall campaign to continue local option in this state.

Mr. Dietrich's announcement did not create much of a stir in political circles. By some it was regarded as an attempt to draw out Gov. Walsh into a statement of his position. The governor had no comment to make, other than that his attitude would be made known after the prorogation of the legislature.

Phelan and Fitzgerald Mentioned

Those who are close to the governor are still of the opinion that he will not be a candidate for a third term. While Mr. Dietrich is the third candidate in the field, former Lieut. Gov. Barry has announced that if Mr. Walsh is not a candidate he will enter the running.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald is also to be considered if the governor decides not to be a candidate and there is a strong movement on foot for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Peters.

There is no question but that Gov. Walsh will have the united support of his party for a third nomination in case he wants it. But ex-Congressman Dietrich is stated to be proceeding on the theory that the governor will not again be a candidate. It is expected that Congressman Michael J. Phelan of Lynn will be in the running also, in case the governor is not a candidate.

Mr. Dietrich was defeated last fall for a re-election in his district by Frederick W. Dallinger. He has served three terms in the house.

INTERESTING CASES AT SUPERIOR COURT

The suit of James W. Perrigo, a Billerica real estate salesman, vs. Charles F. Ralph E. and Brandon J. Manning, all of North Billerica, in which the plaintiff sues to recover for damages alleged to have been sustained when he was bitten by a dog, said to be owned by the defendants, was tried before Judge Stevens and a jury in the local session of superior court today. Perrigo claims $5,000 damages.

William D. Ring and William H. Wilson for the plaintiff and Melvin G. Rogers and Francis M. Qua for the defendants.

The case grew out of the "Billerica mad dog scare" on July 24 last. Shortly after noon on that date a black and white dog ran wild through the streets of the village, snapping at persons who came in its way. Mr. Perrigo claims, in his declaration, that the dog was owned and kept by Charles F. Manning and his two sons, Ralph E. and Brandon J., and that as he, the plaintiff, was walking along Wilson street, the dog attacked him and bit him in the leg, causing great pain and also tore his clothing. Mr. Perrigo sues for his medical expenses as well as for damage caused by the wound and injury to leg.

Plaintiff Testifies

Mr. Perrigo was the first witness for the plaintiff. He testified that as he was walking toward his office on the day in question, a dog came running behind him and jumped at his leg. Witness said that he attempted to shake off the animal, but before doing so he was severely bitten.

He received medical attendance from Dr. Neil K. Porham of North Billerica, Dr. Maurice A. Buck of Billerica Center and Dr. McGaughey of Lowell and was obliged to use medicine for some time.

The plaintiff said that as a result of the injuries sustained, he was obliged to lose considerable time from his office and often found it necessary to have his meals sent to him at his office on account of the soreness of his leg. At the present time, he said, his leg becomes sore if he stands on it for any continued length of time. Witness then showed to the jurors the marks of the dog's teeth, which are just below the knee on his left leg.

Mr. Perrigo was absolutely sure that the dog belonged to the Manning family. He told the court and jury that he had seen the dog with Chas.

F. Manning previous to the day he was bitten and that almost immediately afterward he and Edgar P. Twombly went to Manning's house and saw the same dog in the yard. He said that Mr. Manning chained the dog in the cellar on the afternoon of the trouble.

Cross-examined by Mr. Rogers, the plaintiff described the appearance of the dog which he claims bit him last July. He said that it was white with black spots and brown ears and was partly covered with mud.

Plaintiff also said the dog attacked William Costello, of North Billerica immediately after it bit him. He did not think Mr. Costello was injured.

After leaving Mr. Costello, witness said he went to his office and was informed that the dog was running along a driveway near Fordway bridge. Mr. Twombly appeared soon and Constable Livingston was also sent for. The plaintiff and Messrs. Twombly and Livingston then drove down Talbot avenue toward Mr. Manning's home and saw the dog, which is claimed to have caused the trouble, sitting on Mr. Manning's lawn.

A map of the north village was used to explain to the jury the route the dog covered and the spot where Mr. Perrigo was attacked.

Dr. Neil K. Porham testified that he treated two wounds on Mr. Perrigo's leg on July 24. There were two distinct bites on his left leg but very little blood was evident. Plaintiff visited the doctor on two occasions afterward.

After being out a little more than a half hour, the jury in the case of Michael P. Coffey vs. William F. Boyle, a Lowell constable, reported a verdict of $55.65 for the plaintiff. This is the full amount which Coffey claimed was owed him for keeper's services, together with 65 cents interest. Edward P. Tierney for the plaintiff and Frank S. Goldman for the defendant.

CANADIANS STILL LEAD

NEW YORK, April 8.—Sixteen men from this city and vicinity will occupy the alley in the National Bowling association's championship tournament tonight in an effort to beat the high score of the tournament 200 set by the Canadians of Montreal in the first day's bowling. Up to today the Canadians headed the list for five men teams. No doubles or singles are on tonight's program. J. P. Pelletier of Montreal headed the individual list with a score of 602 and Cattanach and La Belle of Montreal topped the list of two men teams with a score of 1172.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE IN CARPATHIANS

5,950,000 Men Lost in 8 Months of War—Combined Land and Sea Attack in Dardanelles—British Cabinet Fails to Reach Prohibition Decision

Russian troops are pushing forward rapidly in the Carpathians and it is reported from Petrograd that the road to the plains of Hungary now lies open before them. According to this information, the Russians have captured Smolnik, east of Lunkow pass and have driven a wedge between the western and eastern wings of the Russian army in the Beskids, placing the eastern wing in a precarious position.

The conservative leaders, A. J. Balfour and Andrew Bonar Law are believed already to have given privately their assent to whatever action may be taken, provided no measure for total prohibition be considered at this time.

In proposing the prohibition of the sale of spirits and possibly wine and lessening the strength of beer, Great Britain would be following the footsteps of Russia which before the adoption of total prohibition forbade the manufacture or use of spirits.

Even the prohibition of traffic in spirits is not likely to be adopted without considerable opposition from the vested interests. The influence of the party favoring voluntary abstinence is growing. Its latest recruits include the heads of various churches, who have signed a pledge to abstain from intoxicating liquors during the war.

Opposition to the suppression of the use of spirits is in some degree sectional, since Scotland consumes per capita three times as much spirits as England and half again as much as Ireland. Scottish opposition, if solid, might easily cause the defeat of the measure.

The fight for the Carpathian passes is proceeding bitterly. Both sides claim local successes. The Russians are fighting their way over four passes—Dobla, Lunkow, Uzok and Rostok, the last named of which is in their possession. Rostok pass is not so important as the others, but a branch road from it leads to the rear of Uzok pass which from the desperate nature of the struggle in that vicinity is regarded as the key to the Hungarian plains.

The Austrians seem to have only enough men to hold the Russians in check and evidently are unable to make an effective attack from Bukovina. Therefore their hope must again center on the Germans who may force back the Russians as they did when the invaders had reached a point further within Hungary than they have gained this time. On that occasion an Austro-German force attacked the Russian Bank in the country south of Cracow and threatened its lines of communication quickly bringing about a retreat. A similar movement might be attempted now but its chance of success might not be as great as before for the Russians are now heavily entrenched and presumably could only be dislodged at the cost of heavy losses for the attackers.

French Hammer German Wedge
In the west the French are hammering away at the German wedge extending to St. Mihiel. The Germans claim to be checking all these assaults but the French declare that their advance, though slow, is steady.

Allies Celebrating
The allies are celebrating today the loss of the first six months.

Losses During First Six Months
The losses of men during the first six months of the war are estimated by the military expert of a Rome newspaper at 5,950,000. The cost of the war in that period is placed at $5,400,000,000.

BRITISH CABINET FAILS TO REACH DECISION ON PROHIBITION
LONDON, April 8.—The cabinet having failed to come to a decision on the drink question, no settlement is expected until parliament meets next week. The impression is growing that the government will content itself with bringing in a measure prohibiting the sale of spirits. Even this step will not be exclusively a government policy since nothing can be done without consultation with other parties.

CITY HALL NEWS AND WORK OF DEPARTMENTS

A conference having to do with the erection of a new high school will be held this evening in the mayor's reception room at city hall. The conference will not be open to the public.

The commissioners were notified of the conference this morning by the mayor who said that the conference would be attended by members of the school committee. One of the commissioners had heard that the conference would have to do with a new high school, but he wasn't sure about it.

Commissioner Morse said he had received notice of the conference but he didn't know what it was all about. Asked if the conference would have to do with a new high school, Mayor Murphy said it would.

The mayor was asked if it would be an open meeting and he said it wouldn't.

Numerous suggestions have been offered as to the erection of a new high school, and since Commissioner Putnam made the statement at a meeting of the municipal council that work on a new school would be begun this year he has received all kinds of suggestions.

To those who have suggestions to offer the commissioner says that he is not the whole shooting match; that the matter will have to be voted by the city council and that the building of the school will be up to him. Some of the men and women who have talked with Mr. Putnam favor separate schools for the boys and girls.

Others are diametrically opposed to any such system of segregation and in all probability, will be thrashed out at the conference to be held this evening.

Watering the Streets
Commissioner Morse admitted today that he was at his wits end as to what to do about street watering. He has no positive knowledge as to when the street car splitters will start, and he says if they don't start, he will have to put out his horse drawn carts, at least in the streets that take care of the paved streets in a way, said Mr. Morse, "and I will oil the other streets."

Plenty of Street Work
Com. Morse made the statement today that a third more street work has been planned this year than for any previous year in the city's history and Charlie says that he'll go through with it. He started a sewer gang at work in Stevens street this morning. About 150 feet of sewer will be laid in Stevens street at a depth of about 12 feet.

Mr. Morse started two steam rollers in Wentworth avenue this morning and he will start another in First street in a day or two. Another roller is in operation in Lawrence street beyond the railroad bridge. The commissioner says he has collected about all the children the corporations have to snare at the present time and these will be placed on First street. The street will be oil after the children have been thoroughly rolled. The gravel applied to Wentworth avenue is being taken from the Pollard gravel bank at the corner of Clark road and Rogers street.

Tanner Street Sewer
Work on the Tanner street sewer is at a standstill. Mr. Morse has been in communication with the railroad authorities relative to the removal of coal pocket supports that are in the way of the sewer. Mr. Morse, "will have to be removed before we can go ahead with the work. I have talked with the railroad authorities, but the road is so short on cash that it doesn't want to do anything unless it is absolutely obliged to. The sewer, of course, is all right for the present, but I want to get it out of the way. I have to do it this year and the quicker the better. I have suggested that the course of the sewer be diverted but the engineer is not in favor of it. The supports we want removed are directly in the way of where we would have to place the sewer."

SALEMAN FOSTER CLUB
The Sam Walter Foster club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pratt, 260 Walker street, with Mrs. Brennan as assisting hostess. The president, Mrs. Hatch, presided over a short business meeting which was followed by readings by Miss Ruth Turner.

Dr. Van Duersen, the speaker for the afternoon, gave a very interesting talk on "The Passing of the Frontier." He described many personal experiences in Texas and showed pictures illustrating the vast changes that have taken place there during the past twenty years. He was assisted by Mrs. Van Duersen who gave readings pertaining to the subject. Refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held April 21, with Mrs. Harris, 149 Methuen street.

PAWTUCKET CHURCH
The regular monthly supper of the Pawtucket Congregational church was held last evening under the auspices of the Myrtle Opti class of the Sunday school. The supper was served at 6:30 o'clock with the boys of the class as waiters. The entertainment, a comedy-drama entitled, "A Case for Sherlock Holmes," was given by the girls of the Hyacinth club. The following named young women took part: Ethelred Willmott, Cora Garrett, Anna Hall, Alice Willmott, Margaret Douglas, Edith Cameron, Gladys Curran, Gladys Bigelow, Mildred Fay and Esther Douglas. The supper committee included: S. J. Garrett, chairman; B. B. Hall, H. J. Willmott, Leonard Ryan, W. F. Bliss, assisted by Miss Hattie Jamieson.

MR. BARKER'S PIANO RECITAL
The pupils of Charles V. Barker, assisted by the Mendelssohn male quartet gave a delightful piano recital last evening at Colonial hall. The recital was largely attended and Mr. Barker was highly complimented for the success of the evening. Those who took part in the program were May E. Carlson, Lela Dube, Leslie A. Incase, Dorothy Farnsworth, Blanch E. Macdonald, Edith E. Cove, Rachel H. Falls, Leonora M. Jantzen, Alice G. Nickles, Alfre H. Howell, Margaret M. Kierian, William C. Heller, Leila R. Davis, Alice M. Dallaire, Thorborg M. Pearson, William J. McCarthy, Howard L. Large, Walter E. O'Neil.

The program was quite varied and many of the numbers were of high order. The work of the quartet prevented anything approaching the monotonous that is too common in such recitals.

drive our sheathing and they must be removed before we can go ahead with the work. I am going to give the railroad people another call today."

Flying the Flag
In response to a request by the memorial day committee flags will be displayed on all public buildings tomorrow, April 9, in observance of the 50th anniversary of the surrender of Lee's army at Appomattox, which marked, practically, the ending of the civil war. The request that the flags be displayed was made to the municipal council and the matter was turned over to the city messenger with instructions to make the display as general as possible. The buildings from which the flags will be displayed will include city hall, the schools, firehouses, rifle range, and other buildings connected with the various departments at city hall.

Removal of Tree
A. T. Cates has petitioned the park board for the removal of a tree at 915 Middlesex street. Mr. Cates says he wants to cut a street through and that the tree is directly in the way. The park board has also heard from ten other citizens relative to the same tree. They protest very vigorously against the removal of it and allow that if Mr. Cates put the street through that persons using the street can go on either side of the tree. The park board will meet this evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Manual Training Rooms
Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, stated today that work was being pushed on the completion of the two additional rooms at the Green and Washington schools. These rooms are to be used for manual training and will be ready for use before the close of the present school term.

Many Bids Received
Bids for the proposed plumbing and heating jobs at the Chalmers street hospital and the Washington and Green schools have been received by Commissioner Putnam. No contract has yet been awarded. The bids are as follows:

GEN. PACKARD DEAD
SALEM, April 8.—Frank Packard, retired brigadier-general of the Massachusetts Volunteer militia and one of the most widely known military men of New England, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 6 Dearborn street, in this city. He had been ill for many months and succumbed to diabetes.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN SUICIDES

THE LATE HORACE S. BACON

Horace S. Bacon, one of Lowell's most prominent citizens, committed suicide in his home at 107 Stevens street at 6 o'clock this morning by shooting himself in the head with a rifle which stood in the corner of the room. Physicians were summoned immediately following the shooting but nothing could be done as death was instantaneous.

Mr. Bacon had been suffering from melancholia for several weeks and was under the care of two physicians. For the past two weeks or so he was more or less dependent on account of his illness, and at times he said he acted queerly. This morning his act followed a night during which he had gained little rest as his illness seemed to affect his mind and he could not get relief.

Shortly before the suicide Mr. and Mrs. Bacon had been in the room together. The latter left the room for a moment but hardly had she crossed the threshold when she heard the report of a rifle and upon turning around she discovered her husband lying on the floor with blood pouring from his forehead where the bullet had entered. Assistance was sent for but Mr. Bacon had passed away before anyone arrived.

Medical Examiner Meigs was called to view the body. The result of his examination showed that deceased had been suffering from an illness which he feared could not be cured. He was 45 years of age.

Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Baldwin Bacon, and was born in this city in 1869. He was educated in the local public schools, graduating from the high school in 1887. He then went to Boston where he was assistant paymaster of the Norway Steel and Iron company for two years. In 1892 he was appointed commissioner of deeds and had an office at 61 Central street. At about this time he was graduated from the Harvard law school though he never practiced his profession to any extent.

After discontinuing his office downtown, Mr. Bacon spent his time in caring for his real estate until appointed register of deeds in 1903 to succeed the late Capt. Thompson. He became a candidate for the office but was defeated by William C. Purcell, the present incumbent. Mr. Bacon was highly esteemed by his associates in business and the various fraternities to which he belonged and the news of his passing was a great shock to them.

Mr. Bacon employed most of his time at the late at the local Masonic temple, where he was one of the most prominent members. He was a member of Kilwinning lodge, Mt. Horob R. A. chapter, Royal and Select Masters; Pilgrim Commandery, Knights Templar and was of the 32nd degree. Scottish Rite Free Masonry. Besides being past master of his lodge, he was high priest of his chapter and also served as district grand high priest of the 11th district. He was a past district deputy grand master for the Blue lodge of the 12th Masonic district. He was a past commander of his commandery.

At the time of his death, Mr. Bacon was recorder of his commandery and also the M. W. master of Mt. Calvary, chapter of Rose Croix, and was actively engaged in elaborate preparations of the exemplification of the 15th degree and had brought through his individual efforts that degree of rite to a state unequalled in its history in Lowell. His loss to Free Masonry cannot be realized.

Besides being connected with the Masonic bodies, deceased was an active member of the Lowell Historical society; a son of the American Revolution, a former secretary of the Highland club and was connected with other organizations.

He is survived by a wife, Melvina M.; two sons, Horace S. and Stephen S.; one sister, Mrs. Walter E. Murkland and one niece, Mrs. Dorothy B. Lyman.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Sectarian Bill Lost — Batcheller Resolve Killed — How the Representatives Voted

BOSTON, April 8.—The state house of representatives refused yesterday 107 yeas to 116 nays, to order to a third reading the so-called Batcheller bill, which would amend the state constitution so as to forbid the appropriation of public funds for sectarian purposes.

The house, by a vote of 111 yeas to 116 nays, also refused to substitute for an adverse committee report the Fitzgerald amendment, which would prevent public appropriations for any institution not controlled by the state or local authorities. Then the house took the same action on the Cross amendment, which in general resembled the Fitzgerald resolve.

The debate on these measures consumed practically the whole afternoon session; indeed, the house sat until almost 6.45 so that they might be disposed of.

The Fitzgerald resolve was first on the motion of Mr. Lomasney of Boston that it be substituted for the unfavorable report of the committee on constitutional amendments.

Then Mr. Cross of Royalston made a similar motion on his resolve. Finally the house took up the Batcheller resolve, which had received a favorable report from the committee and was generally regarded as the most important of the three pieces of legislation.

The committee had divided in its reports. Senator Norwood of Hamilton and Representatives Fitz-Henry Smith, Jr., of Boston, Catheron of Beverly, Jerome S. Smith of Provincetown, Chief of New Bedford and Ralph M. Smith of Somerville, making a majority of the committee, had reported favorably on the Batcheller amendment and "leave to withdraw" on the Fitzgerald and Cross amendments; a minority, consisting of Senators Bartlett of Pittsfield and McGonagle of Boston and Representatives Donaghue, Levins and Santosuso, all of Boston, had dissented on all three reports.

Mr. Lomasney of Boston opened the debate. He moved to substitute the Fitzgerald resolve for the report of the committee. He said he was opposed to the Batcheller amendment because it was an uncalculated insult to a large part of the population of the state and because it was based upon a promise which did not conform to the facts.

In past years, he said, the legislature has appropriated for private charitable institutions a total of $6,350,000, of which only $49,000 went to Catholic institutions. For educational institutions, privately controlled, he said, $8,614,000 had been appropriated, and not a dollar of this went to Catholic institutions.

The appropriation for non-Catholic institutions, he said, have jumped from $255,000 in 1899, to more than $500,000, an increase of more than 300 per cent. yet the Catholics would never protest against such appropriations if they were not now confronted with such a proposition as is contained in the Batcheller amendment.

Now that the matter has been stirred up, Mr. Lomasney said, the legislature should take action of which it will always be proud. It should pass an amendment to the constitution which will absolutely prohibit such appropriations for any purpose and for all time, and will place all institutions upon an equal footing.

Founded on Bigotry
Mr. Sherburn of Brookline spoke next. He opposed all the proposed amendments, but particularly the Batcheller resolve, about which he said:

"The Batcheller amendment is based for this reason that it prejudices the future. It is bad because it is unnecessary, for our present constitution now gives practically all the protection that the Batcheller amendment seeks. It is bad because it upsets, without any valid reason, many laws which have worked perfectly well."

"But the strongest reason of all against this amendment is the fact that it is founded on religious prejudice and bigotry. This man Batcheller, a political free lance, out of a job, working upon the latent distrust which many Protestants feel toward the Catholic church, has collected together a godly following, among which are numbered men who have no business to lend their names nor to commit the denomination which they head to such a movement.

"He has fauned into fame once more, for his own advantage and nothing else, the old anti-Catholic prejudice, and has made many sincere and honest men believe what is not a fact, that public funds may be used for other than public purposes."

"I, as a Protestant, resent this movement as unfair and as un-American. It is insulting to thousands of our citizens. It is unsettling to orderly government. It is contrary to our traditions of religious independence."

"There is bigotry on both sides, and we cannot legislate against it, but when it appears in this place we can turn the light of day upon it, and, by refusing to lend ourselves to narrowness and prejudice, stand for the ideals of the great mass of our citizens."

Believing to Riot
Mr. E. F. McLaughlin of Boston said he believed fully in the separation of church and state, but he believed also that religion was absolutely necessary to government was to continue. A state which has held out the hand of welcome to immigrants from every country, regardless of their religious beliefs, should not now repudiate its lifelong boast that its people are free to worship as they please.

To present such a matter to the people, he said, would be to excite distrust, discontent, riot and anarchy. He decried the necessity for any legislation of the sort, but said if anything must be passed it should be the Fitzgerald amendment.

Mr. Smith of Boston said the committee voted against the Fitzgerald amendment because it felt that the state should not be absolutely bound, for all time, not to lend assistance to any private institution, no matter what the exigency might be.

Mr. P. J. Donaghue of Boston took the same attitude.

SEC. BRYAN HOPES IOWA DEMOCRATS WILL VOTE AGAINST OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Secretary Bryan made public tonight a letter he had written to L. W. Kennington, democratic national committeeman from Iowa, expressing the hope that the democrats of Iowa would take a stand for prohibition and vote against officials who would be controlled by the liquor interests.

Mr. Bryan added in a statement that he hoped to see the democratic party taking the prohibition side wherever the question was raised and that if the liquor interests insisted upon making the selection of a national committeeman an issue the people opposed to the liquor traffic could not afford to ignore it.

"I do not know," stated Mr. Bryan, "to what extent the question will be an issue in the campaign next year. At the present time it does not seem probable that it will find a place in the platform of either the democratic or the republican party; but there is no reason why the national committee should not represent the sentiment of the party on this subject, as on other subjects."

Mr. Kennington had written Mr. Bryan that his name was being urged in behalf of a candidate for the national committee.

In his letter to Mr. Kennington, Mr. Bryan pointed out that the legislature of Iowa has voted statutory prohibition and has also submitted to the people a prohibition amendment to the constitution; also, as he insists, that the liquor interests have already ruined one good man because he is "dry."

YOUNG COUPLE ELOPE

FATHER OF DOVER, N. H., GIRL SECURES WARRANT FOR YOUNG MAN AND STARTS IN PURSUIT

DOVER, N. H., April 8.—The elopement by automobile early yesterday of a young couple, Peter Demastagous, 22, and Katherine Carbone, less than 18, caused great excitement in the Greek colony, and the police were asked to aid in preventing the marriage.

The father learned the couple chartered an automobile for Newmarket, attended by John Fortin and a young woman.

Chief of Police Clark phoned the Newmarket police, at the request of the father, who left for that town to intercept the couple if possible. He carried a warrant for Demastagous' arrest on the charge of enticing away the daughter.

FIRST BAPTIST SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the First Baptist society was held last evening in the church vestry with a large attendance. Clerk Edward W. Trull called the meeting to order and George H. Taylor was chosen moderator. After considerable routine business was transacted, the following officers were elected: Clerk, Edward W. Trull; assessors, Henry C. Fuller, Frederic J. Flemings, Frank A. Bowen; music committee, Harry Stocks, George F. Warner, Robert Friend; treasurer, Arthur E. Dyar; auditors, Wm. W. Buzzell, George F. Warner.

Appropriations were made as follows: For pastor's salary, $3500; for music, $1400; for care of the church, a sum sufficient.

GOLD DUST

For every brightening and cleaning purpose in every home

Gold Dust is used at least three times a day in millions of homes everywhere.

Yet there are many thousands of housewives who think Gold Dust is only for one or two uses—

They would not use anything else but Gold Dust for washing dishes, for example—

Or for scrubbing floors and woodwork, washing windows, etc.

Gold Dust should be used for cleaning and brightening everything.

It is most economical; it is most satisfactory and it is most sanitary.

Cannot scratch or harm any surface, and it will dissolve and remove all dirt and grease

The active principle of Gold Dust is so remarkably thorough that you rinse away the dirt and grease, leaving a newness, a cleanness and a brightness which delights.

Gold Dust forces its way into the corners and crevices where neither fingers nor washcloth can reach. It truly works for you. Any woman who has washed dishes with Gold Dust knows what that means.

Gold Dust is the leading washing and cleaning powder in the world; it is indispensable once you know it.

IN POLICE COURT

Spring Influences Tempered Justice With Mercy—Few Offenders

There was very little of interest in the local police court this morning. A few drunken offenders with several continued cases were all that confronted Judge Wright when he mounted the bench a few minutes after ten o'clock. Dennis J. Murphy was arrested on a drunkenness charge. It was his third offense within the year. Murphy had also suffered a fine for assault and battery and had subsequently been arrested for non-payment of his fine. "Do not want to fight and you away to prison this morning," said Judge Wright. "The springtime is here and I hesitate to commit a defendant to jail."

The court then told Dennis J. that he would be allowed a further opportunity to reform. He was granted a suspended sentence to the state reformatory at Concord.

Judge Wright spoke in the same vein to Catherine B. Cawley. It was her fourth offense for the over indulgence but she has spent seven months of the past year in prison and the court awarded her a suspended sentence.

James Sharrow was the only defendant who was sent away this morning. He was charged with drunkenness, found guilty, and sentenced to serve three months in Sheriff Eveleigh's establishment.

The case of Frank Sohesak was continued and Fred M. Berbe, charged with non-support was dismissed. Two other offenders were awarded suspended sentences.

DEATHS

DOUGHERTY—Dr. William L. Dougherty, a physician of Beverly Farms, died yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Dougherty, in Hale street, Beverly Farms, after a long illness. Dr. Dougherty was 83 years ago in Lowell and from here went to Manchester, where he was graduated from the high school. He attended Dartmouth and Tufts colleges and finished his medical education in Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. He went to Beverly Farms about seven years ago. He was for several years manager of the Beverly Farms baseball club and a member of Oliver Wendell Holmes council, Knights of Columbus, and John West colony. He lent his wife, who was Miss Helen Coughlin of Manchester, and a young son, William L. Dougherty, Jr.

FARNHAM—Mrs. Satira A. (Person) Farnham, wife of William L. Farnham, died last evening at her home, 90 Gates street, aged 82 years and eight months. Mrs. Farnham was born in Bennington, N. H., Aug. 12, 1832, the daughter of Levi and Prudence Colby. When a girl of 15 she came to Lowell and this city has been her home ever since. On Feb. 26, 1851, she was married to William L. Farnham, a native of York, Me., and only a few weeks ago they observed the 64th anniversary of their marriage. Mrs. Farnham was a member of the Elliot Congregational church, a charter member of Lydia Darrah chapter, D. A. R., and of Highland Union lodge, D. O. R. She leaves her husband, William L. Farnham, of this city, Ossville, Me., a teacher in the Roxbury Latin school, and Levi Elmer, chief engineer of Cambridge, N. J., one daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Hartley, and a grandchild, William Hathaway Farnham of Boston.

HURLEIGH—Edward J. Hurleigh, for the past five years fireman at the Essex county court house, Salem, died suddenly Monday night at his home, 25 Walter street, Salem, aged 60 years. Mr. Hurleigh had worked from 1891 until 1914 in the fire department and had not complained of being ill. After retiring to bed, he was suddenly stricken and died before a physician could arrive. He was a native of New Hampshire and was a son of the late Bradley and Anna (Whitney) Hurleigh. For many years he resided in Lowell and was a member of the Odd Fellows, of this city. He also was a member of Liberty lodge, F. A. M., of Beverly.

REUTEGG—Washington C. Burgess, a resident of Lowell for 50 years, died this morning at his home, 272 Pawtucket street, aged 51. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Eugene T. Shaw and Mrs. Nettie A. Goulding of Lowell; one son, Fred A. Burgess of Amesbury; and a daughter, Mrs. Burgess of West Groton. Funeral notice later.

ROBERTS—Mrs. Harriet F. Roberts, widow of the late James P. Roberts, chief engineer at the Lowell water works from 1870 to 1890 and chief engineer at the Appleton mills from 1890 to 1902, died yesterday at the home of her son, Harry J. Roberts, 31 West Fifth street, aged 71 years. Mrs. Roberts came to Lowell in 1867 from St. Lawrence, P. Q., where she had been a resident since 1872. She leaves one son, Harry J.; two brothers, Elmer Clark of Gardner, and Jude Clark of Lowell; and a daughter, Mrs. S. E. Boynton of Ayer's Cliff, P. Q. and Mrs. Clara Libby of Wakefield. DEATHS

DOUGHERTY—Dr. William L. Dougherty, a physician of Beverly Farms, died yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Dougherty, in Hale street, Beverly Farms, after a long illness. Dr. Dougherty was 83 years ago in Lowell and from here went to Manchester, where he was graduated from the high school. He attended Dartmouth and Tufts colleges and finished his medical education in Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. He went to Beverly Farms about seven years ago. He was for several years manager of the Beverly Farms baseball club and a member of Oliver Wendell Holmes council, Knights of Columbus, and John West colony. He lent his wife, who was Miss Helen Coughlin of Manchester, and a young son, William L. Dougherty, Jr.

FARNHAM—Mrs. Satira A. (Person) Farnham, wife of William L. Farnham, died last evening at her home, 90 Gates street, aged 82 years and eight months. Mrs. Farnham was born in Bennington, N. H., Aug. 12, 1832, the daughter of Levi and Prudence Colby. When a girl of 15 she came to Lowell and this city has been her home ever since. On Feb. 26, 1851, she was married to William L. Farnham, a native of York, Me., and only a few weeks ago they observed the 64th anniversary of their marriage. Mrs. Farnham was a member of the Elliot Congregational church, a charter member of Lydia Darrah chapter, D. A. R., and of Highland Union lodge, D. O. R. She leaves her husband, William L. Farnham, of this city, Ossville, Me., a teacher in the Roxbury Latin school, and Levi Elmer, chief engineer of Cambridge, N. J., one daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Hartley, and a grandchild, William Hathaway Farnham of Boston.

HURLEIGH—Edward J. Hurleigh, for the past five years fireman at the Essex county court house, Salem, died suddenly Monday night at his home, 25 Walter street, Salem, aged 60 years. Mr. Hurleigh had worked from 1891 until 1914 in the fire department and had not complained of being ill. After retiring to bed, he was suddenly stricken and died before a physician could arrive. He was a native of New Hampshire and was a son of the late Bradley and Anna (Whitney) Hurleigh. For many years he resided in Lowell and was a member of the Odd Fellows, of this city. He also was a member of Liberty lodge, F. A. M., of Beverly.

REUTEGG—Washington C. Burgess, a resident of Lowell for 50 years, died this morning at his home, 272 Pawtucket street, aged 51. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Eugene T. Shaw and Mrs. Nettie A. Goulding of Lowell; one son, Fred A. Burgess of Amesbury; and a daughter, Mrs. Burgess of West Groton. Funeral notice later.

ROBERTS—Mrs. Harriet F. Roberts, widow of the late James P. Roberts, chief engineer at the Lowell water works from 1870 to 1890 and chief engineer at the Appleton mills from 1890 to 1902, died yesterday at the home of her son, Harry J. Roberts, 31 West Fifth street, aged 71 years. Mrs. Roberts came to Lowell in 1867 from St. Lawrence, P. Q., where she had been a resident since 1872. She leaves one son, Harry J.; two brothers, Elmer Clark of Gardner, and Jude Clark of Lowell; and a daughter, Mrs. S. E. Boynton of Ayer's Cliff, P. Q. and Mrs. Clara Libby of Wakefield. Deceased was a classmate of Mrs. S. E. Boynton of Ayer's Cliff, P. Q., being one of its most active workers for a number of years.

THE U. S. NAVAL RESERVE

Sec. Daniels Sends Explanation to The Sun as to Scope of Act Just Passed by Congress

In reply to a letter of inquiry from The Sun, Secretary Daniels of the navy department sends the following reply and a statement explaining the scope of the new naval reserve bill in which many Lowell young men are interested:

March 23, 1915.

Editor, The Lowell Sun, Lowell, Mass.

My dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of the 21st instant requesting information as to the recent naval reserve act passed by congress, the department takes pleasure in enclosing for your information a copy of the naval reserve act and circular letter which is being sent out to all honorably discharged naval men who have been out of the service for a period less than eight years, and would appreciate any assistance you may lend in helping to bring this important legislation before the public in your section of the country.

Very truly yours,
Joseph M. Daniels,
Secretary of the Navy.

Washington, D. C.,
March 14, 1915.

Sir:—There is forwarded herewith for your information a copy of the act of congress, approved March 3, 1915, creating a naval reserve of honorably discharged men, and authorizing graded pay according to length of service in the navy to men who elect to join the reserve.

This act contains features of much interest and importance to you, and deserves a careful reading. It was intended not only to create a naval reserve of honorably discharged experienced men but also to increase the efficiency of the regular service by offering substantial inducements to experienced men now in the navy to remain for longer periods and to ex-navy men in civil life to re-enter the navy and, by so doing, have their previous service counted in determining the amount of graded pay they will receive when they join the reserve at some future date. This feature deserves your careful consideration as well as prompt conclusion in the matter as the navy quota is now almost full and enlistments will soon have to be suspended in order not to exceed the number allowed by law. A waiting list to all vacancies as they occur will have to be established at an early date. The bureau naturally prefers to fill vacancies by enlisting ex-service men rather than recruits and therefore, offers you this opportunity.

Consider first whether you wish to re-enlist in the navy and have your previous service counted for graded pay when you join the reserve at some future time. If you have been out of the navy less than 8 years and are less than 35 years of age and physically sound you are eligible to re-enlist in the regular service.

If you decide not to re-enter the regular service, consider the advantages you will have by joining the naval reserve and having your name on an honor roll of the country, virtually established by an act of congress because the law allows only honorably discharged men to join the reserve.

There will be organizations of the reserve in every community where there are two or more members. They will be required to report at a designated place in their own community once each quarter for muster and inspection and to sign pay roll. Failure to so report will cause forfeiture of pay.

Calling them into active service on board ship for drills and exercises is optional with the department. When so called they will receive (level) and subsistence and full pay of their ratings.

Read carefully the act and note the following:

(1) You must be a citizen of the United States.

(2) Your last discharge must have been honorable to enable you to join the reserve.

(3) If you decide to join the reserve within four months from date of discharge your pay will be $30 per annum. If you have served four years in the navy or for a minority enlistment $50 if you have served eight years, and $100 if you have served 12 years.

(4) If you serve 16 or 20 years in the navy you can be virtually retired on one-third or one-half pay.

(5) If you re-enlist in the navy your previous service will count to give you these advantages.

As you know, men usually get to be chief petty officers before they have 16 or 20 years' service, and their pay in the reserve would run from $35 to $50 or more per month.

(6) If you join the reserve after four months and within eight years from date of discharge your pay will be $12 per annum, and you will get an outfit or uniform when first called into active service. You can, however, increase this pay by serving another enlistment in the navy and then enlisting in the reserve within four months from date of expiration of such enlistment. In this connection remember that all your previous naval service counts in figuring out the pay you will receive.

(7) Men in the reserve will be given a distinctive badge or button indicating their membership in the reserve as well as their honorable service in the navy.

(8) When called into active service you will get the full pay of your rating as well as travel allowance and subsistence.

After a careful consideration of this matter, act promptly. Go to a recruiting ship or a recruiting station and re-enlist in the navy or enlist in the reserve. At any rate fill out the enclosed card and mail to the bureau in order that a place may be saved for you in the quota allowed by law.

If you know the whereabouts of other ex-service men the bureau would thank you to communicate with them on this subject or send their addresses.

It is important to all concerned that they should know the opportunities which congress has so liberally provided for them.

Respectfully,
Victor Blue,
Chief of Bureau.

Establishing Naval Reserve

There is hereby established a United States naval reserve which shall consist of citizens of the United States who have been or may be entitled to be honorably discharged from the navy after not less than one four-year term of enlistment or after a term of enlistment during minority. The naval reserve shall be organized under the bureau of navigation and shall be governed by the articles for the government of the navy and by the naval regulations and instructions. Whenever actively employed with the navy or whenever employed in authorized travel to and from prescribed active duty with the navy, its members shall be employed as members of the naval reserve and shall while so employed be held and considered to be in all respects in the same status as enlisted men of the navy on active duty, except that they shall not be advanced in rating in time of peace. When not actively employed with the navy, members of the naval reserve shall not be entitled to any pay, bounty, gratuity, or pension except the pay expressly provided for members of the naval reserve by the provisions of this act, nor shall be entitled to retirement by reason of such service in the naval reserve.

Enlistments in the naval reserve shall be made in the rating in which last honorably discharged from the navy for a period of four years unless sooner discharged by competent authority. No man shall be first enlisted in the naval reserve after eight years from the date of his last discharge from the navy, nor unless he be found to be physically fit to perform the duties of the rating in which last discharged, nor shall any man whose last service in the navy was terminated by any means other than by an honorable discharge be eligible for enlistment in the naval reserve. Reenlistments in the naval reserve shall be made under such regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy.

Enlistments in the naval reserve shall be made in two classes. Class one shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve within four months from the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy. Class two shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve after four months and within eight years from the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy. In addition to the enlistments in the naval reserve above provided, the secretary of the navy is authorized to transfer to the naval reserve at the expiration of an enlistment any enlisted man of the navy who may, after two years from the date of approval of this act complete service in the navy of sixteen or twenty or more years and be entitled at the expiration of his enlistment to an honorable discharge. Such transfers shall only be made upon voluntary application and in the rating in which then serving, and the men so transferred shall be continued in the naval reserve until discharged by competent authority.

Members of the naval reserve of class one and men transferred to the naval reserve shall be required to keep on hand such part of the uniform clothing outfit as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy, and all members of the naval reserve shall be issued a distinctive badge or button which may be worn with civilian dress. Members of class one who have served less than eight years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $30 per annum, and those who have served eight or more years and less than twelve years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $50 per annum, and those who have served twelve or more years in the navy, $100 per annum. All members of the naval reserve of class two shall be paid at the rate of $12 per annum, and when first called into active service on board a vessel of the navy shall receive an allowance for an outfit of clothing not exceeding $30 in value, to be expended under regulations prescribed by the secretary of the navy. Members of the naval reserve who have been transferred to the naval reserve, completed service in the navy of sixteen, or twenty or more years shall be paid at the rate of one-third and one-half, respectively, of the base pay, plus permanent additions thereto, which they were receiving at the close of their last service in the navy.

Members of the naval reserve may, in time of peace be required to perform not less than one month's active service on board a vessel of the navy, during each year of service in the naval reserve and such active service shall not exceed two months in any one year. Provided, that the foregoing active service with the navy may be required to perform active service with the navy throughout the war, not to exceed the term of enlistment in the naval reserve in the naval reserve.

Any pay which may be due any member of the naval reserve shall be forfeited when so ordered by the secretary of the navy upon the failure, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy, of such man to report for muster and inspection.

Those members of the naval reserve of class one, and those members who have been transferred to the naval reserve, who re-enlist in the navy within four months from the date of their discharge from the naval reserve, shall not be entitled to a gratuity of four months' pay, but their re-enlistment in the navy shall be held and considered to have been made within four months from the date of discharge from the navy for the purpose of continuous service. The period of time during which members of the naval reserve while employed in the naval reserve shall, for the purposes of retirement, be counted as active service in the navy in the case of those who re-enlist in the navy after service in the naval reserve.

RECEPTION AT Y. W. C. A.

Farwell Party to Miss Boutelle Who Goes to Take Up the Work at Canton, China

Miss Harriet L. Boutelle, who recently resigned from the local Y. W. C. A. to accept a position as general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Canton, China, was tendered a reception at the Young Women's Christian association last evening. The affair was held in Kitchen hall and about 200 friends of the popular young secretary assembled to wish her success and happiness in her new field. The board of directors and girls of the association presented Miss Boutelle a black leather suit case and a purse of money. Refreshments were served and music was furnished by Cushman's orchestra.

Miss Boutelle leaves Lowell on Saturday of this week for her home in Chelsea. From there she will go to San Francisco and thence to China.

Magnesia Fine For Acid Stomach

Quickly Stops Sourness, Acidity, Belching, Bloating, Stomach Pains, Etc., and Makes Digestion Easy

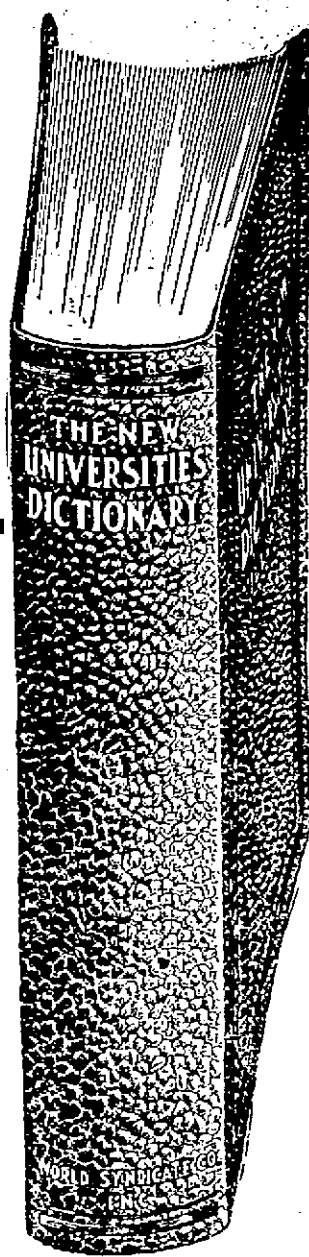

Most folks who after eating experience a sour burning sensation in the stomach and are troubled with gas, bloating or a heavy lumpy feeling call it indigestion and take a peppin pill or something of the kind to help the stomach digest the food and push it into the intestines.

In most cases these people have what physicians call an acid stomach. Their stomachs secrete too much hydrochloric acid which mixes with their food so that it ferments and sours and makes them uncomfortable. Instead of using something to artificially push this sour acid mass into the intestines where it will do almost as much harm as in the stomach they need a simple antacid that will quickly and harmlessly neutralize the acid in their stomach and make its food contents sweet. Then digestion becomes natural and painless and the disagreeable symptoms of heaviness, burning gas, belching, bloating, etc. all vanish.

Ordinary Bisulphate of Magnesia which can be obtained at any drug store is excellent for this purpose but should always be bought in sealed bottles to insure its purity and full strength, either tablet or powder form, and be sure that it is BISULPHATE of Magnesia—not just plain or citrated magnesia which are not good for this purpose. One to two teaspoonfuls of Bisulphate of Magnesia in a little water taken after meals will neutralize all the excess acid in your stomach and prevent or stop all stomach distress.

Middlesex Women's Club Finds 32 Per Cent Vulgar and Debas-ing—Complaint Sent to Mayor

An investigation of the moving picture houses of Lowell has recently been conducted by a committee of the Middlesex Women's club and the committee has appealed to the mayor to have the pictures more strictly censored.

The committee's letter to the mayor is not filled with compliments for the police. The committee states that in some theatres members of the committee were obliged to vacate their seats to avoid insult from men sitting near them and the committee believes there is grave danger menacing the children and youth of the city unless something is done to correct conditions. The committee declares that its investigation discloses only too clearly that a large percentage of the pictures shown appeal to the vulgar and debasing side of life and they ask the mayor to do something toward the enforcement of adequate laws governing police supervision.

The mayor doesn't think he can do anything about it. He says that the license commission of Lowell might step in and decide to withdraw a theatre license unless a certain picture were withdrawn. Then the mayor had another think and the happy thought came to him that he might "threaten" not to grant a permit for a Sunday exhibition, unless certain pictures were withdrawn. "Just what I shall do," said the mayor, "I cannot say."

Club's Letter to Mayor

The following is a copy of the special committee's communication to the mayor:

141 Parkview Ave.,
April 6, 1915.

Mayor Dennis J. Murphy,
Dear Sir—An investigation of the moving picture houses in Lowell has recently been conducted by a committee of the Middlesex Women's club. Beginning Jan. 18, the investigation covered a period of six weeks. During that time each theatre was visited six times by at least six different members of the committee.

This investigation was carried on under the direction of the State Federation of Women's Clubs with a view to influencing legislation in the regulation of the exhibition of moving picture films in Massachusetts.

Knowing your interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of our city, the Middlesex Women's club submits the following report of its work:

Number of visits made.....72
Number of films examined.....214
Classification:
Good.....88
Fair.....100
Objectionable.....86

Films Objectionable

An examination of these figures shows that 32 per cent. of the films were classed as objectionable, in that they either pictured scenes that were immoral or obscene, presented vice as attractive, were grossly offensive to good taste or instructed in the methods of crime.

Many of the theatres are badly ventilated, lack ushers and police supervision, and are too dark. In two cases members of the committee were obliged to vacate their seats to avoid insult in the darkness by strange men sitting next to them.

As recorded in 32 visits, 2227 minors under 14 years of age were noted. There is grave danger menacing our children and youth of the present day in Lowell if so large a percentage of the moving picture films continue to appeal to the unnatural, sensational, coarse, vulgar and debasing side of life, as evidenced only too clearly by the present investigation.

Mayor Asked to Act

In view of these facts, the Middlesex Women's club recommends a strict censorship of all films shown in Lowell, by a competent official appointed by the mayor; also the enforcement of adequate laws governing police supervision, ventilation and lighting of the theatres.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. HARRY STOCKS, Chairman

The British government's appeal for women workers has brought responses from more than 7,000 women already. They are wanted to take jobs driving delivery wagons, milk wagons, to work in the dairies and to act in clerical and secretarial jobs, so as to relieve the men who are desirous of joining the army.

UMPIRES FOR FIRST GAMES

CHICAGO, April 8.—President Johnson of the American league yesterday announced the assignment of the umpires in his circuit for the opening games on April 14, as follows:
Dineen and Sullivan at St. Louis; O'Loughlin and Hildebrand at Detroit; Evans and Mullane at Washington; Connolly and Chitt at Philadelphia.
Nahly and Mullane are new men on the umpiring staff, the former having officiated last year in the International league, while Mullane worked in the Texas circuit and also in the International and Eastern leagues.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"When We Were 21" begins a three days' engagement at the Lowell Opera house this evening with William Elliott in the leading role. The production is from the Paramount studio, and that is the best guarantee possible as to its quality. William Elliott, one of the best known actors appearing before the camera today, is his best in "When We Were 21," and his supporting company is fully up to the Paramount standard.

The Opera House has come to be recognized as the home of refined picture entertainment. It is today the reputation built up by years of competent management, and Lowell people are constantly showing their appreciation of the efforts of the present management to provide high class entertainment. The management appreciates what is being done by the Middlesex Women's club of this city to standardize screen productions and feels that the movement must have most satisfactory results. The Opera house has contributed its full measure to the work since its resurrection several weeks ago, and there can be no question as to the endorsement of Lowell people. Constantly increasing crowds attest the appreciation of Lowell.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The Six Water Lilies, who headline the bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, give the most varied exhibition of swimming and diving, ever put on a local stage. Collectively it is doubtful if any more accomplished group of water mounds has ever been brought together. While no individual star is featured, it is only proper to remark that Nora Leahy, the long distance swimmer and fancy high diver, shows up rather more prominently than any of the others. Leahy is a physical marvel, although none of the "lilies" is in anything but the best trim possible. Tonight another amateur exhibition of water mounds will be in connection with this act, and prizes of gold will be awarded to the winners. The remainder of the bill is up to the high standard that has been the rule this year. James Kyle, MacCarty & Co. will give the engrossing playlet, "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet," and Alice May Barker, a very popular singer, will surprise with her wonderful knowledge of her chosen instrument. Other acts are: Valentine & Bell, Billy Davis and his comedians, Trilo Brown and the Hearst Trio. Phone 28

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

If there is any funnier play than "Baby Mine," the offering this week by the Merrimack Theatre Stock Co., then it isn't in the remembrance of many present day playgoers for a very, one who has yet seen it (and capacity audiences have been told this week) declares it to be by far the best comedy ever seen. You'll say the same thing too, after you've laughed for solid two hours at this riot of action and complications. All the different members in the cast are exceptionally good in their respective roles and the result is certainly pleasing. The coming Sunday, April 11, for two performances, the Williamson Expedition of Submarine motion pictures will be presented. This attraction comes to us direct from its Boston theatre run where it achieved a phenomenal success and will be given at 10 and 30 cents. Matinee at three, evening at 8:15. Next week's attraction is announced as being Augusta Evans Wilson's famous play novel, "St. Elmo," with Sam A. McHenry in the title role.

THE OWL THEATRE

The old-time crowds and the old-time popularity are apparent after last night at the Owl theatre. Enthusiastic fans crowd the house every evening. Today's feature is a strong drama, telling of a woman's sacrifices. "What a Woman Will Do" is an exceptional feature. The 5 o'clock play is excellent, each production being from the best makers. "The Man From the Mountain" holds a special place on the program.

DANCED AT LINCOLN HALL

The Koocheekawans held their annual dance in Lincoln hall last evening. The affair was largely attended and all present spent a pleasant evening. Minor's orchestra was in attendance and the following officers were in charge of the event: General manager, Andre W. Hunter; assistant general manager, Percy L. Foyler; floor director, Albert E. Holdaway; assistant floor director, Jack A. Bow; chief aid, Paul F. Goward; assistant chief aid, Orrin L. Mackenzie and Alfred J. Healey; treasurer, Percy L. Donntson. The matron's corner was presided over by Mrs. William F. Elvia.

LED MARCH WITH DICKENS

MRS. ELIZABETH M. MOSES, DEAR

AT FORTSMOUTH, N. H.—ALSO

DANCED WITH GREELEY

FORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 8.—Mrs.

Elizabeth Mills Moses, widow of Capt. Edward Moses, U. S. N., died suddenly yesterday at the home of Mrs. William R. Weston on Cabot street.

She was born in New York Sept. 12, 1820, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo.

Mills. She led the grand march at the ball on Feb. 14, 1842, in Park theatre, New York, on the author's first visit to America. Miss Mills attended the ball with Horatio Bartlett, then editor of the New York Sun.

Mrs. Bartlett introduced Dickens to her and the author asked her to be his partner in the grand march. She also danced that evening with Horace Greeley.

In 1843 she married Capt. Moses then in the merchant marine, who in 1862 became a captain in the navy, serving under Admiral Dupont. Capt. and Mrs. Moses came to this city in 1863 and Mrs. Moses has since lived here. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. Augusta Arnold of this city and Mrs. Lizzie Hills of New York, also one sister, Miss Emma Mills of New York.

Capt. O'Brien Drives in Winning Run in Last Half of Ninth

A timely smash by Capt. O'Brien in the last half of the ninth inning sent over the winning run yesterday afternoon in the first ball game of the season in this city when Lowell Textile bumped Malden high in a hard fought 2-1 contest at Textile field.

It was a good game all the way through considering the early season unpreparedness of both squads. Textile committed but one error while Malden made three misplays, but on several occasions a suspicion of ivory was apparent especially with the local boys.

Both teams scored in the third inning. After fanning the first batter to face him, Sturtevant walked Fowler. A Texas leaguer to centre field allowed him to go around to third. A perfectly worked squeeze play with Foley at bat then followed. A long fly to Hart ended Malden's scoring.

Textile was not to be denied in her half. With two out, Gunning reached first when his ribs obstructed one of Flanders' fast ones. Sturtevant was walked, putting Gunning on second. Bakers' classy first sacker of the local team, then came through in a pinch and scored Gunning with a pound over third. Sturtevant went out trying to score on the smash.

This ended the scoring until the latter half of the ninth. Sturtevant swung his club against a fast one and romped to second before the horsehide was returned to the infield. Cap O'Brien then proceeded to break up the game with a line drive to centre which easily scored "Sturdy."

Sturtevant pitched gilt edge ball for Textile despite the rather frigid

MAJOR ELECT THOMPSON OF CHICAGO STRONG FOR ALL KINDS OF CLEAN ATHLETIC SPORTS

CHICAGO, April 8.—William Haie Thompson, mayor-elect of Chicago, favors boxing for Chicago and Illinois, if the sport is properly conducted and regulated, he asserted today. He indicated, however, that he intends to leave the question of whether this city is to have the glove sport with the state legislators. A bill to legalize the sport has been introduced at Springfield.

"I am strong for all kinds of clean athletic sports and that includes boxing," the mayor-elect said. "Boxing in Chicago would be great if we could have it governed under laws which prevail in New York and Wisconsin."

CITY BOWLING LEAGUE

Tuesday night's games in the City Bowling League saw the White Ways, who league leaders get a thrash for four points from the quintet from Carr's caused chiefly by remarkable bowling by Lane. The race for second place is still close between the Crescent and Carr's, and Carr's holds the former team as the favorite. Martel still leads all individual bowlers, although Gordon who has only bowled two games has an average of 106.5. The standing of the teams and individual bowlers is as follows:

THE SPELLBINDER

We are going to have a $2000 July 4th celebration after all, and hence here's hoping that it will be a grand success attracting hundreds of thousands to Lowell with more than their carfare in their pockets. Here's hoping that it will result in the sale of a sufficient number of lots on the South common to bring back to the city the $2000 blown in on the show. Here's devoutly hoping that the restaurants and hotels will not run out of food as some of them once did on the occasion of another grand celebration in this city, for the visiting multitudes and his best girl will need something more substantial than a hotel holiday sandwich to sustain them on a hot and busy day like our glorious Fourth.

Tuesday evening's hearing resulted as everybody thought it would, the case being prejudged. It furnished considerable amusement for the spectators and after all had been heard the municipal council stood pat. The clerical opponents of the proposition made clear their position in raising their voice against what appeared to them as a needless demonstration of the military spirit and a needless waste of money, while the military men were at fault in purposely giving the attitude of their opponents an unpatriotic color.

The one question with which the city of Lowell was concerned in the matter and on which The Sun opposed the proposition was the fact that the city is in no financial condition to spend $2000 on such a celebration at this time. Only one month ago when the annual budget for the running expenses of the year was under discussion each head of department upon presenting his estimate was met with the cry of "No money." Mayor Murphy repeatedly said: "We must have close," or words to that effect. Need of improvements were not considered because there wasn't needed repairs were cut out of the same reason. All estimates were curtailed except for the purchase of automobiles, and the public was led to believe that the strictest kind of economy was being aimed at by the custodians of the public funds. And yet they voted $2000 for a Fourth of July celebration to be spent on the militia, a state organization that should look to the state for the expense of its displays. No other city has voted any money to entertain that part of the militia not included in the Lowell celebration, and yet if one regiment or one brigade is entitled to such entertainment by the public, all are equally entitled to it. But it doesn't matter how the city proposes to spend the money; the militia are probably as much entitled to it as anyone else. The question that has arisen concerning the economy of the council in holding any kind of an expensive celebration at this time, if the merchants of the city should decide to keep open on July 4th to get some of this money that is coming to town, a loud protest would be heard from some of those who are now the most vociferous in promoting the celebration.

New Public Hall. In the interest of the future the municipal council should pass up the public hall proposition as they have done the high school and the contagious hospital and allow some future government to do the work.

After wasting a whole lot of money on temporary annexes to the high school that outlived their usefulness, a few days after they are opened, until money enough has been spent almost to put up an adequate building, the members are following along the same lines in regard to a public hall.

Since Huntington hall burned down when prominent men, the president of the United States and others have come to Lowell there has been no hall of sufficient size to contain the crowds that would listen to them. If Lowell has been able to muster up great crowds in the past surely those crowds will come together again in the future, but not in a hall that will accommodate only 1000.

When Governor Greenhalge returned to Lowell at a late hour on the night of his election Huntington hall was packed with enthusiastic citizens. Support Mayor Murphy becomes governor; Col. Carmichael, chief justice of the supreme court; Billy Duncan, dean of Harvard law school; Newell Putnam, president of Technology; or Charlie Moore, national president of the Good Roads League. You sit at the crowd that would turn out to greet them in a hall with a seating capacity of 1000? Not much.

The municipal council should look carefully into the future before coming to a conclusion relative to that hall. They should look beyond the amount of insurance money received from last fire, and incidentally they should look at the insurance money down here, lest it follow the fate of the Huntington hall insurance fund.

No hall that can be constructed in the Memorial building even with two such clever architects as Messrs. Stickney and Graves on the job, will be big enough to meet the purposes of what the public understands to be a public hall. It would make a suitable hall for small gatherings, banquets and lectures, but not for great public meetings, mass meetings, political rallies or the like. It could not be used for dance or show purposes and hence the city would lose a source of revenue. It would not be particularly safe inasmuch as it will not be fireproof and will be located a couple of flights of stairs above the sidewalk and with no elevator. In all probability it would be a source of annoyance to the city library and after it had been opened about six months the public would start to clamor for a public hall, suited to the needs of the city.

The Municipal Minstrels. "Gentlemen, be seated." "S-u-r-e!" Interlocutor: "Mr. End-Man, will you kindly explain to the audience what's the trouble in the street department?"

End-Man: "In the words of Woodrow Wilson, 'Tut, tut.'"

Interlocutor: "Will somebody tell me the cause of all this fuss over the cemeteries?"

End-Man: "More dead ones trying to get in." "The company will now sing that beautiful ballad, 'Back to the Mayoralty You Love!'"

"Gone are the days I used to stomp with words of promise. When I was out to 'can' the grafter, And only one term I was after; Gone are the days, the golden days, And now I seem to hear them say: 'Will you be back; will you be back, Back for a second term as mayor?'"

Maintained Strict Neutrality. President Wilson himself would take off his hat to the Matthew Temperance society as an organization that knows how to maintain a strict neutrality in the matter of war and peace. The party of the "Males" Monday evening, the society had Mayor Murphy for an announcer and James E. O'Donnell, Perry Thompson and Henry Carr as judges. They should have invited "Victoria" Jewett to direct the music and Dr. Mignault to lead the march.

Longer Tenure of Office. While Mayor Murphy has declared himself in favor of the short tenure of office, Representative Victoria Jewett is being groomed as the mayor's probable successor on the one-term theory is in favor of longer terms of office for senators and representatives. Representative Jewett says that Lowell has been quite niggardly toward her representatives in this respect and as a result does not enjoy the prestige at Beacon Hill to which she is entitled. He states that the Lowell men seldom rise to prominence at the state house on account of the brevity of their experience there. The Boston Herald in a recent editorial on the appointment of the committee to draft legislation for the reorganization of the Boston & Maine, refers to this matter and incidentally hands a compliment to Rep. Jewett, who is a member of the committee. "Rep. Jewett believes that such important matters as the Boston & Maine proposition can be handled successfully only by men with considerable experience in legislative work, and that experience cannot be gained through a brief tenure of office. Now that Representative Jewett has been appointed on the Boston & Maine committee he may abandon his mayoralty hopes and be a candidate for the legislature again, in order to see the proposition through to a finish. Still, he would also enjoy being mayor of Lowell."

There is a lot to be said, however, in favor of Rep. Jewett's contention for longer terms at the legislature. If a man attempts to make himself conspicuous during his first year he is considered, presumptuous, while his second year as a general rule is his last. It is a matter of history that the men who have had the greatest prestige at the state house were those who had been there the longest, as, for instance, the late W. H. H. Hayes of this city, and at the present day, Marshall Lounsbury of Boston. Yet Senator Fisher wasn't at the state house until the length of time, comparatively, and he made a name for himself while representative Gilbride managed to acquire considerable influence, even though in the legislature less than two years.

The Boston Pilot's List. In an article in last week's issue calling attention to the favorable reports of the committee on a constitutional reform of the legislature which by a vote of six to five reported the Bachelier amendment to the constitution, otherwise called the "Sectional" bill, the Boston Pilot prints a list of the members of last year's legislature who voted in favor of the measure.

When it came up a year ago, the only Lowell men who voted for it were Reps. Jewett and Lewis. The bill prohibits the use of the public money for any sectarian institution and is said to be aimed particularly at one class of institutions, being promoted by the Minute Men and the Guardians of Liberty, so called. This bill, when it came up for action in last year's legislature, was killed by an amendment offered by Rep. Lounsbury of Boston, which included all institutions not of a distinctly public nature, thus bringing in the Institute of Technology and other well known educational and semi-public corporations, the efforts of the promoters being directed only at religious institutions conducted under religious auspices.

The bill was defeated again yesterday in the legislature and once more Rep. Jewett and Lewis supported it.

In the 10th District. Already the candidates who hope to succeed Rep. Gilbride in the legislature from the 10th district are being named and there is a multiplicity of them at the present time, although undoubtedly the number will diminish between now and campaign days. Among the candidates mentioned are quite a few young men who are in every way desirable and who represent the same localities and situations, and unless some of them withdraw the voters will have hard work making a choice. It is stated that the Belvidere end of the ward is going to make a strenuous effort to have a resident of that section pull off the nomination. Thus far there are two candidates from that part of the ward, J. Maloney and Thomas Corbett, while the other section of the district has several candidates. As a nomination means an election all the campaign work will be done before the caucuses, but they are a long way off and the list of candidates mentioned now, may be completely changed within a few months.

The Pawtucket Bridge. If the municipal council thinks so well of Pawtucketville that it spends over $30,000 on a sewer in that locality that nobody wants it surely should give the people of that section a bridge which every body would want. Unlike the sewer is not a useless expense for it will be the means of additional revenue to the city by increasing the valuation of property and opening up new property in that district, while the city will never get back the money it has expended in building the sewer. The Moody street bridge by opening up a new territory increased the city's revenues greatly.

Getting a Move On. Have you noticed how the members of the municipal council have suddenly shown some signs of life and are now discussing public halls, bridges and other improvements, that they have consistently ignored during the past sixteen months despite the clamor of the public and even of the law? Pretty soon we may hear of the municipal council taking up the proposition of establishing a contagious disease hospital and an even vote to buy an automobile ambulance. The time to announce their respective candidacies is near at hand and the members whose terms are to expire must show something accomplished before the campaign days come on.

Jackson Palmer a Candidate. Jackson Palmer, son of former Mayor Charles D. Palmer, did not propose to permit Mayor Murphy to run for a second term on the ground that there was no other candidate in the field and hence on Tuesday announced his own candidacy in the newspapers at city hall. Mr. Palmer is a well known at-law with offices in the Hildreth building. He proposes to take the stump and conduct a vigorous campaign. It is said that the announcement of Perry Thompson is on the way and will become public within a short time. Dr. Mignault is already a candidate and will have no opposition from any French-American candidate.

Bigelow Appointed. The appointment of Liquor Officer Samuel E. Bigelow was expected after his recent capture of three liquor dealers, while disguised, although he did not stand at the head of the list. George E. Bigelow, his day has been both a sergeant and a lieutenant was first on the list; Serg. Bigelow, second; Thomas Riley, third; and William Wilson, fourth. Had Officer Wilson stood a notch higher he would have had a good claim on the job on the department but a perfect record on the department has been his, never censured, reduced or suspended. The rank doesn't amount to much after all; it's the salary that goes with it. But some men in the department had to pass two examinations to get a lieutenant's salary while others get it without passing any examination at all. Equal rights, etc.

Snow-Shovelling Monday. While everybody likes the clean streets and the unemployed to get as much work as possible it did look rather like a waste of money to see city employees shovelling snow on Monday when the sun was removing it faster than they could shovel it.

The Paxing Matter. Many people are wondering how much thought the members of the city council give to the important subject of street paving, which will soon cost the city in the vicinity of $150,000. Do the members stop to consider if the present method of paving is the best? Is it even satisfactory, or if it could be improved upon, or do they simply tell the street commissioner to go ahead and spend a certain amount of money for "paving"? Are they proceeding blindly with this important feature of municipal expenditures?

Owners and drivers of horses are complaining and the Humane society officially has called the attention of the municipal council to the large number of horses that have fallen and the number that have been fatally injured as the result of the present form of pavement, and the numerous complaints would suggest that there must be some way to correct this evil by means of other pavement that will ensure safe footing for horses. There is such a pavement and also one which while affording a good foothold for Sixteen Months Have Passed. Sixteen months have passed since the law gave out its mandate that the city of Lowell must establish an isolation disease hospital. Sixteen months have passed since the law said that the city of Lowell must establish a dispensary for contagious cases. Three months have passed since the mayor said that the city should have a nurse to attend to contagious diseases. Nothing has been done in any of the three cases, although the money has been available for a month or more. Perhaps after the more important matter of having a celebration of July 4th is out of the way the municipal council may turn its efforts to these apparently less important affairs. Meanwhile there is no let-up in the progress of tuberculosis and other ailments among the poor of the city who would be benefited by these improvements.

THE HOTEL DE JOBLESS. INJUNCTION TO COMPEL IT TO VACATE TO BE SOUGHT—FUNDS RUNNING LOW. BOSTON, April 8.—It is probable that the Hotel de Jobless on Essex street, which has been in existence close to a month, will close its doors Saturday. This morning in the equity session of the superior court the city law department will ask for an injunction compelling the hotel to vacate on the ground of failure to comply with the rules of the board of health regarding plumbing and sanitation.

Director Lippa says that the hotel is scrubbed more frequently than the municipal lodging houses and that no men sleep in the place, it being used solely as a rest room.

The funds of the committee are running low and unless more contributions come in today no more bread and hot coffee will be served, as what money is on hand will be conserved to meet other necessary expenses.

Director Lippa said yesterday: "We started this place as an advertisement. We wanted to show the people that there are unemployed men in need of food, clothing and everything a man can need. The activity of the mayor's well-trained board of health shows that the politicians don't like to have their childish methods of dealing with a social problem shown up."

HIS INJURIES FATAL. Joseph Bellaire, said to have been Assailed by Two Young Men at Manchester, N. H.

Manchester, N. H., April 8.—Joseph Bellaire, 42, of 234 Wilson street, picked up unconscious after an alleged assault in East Manchester, Monday night, died in a local hospital yesterday.

MOTORMEN ON LICENSE BILL WITNESS STAND IS AMENDED

Bay State Employees
Prefer Country Runs,
They Testify

Express Hope That Men Will Get Wage Increase

BOSTON, April 8.—Having expressed to their superintendents the opinion that it was easier to operate a car in the country than in the city, seven Bay State Street Railway motormen were yesterday served with summonses at the instance of the company and appeared as witnesses before the board of arbitration in Kingsley hall, Ford building.

Most of these men have been long years in the service of the road, and all are members of the Amalgamated association. After saying that country runs were their choice, they were cross-examined by James H. Vaher, the company's counsel. To him they said they hoped the men would get an increase in wages and a betterment of working conditions.

Robert A. Wilcox of Brockton, who is 67 years old and has been 32 years in service, told Mr. Vaher that he believed in the union, but had no opinion about the graduated scale. Josiah B. Sherman of Brockton, who has been a motorman for 23 years, "guesses" that country running was easier than city operation. He said he appeared as a witness only because he had to.

George Southworth of Fall River told Mr. Vaher that he wouldn't have given his "honest opinion" to Supt. Seibel had he known that it was to result in his being called to testify. William A. Lapham of Fall River declared that he didn't think the company was going to make use of the opinion he had expressed.

Edward M. Peck, who is 50 years old, of Whitman; Leroy W. Hazeltine of Brockton, 61 years old, and William Monfeth of Newport, were the other Bay State men to testify on this matter.

Then followed a delegation of Portland motormen and conductors, who came down from the Maine city to testify along the same lines, that suburban operation is easier than city operation. While in Boston these men are staying at a downtown hotel, the guests of the Bay State.

Those who testified yesterday were Albert N. Vining, Fred M. McNeil, Ernest E. Moulton, Clifton Fogg and Lawrence Ebbesen. Gen. Supt. George H. Gray took the stand and described his visit to Portland to Mr. Vaher and his talks with the men themselves. He said he considered the Portland system fairly comparable with the Bay State lines north of Boston, which come under his jurisdiction.

Prof. Albert S. Richey of the time-table department resumed the witness stand late in the afternoon for further cross-examination. When he said he could not agree with Prof. Irving Fisher that the cost of living generally has increased as fast as the food prices, Mr. Vaher added: "I agree with you there."

Prof. Richey could not conceal in Prof. Fisher's opinion that the general increase in the cost of living during the past four years has been at least 15 per cent. This figure was 5 per cent. for that period.

Today's hearing will be in Kingsley hall.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

MEETING HELD TO EXTEND
WORK OF THE LEAGUE—1000
FAMILIES ON ITS LIST

The feature of the monthly meeting of the board of directors of Lowell Social Service league was the reading of the report of Miss M. A. Carter, the working executive of the league, who called attention to the fact that the league is interested in 75 different families at the present time and that 41 new families were added to the list in March. The league now has 1000 families on its "confidential exchange" meaning the number of families receiving aid of various kinds from the different charities in Lowell.

A committee was appointed to be known as the special membership committee and a plan will be evolved to make an effective campaign for a large number of members at one dollar each as well as many members contributing larger sums. Congressman John Jacob Rogers is the president of the league and was present at yesterday's meeting. There were about 14 directors present and a thorough discussion of the problems of the league was held.

Senate Changes Front
On the Factory Hospital Question

BOSTON, April 8.—The Massachusetts senate voted yesterday to hold no session today as a mark of respect to the late Ex-Gov. Curtis Guild. It will meet Friday at 10 o'clock, an hour earlier than is customary, in order that the members may attend the funeral services at noon.

The senate substituted for the new flag bill already passed by the house a bill introduced by Senator Bean of Cambridge. The substituted measure, which was placed in the orders of the day, has been frequently called the "Harvard bill." It prohibits the carrying of any red or black flag as a symbol of opposition to organized government, but permits a red or black flag to be carried by any religious, charitable or educational organization or institution, which shall file its distinguishing mark with the secretary of state.

The house bill, for which Senator Bean's bill is substituted, made no distinction as to color but provided that the symbol should not be against organized government or sacrilegious.

The senate reconsidered its action of Monday whereby it rejected the bill requiring manufacturers employing 25 or more persons to maintain and equip emergency hospitals for treatment of sick or injured employees. After a debate, in which Senator Wells opposed the measure and Senator Sheehan and Senator Doyle favored it, the bill was ordered to a third reading, 20 to 11.

The bill to prevent a licensed dealer from transporting liquors into a non-liquor city or town, which has already been passed by the house, was amended by the insertion of this provision: "unless licensed so to do by the aldermen or selectmen of such city or town within which such delivery is to be made." The bill as amended was then ordered to a third reading.

In opposing the amendment, which was offered by Senator Farnsworth of Leominster, Senator Bean said the effect of such an amendment would be to nullify the very intent and purpose of the bill.

Another defeat for the temperance workers was the rejection, 11 to 6, of the bill to make the granting of pony express licenses by boards of aldermen and selectmen permissive rather than mandatory. Under the present law at least one pony express license must be granted by a municipality. The bill was passed in the house, but its rejection yesterday by the senate means the end of its career unless the action is reconsidered.

The senate passed to be engrossed the bill providing that the amount appropriated by the city of Boston for school teachers' pensions shall be seven cents instead of five cents, on each $1000. The bill also increases by two cents on each $1000 of property valuation the amount of taxes upon which the city appropriations are made.

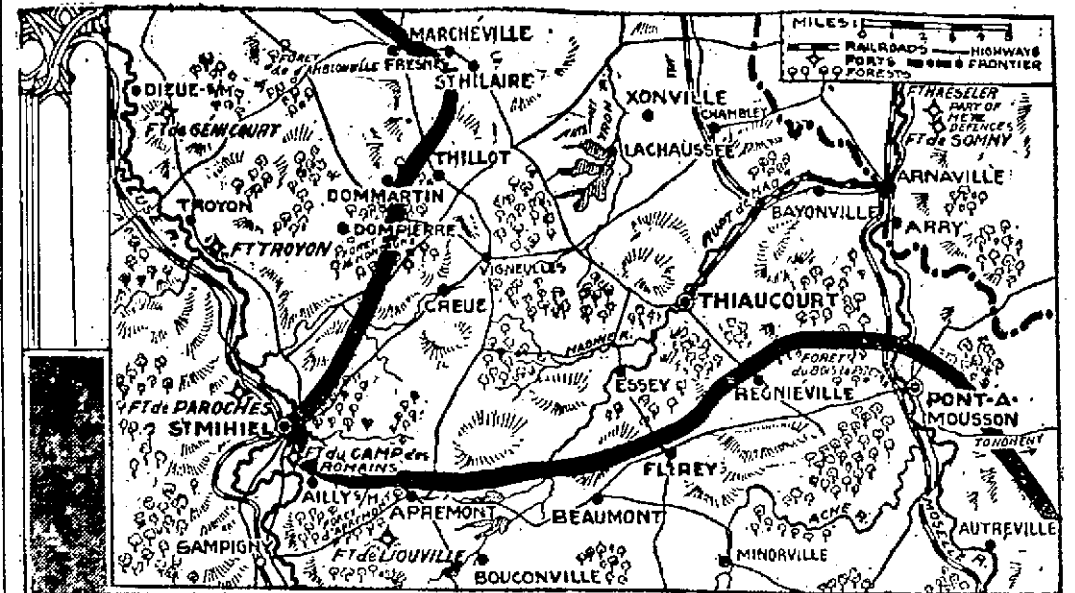

Another bill affecting the school teachers' pensions, which the senate also passed to be engrossed, provides that the appropriations for the Boston public schools may amount to $1.05 on every $1000 of property valuation. The present limit of school appropriations is $3.95 on every $1000 of property valuation.

Committee reports read and placed in the orders of the day included: Ways and Means—"That the highway commission expend $35,000 to construct a driveway connection from Brooks street in Brighton to Charlesbank road in Newton, and $28,000 in the improvement of Concord avenue in Cambridge from Walden street to the Belmont line."

MAP SHOWING GERMAN WEDGE ASSAILED BY FRENCH BATTERY

LONDON, April 8.—In an effort to dislodge the Germans from St. Mihiel, at which point is the apex of the narrow wedge which marks the southernmost advance of the invaders, the French troops are conducting a sustained and somewhat formidable offensive between the Meuse and the Moselle. Greatest pressure is being exerted by the troops of General Joffre on the line running from St. Mihiel to Pont-a-Monson. At Ailly, Apremont, Flirey and west of the forest of Le Preire the attacks of the French were violent, according to the testimony of the German war office. Berlin admits the importance of this move. How the Germans have been able to hold the St. Mihiel wedge, with an occasional offensive, is no longer a military secret. In the autumn of 1912 a German company rented a large plot of ground close to St. Mihiel for the manufacture of a chemical product. It was a big company and had need of big buildings with solid foundations and deep concrete cellars. In July, 1914, the company stopped operations and closed the plant. When, on Sept. 20, the Army of Metz arrived upon the scene it destroyed the buildings, but found in the concrete cellars perfect emplacements for heavy guns. For nearly two years the plant had been a fort in all but the armament. After Sept. 20 it had that, and the 42-centimeter howitzers so placed made short work of the French forts at Troven and the Roman camp, which were armed with 12-centimeter guns.

Villa Faction Defeats
Oregon's Army in Central Mexico

EL PASO, Texas, April 8.—By the defeat of General Obregon's army in the last two days in Central Mexico officials of the Villa faction declared today at Juarez that a decisive blow had been struck at the Carranza cause. Reports to the Villa headquarters said Obregon's force was retreating southward from a point midway between Queretaro and Irapuato. Villa personally is directing the pursuit. Each side had from 20,000 to 25,000 men, according to reports.

DEITRICH OUT FOR GOVERNOR FOOL QUESTION, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Former Congressman to Run for Democratic Nomination

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald
and Cong. Phelan
May Be Candidates

BOSTON, April 8.—Ex-Congressman Frederick S. Dietrick of Cambridge announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor last night.

He will make prohibition, equal suffrage, a more efficient militia and the enactment of a law to prevent employers using the stop watch on workmen in manufacturing establishments his chief issues.

But it is on the prohibition issue that he bases his hope of success, and in the statement of his position, the ex-congressman said that he believed that the opponents of prohibition would not hesitate to spend $200,000 in the fall campaign to continue local option in this state.

Mr. Dietrick's announcement did not create much of a stir in political circles. By some it was regarded as an attempt to draw out Gov. Walsh into a statement of his position. The governor had no comment to make, other than that his attitude would be made known after the prorogation of the legislature.

Phelan and Fitzgerald Mentioned
Those who are close to the governor are still of the opinion that he will not be a candidate for a third term. While Mr. Dietrick is the first candidate in the field, former Lieut. Gov. Barry has announced that if Mr. Walsh is not a candidate he will enter the race.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald is also to be considered if the governor decides not to be a candidate and there is a strong movement on foot for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Peters.

There is no question but that Gov. Walsh will have the united support of his party for a third nomination in case he wants it. But ex-Congressman Dietrick is stated to be proceeding on the theory that the governor will not again be a candidate. It is expected that Congressman Michael J. Phelan of Lynn will be in the running also, in case the governor is not a candidate.

Mr. Dietrick was defeated last fall for a reelection in his district by Frederick W. Dallinger. He has served three terms in the house.

placed under the supervision of special female officers who will see to it that they are properly cared for in the immigration station or in philanthropic or other similar organizations. Only in case of absolute necessity shall detained women and girls be placed in jails or other similar places.

"It being the purpose of this special procedure to humanize the administration of the law," says the bureau of immigration, "it is important that the cases of women and girls shall be handled in a particularly considerate and careful manner not only while they are detained in this country, but in the event of deportation, after they arrive in the country of their nativity at the port where they originally embarked for the United States."

Colonel at Philadelphia
Dee-lighted With Reception

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—"That's a fool question," snapped Col. Roosevelt, when asked on his arrival here, to express an opinion on the chances of the progressives returning to the republican fold. The colonel, who left last night on his recent explorations in Brazil.

As Mr. Roosevelt stepped from the train he was greeted by the four men who constituted the reception committee, and after shaking hands all round, tipped his hat to the several hundred persons, most of them arriving and departing travelers, who gathered about him in the station train shed. There were no cheers.

As the little party proceeded to the colonel's hotel, the colonel alternately scowled and snapped back at the reporters accompanying him and bowed and tipped his hat to friends who recognized him. Here's the story of the trip from the station.

(To the crowd) "Dee-lighted!"
(To the reporters) "That's a fool question!"
(To the crowd) "This is bully, dee-lighted!"
(To the reporters) "Understand me? That's a fool question to ask now."

The colonel's reception committee was composed of Prof. William Threlkeld, president of the Geographical society of Philadelphia, for which the colonel's lecture was delivered; Dr. Hudson Chapman, vice-president of the society; Prof. Leo Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania and Dr. J. William White, an old personal friend.

The colonel's lecture was the first he has delivered since he has completed his conclusions on the findings of his Amazon expedition.

DICTIONARIES GO FAST

EVERYONE WHO HAS SECURED
THE SUN'S DICTIONARY HAS BE-COME A BOOSTER FOR IT

There is no let-up in the demand for The Sun's New Universities Dictionary, and there shouldn't be for everybody should avail him or herself of this exceptional offer to secure the latest thing in dictionaries at a nominal cost, and The Sun is prepared to furnish a copy for every resident of Lowell.

They have gone like hot-cakes, and every person who has taken them up has been an enthusiastic booster for The Sun's proposition. An objectionable feature to about every edition of the dictionary in the past has been the abstractive type, which has been difficult to read for many whose sight is not the best. This fault has been corrected by the publishers of the New Universities dictionary, for the book is printed in type that can be read at first glance by all. That it is the last word in the language of the day is evidenced in the fact that it contains words that have been accepted by common usage within the past few years, and which did not appear in the older editions of even the unabridged dictionaries. Another commendable feature is the complete elimination of all indecent and obscene words which have no place in correct and clean speech. All words that one should know, however, will be found, together with their correct pronunciation and meaning.

END OF WAR IN SIGHT

INTERESTING CASES AT SUPERIOR COURT

Billerica Man Sues for Damages Caused by Bite of a Dog Last July—Verdict for Coffey

The suit of James W. Perrigo, a Billerica real estate salesman, vs. Charles F. Ralph E. and Brandon J. Manning, all of North Billerica, in which the plaintiff sues to recover for damages alleged to have been sustained when he was bitten by a dog, said to be owned by the defendants, was tried before Judge Stevens and a jury in the local session of superior court today. Perrigo claims $5,000 damages.

William D. Ring and William H. Wilson for the plaintiff and Melvin G. Rogers and Francis M. Qua for the defendants.

The case grew out of the "Billerica mad dog scare" on July 24 last. Shortly after noon on that date a black and white dog ran wild through the streets of the village, snapping at persons who came in its way. Mr. Perrigo claims, in his declaration, that the dog was owned and kept by Charles F. Manning and his two sons, Ralph E. and Brandon J., and that as he, the plaintiff, was walking along Wilson street, he was attacked and bit him in the leg, causing great pain and also tore his clothing. Mr. Perrigo sues for his medical expenses as well as for damage caused by the wound and injury to leg.

Plaintiff Testifies
Mr. Perrigo was the first witness for the plaintiff. He testified that as he was walking toward his office on the day in question, a dog came running behind him and jumped at his leg. Witness said that he attempted to shake off the animal, but before doing so he was severely bitten.

He received medical attendance from Dr. Neil K. Forhan of North Billerica, Dr. Maurice A. Buck of Billerica Center and Dr. McGannon of Lowell and was obliged to use medicine for some time.

The plaintiff said that as a result of the injuries sustained, he was obliged to lose considerable time from his office and often found it necessary to have his meals sent to him at his office on account of the soreness of his leg. At the present time, he said, his leg becomes sore if he stands on it for any continued length of time. Witness then showed to the jurors the marks of the dog's teeth, which are just below the knee on his left leg.

Mr. Perrigo was absolutely sure that the dog belonged to the Manning family. He told the court and jury that he had seen the dog with Charles F. Manning previous to the day he was bitten and that almost immediately afterward he and Edgar F. Twombly went to Manning's house and saw the same dog in the yard. He said that Mr. Manning chained the dog in the cellar on the afternoon of the trouble.

Cross-examined by Mr. Rogers, the plaintiff described the appearance of the dog which he claims bit him last July. He said that it was white with black spots and brown ears and was partly covered with mud.

Plaintiff also said the dog attacked William Costello, of North Billerica, immediately after it bit him. He did not think Mr. Costello was injured.

After leaving Mr. Costello, witness said he went to his office and was informed that the dog was running along a driveway near Fordway bridge. Mr. Twombly appeared soon and Constable Livingston was also sent for. The plaintiff and Messrs. Twombly and Livingston then drove down Tabot avenue toward Mr. Manning's home and saw the dog, which is claimed to have caused the trouble, sitting on Mr. Manning's lawn.

A map of the north village was used to explain to the jury men the route the dog covered and the spot where Mr. Perrigo was attacked.

Dr. Neil K. Forhan testified that he treated two wounds on Mr. Perrigo's leg on July 24. There were two distinct bites on his left leg but very little blood was evident. Plaintiff visited the doctor on two occasions afterward.

After being out a little more than a half hour, the jury in the case of Michael T. Coffey vs. William P. Boyle, a Lowell constable, reported a verdict of $45.50 for the plaintiff. This is the full amount which Coffey claimed was owed him for keeper's services, together with 55 cents interest. Edward F. Tierney for the plaintiff and Frank S. Goldman for the defendant.

AFTERNOON SESSION
Expert medical testimony was offered in superior court this afternoon during the trial of the case of Perrigo vs. Manning after Dr. Forhan had concluded his testimony. Drs. M. A. Buck and T. G. McGannon were called and told of the plaintiff's nervous condition.

Dr. McGannon, who examined Mr. Perrigo yesterday, stated that the man was brought on by the shock and conditions surrounding the attack by the dog.

Mrs. Edith Stott saw a black and white dog jump on Mr. Perrigo on the day of July 21. Mrs. James Doyle, the plaintiff's boarding mistress, testified that he had been troubled with a twitching of the head since being bitten. She also said that his appetite was not so good as before the trouble.

Henry D. Livingston of the Billerica constabulary testified that when he visited the Manning house he found two dogs on the lawn. The older one was exhausted, wet and partly covered with mud. The officer said Mr. Manning chained the dog in the cellar to see what developed.

Former Highway Surveyor Twombly, who was a special police officer in Billerica in 1911, said that as a result of his attention being called to a dog, alleged to be the one that bit Mr. Perrigo, he and others chased it for some time and finally located it in Mr. Manning's yard. He described the appearance of the dog, corroborating other witnesses.

AUSTRIA SUES FOR PEACE WITH KAISER'S CONSENT

Report From Rome Says Austria is About to Sue for Peace and That Germany Has Agreed to Plan

ROME, April 8.—It is learned on excellent authority that Austria is about to sue for peace and that Germany, realizing the hopelessness of averting Italian intervention unless a settlement is made by the dual monarchy, has tacitly consented to her ally making a separate peace. This is regarded here as a prelude to the end of the war.

Confidential information has been received that the kaiser realizes his inability to send any more troops into Austria to resist the Russian advance over the Carpathians, as he needs all his troops to guard his own frontiers. Austria, abandoned by Germany, can make no effective resistance to the czar's armies and hence is ready to give up the fight and plead for peace, with the object of saving the empire from annihilation.

Advices which have just come to hand state that the dual monarchy has consented to the cession of the Trentino to Italy in order to prevent her entering the war. It is added that the necessary documents have been drawn up and signed.

AN AERIAL FIGHT NEW B. & M. BILL CALLED TO ARMS

Austrian Aeroplane Hit Russian Craft and the Latter Fell to Earth

BERLIN, April 8.—An account of an extraordinary aerial fight was given out today by the Overseas News agency which says its information was received from Budapest. It concerns an encounter between one Austrian and three Russian aeroplanes.

The Austrian aeroplane, it is said, succeeded in mounting above its adversaries and dropped a bomb which struck one of the Russian aeroplanes. The Russian machine plunged 1500 yards to the earth.

The report goes on to say that the atmospheric disturbances caused by the fall of the aeroplane upset the other two Russian machines existing them both to whirl down to earth.

00,000 Jews Driven Out
The Overseas News agency quotes the Neue Zürcher Zeitung as saying that French aviators during a nocturnal flight over Strassburg dropped bombs which fell in a prison camp in which were confined 500 French soldiers wounding five of them severely.

Other news items given out by the Overseas agency today are as follows: "A Petrograd Jewish society estimates that about 90,000 Jews have been driven from their homes in Warsaw and are now homeless."

"Railroad traffic between Bukovina and the interior of Austria has been restored."

FAVOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE
NEW YORK, April 8.—The New York east conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today adopted a resolution expressing its belief that "equal suffrage is in the logic of the democracy to which our nation is committed" and the hope that at the November election in New York state the proposed amendment to the state constitution granting suffrage to women will find the hosts of Methodism solidly lined up in its favor.

Measure Said to be Acceptable to All Parties
Submitted

BOSTON, April 8.—A new draft of a bill for the reorganization of the Boston & Maine railroad said to be acceptable in its essentials to all parties in interest, was submitted today to the sub committee of the legislative committee on railroads and will be placed before the full committee tomorrow. It is understood that the full committee favors the measure, which will be reported in the house on Monday. Counsel for the public service commission, the federal trustees and the leased lines have been engaged for nearly two weeks in completing the draft.

Men Capable of Bearing Arms

LONDON, April 8.—An irade promulgated today by the sultan of Turkey authorizes the ministry of war to call out all men capable of bearing arms, but who heretofore were not liable for service, inclusive of the ages of 19 and 20, for the defense of the Turkish coasts and frontiers and the maintenance of order. The ministry also is given power to enroll for military service all immigrants for the duration of mobilization. This information was contained in a despatch received today by Reuters Telegram Co. from Constantinople.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Police looking through the effects of William Esser, whose body was recovered today from the bottom of a well 50 feet deep which caved in on him yesterday said they found plans of the city and fortifications in and about Cologne, Germany. Esser, the police also asserted, was convicted six years ago of the larceny of tools and parts of Whitehead torpedoes from the plant of the E. W. Bliss Co. in Brooklyn. He was said to have spent six months in the penitentiary for that crime. The police were unable to determine what disposition, if any, Esser planned to make of the plans of Cologne. Esser's death resulted from an attempt to dig down to water in an abandoned well. Sand at the bottom of the well suddenly fell away from the walls and buried the man up to his waist. Firemen were called and while they worked the full of sand increased and Esser was slowly buried. Later the entire well caved in. Squads of men worked all night and today succeeded in recovering the body. Esser came to this country from Germany ten years ago. His former wife and several children are believed to be in Chicago.

PETITION FOR RECEIVER
WASHINGTON, April 8.—A petition for the appointment of a receiver for the Cochran Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of carpets and finishers of cotton fabric, was filed in the federal court today by Bellar & Long, a New York firm with a claim for $5000. The company has a carpet mill at Dedham, a finishing plant at Maiden and offices in this city.

CARRANZA FORCES ROUTED
WASHINGTON, April 8.—Adelces to the Villa agency here today said that Carranza forces under General Hetera had been routed at Lampazos and retreated in disorder toward Nuevo Laredo. Many officers and men are crossing to the American side. Villa troops, the message said, would attack Nuevo Laredo within a week after repairing the railroad.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Sectarian Bill Lost — Batcheller Resolve Killed — How the Representatives Voted

BOSTON, April 8.—The state house of representatives refused yesterday, 107 yeas to 115 no, to order to a third reading the so-called Batcheller bill, which would amend the state constitution so as to forbid the appropriation of public funds for sectarian purposes.

The house, by a vote of 111 yeas to 115 no, also refused to substitute for an adverse committee report the Fitzgerald amendment, which would prevent public appropriations for any institution not controlled by the state or local authorities. Then the house took the same action on the Cross amendment, which in general resembled the Fitzgerald resolve.

The debate on these measures consumed practically the whole afternoon session; indeed, the house sat until almost 6:45 so that they might be disposed of.

Kill Catarrh Germs and Stop Catarrh

Breathe This Antiseptic Dry Air in Your Own Home and Quickly End Catarrh, Head, Colds and Snuffles

One of the surest signs of catarrh of the head, nose and throat is catching cold easily. When you have catarrh the mucous membranes are inflamed, swollen and sensitive and a slight draft or sudden change of temperature at once sets you sneezing, sniffling and wiping your nose. Then again while these delicate tissues are in an inflamed state the catarrh germs sneeze out and coughed up by other sufferers find quick and easy lodgment in your affected nose and throat and immediately start saving their way into your raw sore organs. Then your catarrh gets worse and you wake up mornings with tongue thick, mouth sticky and nose all stopped up.

Catarrh can be overcome and the germs of catarrh destroyed if you will go to any good drug store and ask for a large complete Hyemol (pronounced High-ome) treatment, consisting of a bottle of the oil of Hyemol and a small hard rubber inhaling device.

You put a few drops of the Hyemol oil into this inhaler and then put it between your lips and breathe naturally this pleasant, antiseptic healing air of Hyemol way into your nose, head, throat and lungs. In three minutes your air passages are cleaned out, you breathe easily and the discharge stops and if you will do this every day for a few weeks you will drive every catarrh germ and every symptom of catarrh entirely from your system.

Hyemol, when used with this inhaling device is always sold with the positive guarantee that it must give you successful results or you can have your money back.

generally regarded as the most important of the three pieces of legislation.

The committee had divided in its reports. Senator Norwood of Hamilton and Representative Fitz-Henry Smith, Jr., of Boston, Catherine of Beverly, Joseph S. Smith of Provincetown, Charles of New Bedford and Ralph M. Smith of Somerville, making a majority of the committee, had reported favorably on the Batcheller amendment and "leave to withdraw" on the Fitzgerald and Cross amendments; a minority, consisting of Senators Bartlett of Pittsfield and McConagie of Boston and Representatives Donahue, Levens and Santosuos, all of Boston, had dissented on all three reports.

Mr. Lomasney of Boston opened the debate. He moved to substitute the Fitzgerald resolve for the report of the committee. He said he was opposed to the Batcheller amendment because it was an uncalculated insult to a large part of the population of the state and because it was based upon a promise which did not conform to the facts.

In past years, he said, the legislature has appropriated for private charitable institutions a total of $6,350,000, of which only $19,600 went to Catholic institutions. For educational institutions, privately controlled, he said, $6,141,000 had been appropriated, and not a dollar of this went to Catholic institutions.

The appropriation for non-Catholic institutions, he said, had jumped from $255,000 in 1889, to more than $800,000, an increase of more than 300 per cent. yet the Catholics would never protest against such appropriations if they were not now confronted with such a proposition as is contained in the Batcheller amendment.

Now that the matter has been stirred up, Mr. Lomasney said, the legislature should take action of which it will always be proud. It should pass an amendment to the constitution which will absolutely prohibit such appropriations for any purpose and for all time, and will place all institutions upon an equal footing.

Founded on Bigotry

Mr. Sherburn of Brookline spoke next. He opposed all the proposed amendments, but particularly the Batcheller resolve, about which he said:

"The Batcheller amendment is bad for the reason that it prejudices the future. It is bad because it is unnecessary, for our present constitution now gives practically all the protection that the Batcheller amendment seeks. It is bad because it upsets, without any valid reason, many laws which have worked perfectly well.

"But the strongest reason of all against this amendment is the fact that it is founded on religious prejudice and bigotry. This man Batcheller, a political fence, out of a job, working upon the latent distrust which many Protestants feel toward the Catholic church, has collected together a goodly following; among which are numbered men who have no business to lend their names nor to commit the amendment of the constitution was wholly unnecessary.

The agitation, he said, was clearly a cry of alarm emanating from certain bigoted and narrow Protestants, whose short-sightedness in stirring up religious strife was bound to do harm, not only to the republican party, which numbers among its supporters many loyal Catholics, but also to the cause of religion.

Mr. Greenwood of Everett opposed the Fitzgerald amendment. He said: "There is no real connection between the issue involved in the Batcheller amendment and the Fitzgerald amendment. The former deals with the fundamental American principle; the latter simply treats an economic question. The present policy of the state; the latter effects a radical change in the state's policy."

Messrs. Catherine of Beverly and Smith of Somerville opposed the Fitzgerald amendment. Messrs. Gblin of Boston, Donahue of Medford, Levens of Boston, Ooherty of Fall River and Good of Cambridge supported it.

Fitzgerald Amendment Lost

On a roll call, by a vote of 111 yeas to 115 no, the house refused to substitute the amendment for the report of the committee. The large vote in favor of the amendment caused general surprise.

Mr. Cross of Royalton then moved the substitution of his amendment for the adverse committee report. He spoke at some length in support of his resolution, but it was overwhelmingly defeated in a rising vote.

Batcheller Plan Defended

The house now took up the Batcheller amendment. Mr. Smith of Somerville made the principal argument in its behalf. He said it was not based on bigotry, but was proposed so as to make it certain that the present policy of the state would be continued.

Mr. Smith said he could not understand why Catholics, opposed the measure if they had no intention of asking public support for the parochial schools.

He then read a list of questions which he had submitted several weeks ago to Mr. Cunningham, who represented the Federation of Catholic churches at the hearings before the committee. Mr. Smith said these questions had not been answered.

Hollist on Amendment

By a vote of 107 to 115, the house refused to order the amendment to a third reading. The roll call follows:

COMPENSATION ACT CHANGES

The state house of representatives spent its morning session yesterday in debating various amendments to the workmen's compensation act. Several bills which would extend the scope of the act, were substituted for adverse committee reports, and will take their places in the orders of the day.

The committee on ways and means reported ought not to pass on the bill to establish a state school fund; this bill had received a favorable report from the committee on education.

The committee on public institutions reported no legislation necessary on so much of the governor's inaugural address as related to the reorganization of the prison commission, and to placing county mental institutions under the control of the state, as well as the reorganization of the state board of charity.

The same committee, with Messrs. Greenwood, Annis and Sinnott dissenting, reported a bill for a new hospital in Waltham for the insane on the Metropolitan district.

The committee on harbors and public lands reported a bill authorizing a loan of $350,000 for improving the harbor of Fall River.

The rules were suspended in order to admit for consideration Mayor Curley's bills providing for a new bridge over the Charles river between Boston and Dedham.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

A supper and entertainment took place at the First Congregational church last evening. The attendance was large and the entertainment program, which was well received, consisted of the following numbers: Piano solos, Miss Inez Beal; songs, Miss Frances Leggat; readings, Mrs. Augusta P. Sarre, Miss Mildred McKnight and Miss Elizabeth Swenson.

THE PERILS OF BRONCHIAL ILLS

STAND FOR PROHIBITION

SEC. BRYAN HOPES IOWA DEMOCRATS WILL VOTE AGAINST OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Secretary Bryan made public tonight a letter he had written to L. W. Kennington, democratic national committeeman from Iowa, expressing the hope that the democrats of Iowa would take a stand for prohibition and vote against officials who would be controlled by the liquor interests.

Mr. Bryan added in a statement that he hoped to see the democratic party taking the prohibition side wherever the question was raised and that if the liquor interests insisted upon making the selection of a national committeeman an issue the people opposed to the liquor traffic could not afford to ignore it.

"I do not know," stated Mr. Bryan, "to what extent the question will be an issue in the campaign next year. At the present time it does not seem probable that it will find a place in the platform of either the democratic or the republican party; but there is no reason why the national committeeman should not represent the sentiment of the party on this subject, as on other subjects."

Mr. Kennington had written Mr. Bryan that his name was being urged in behalf of a candidate for the national committee.

In his letter to Mr. Kennington, Mr. Bryan points out that the legislature of Iowa has voted statutory prohibition and has also submitted to the people a prohibition amendment to the constitution; also, as he insists, that the liquor interests have already ruled out one good man because he is "dry."

YOUNG COUPLE ELOPE

FATHER OF DOVER, N. H., GIRL SECURES WARRANT FOR YOUNG MAN AND STARTS IN PURSUIT

DOVER, N. H., April 8.—The elopement by automobile early yesterday of a young couple, Peter Demastagius, 22, and Katherine Carhena, less than 18, caused great excitement in the Greek colony and the police were asked to aid in preventing the marriage.

The father learned the couple chartered an automobile for Newmarket, attended by John Fortin and a young woman.

Chief of Police Clark phoned the Newmarket police, at the request of the father, who left for that town to intercept the couple if possible. He carried a warrant for Demastagius' arrest on the charge of enticing away the daughter.

FIRST BAPTIST SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the First Baptist society was held last evening in the church vestry with a large attendance. Clerk Edward W. Trull called the meeting to order and George H. Taylor was chosen moderator. After considerable routine business was transacted, the following officers were elected: Clerk, Edward W. Trull; assessors, Henry C. Fuller, Frederic J. Fleaming, Frank A. Bowen; music committee, Harry Stocks, George F. Wagner, Robert Friend; treasurer, Arthur E. Dyan; auditors, Wm. W. Buzzell, George F. Wagner.

Appropriations were made as follows: For pastor's salary, $3500; for music, $1450; for care of the church, a sum sufficient.

GOLD DUST

For every brightening and cleaning purpose in every home

Gold Dust is used at least three times a day in millions of homes everywhere.

Yet there are many thousands of housewives who think Gold Dust is only for one or two uses—

They would not use anything else but Gold Dust for washing dishes, for example—

Or for scrubbing floors and woodwork, washing windows, etc.

Gold Dust should be used for cleaning and brightening everything.

It is most economical; it is most satisfactory and it is most sanitary.

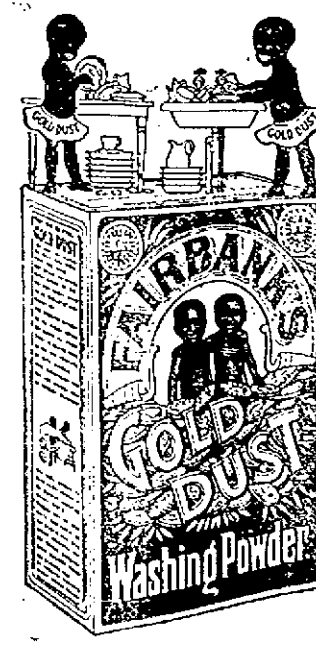

Cannot scratch or harm any surface, and it will dissolve and remove all dirt and grease

The active principle of Gold Dust is so remarkably thorough that you rinse away the dirt and grease, leaving a newness, a cleanness and a brightness which delights.

Gold Dust forces its way into the corners and crevices where neither fingers nor washcloth can reach. It truly works for you. Any woman who has washed dishes with Gold Dust knows what that means.

Gold Dust is the leading washing and cleaning powder in the world; it is indispensable once you know it.

BELGIAN REFUGEE REACHES LOWELL

Mrs. Moras Fled by Night Against Orders of German Masters

Spent Two Nights in Woods—Story of De- struction of Her City

Mr. Paul Moras of rear 4, 195 Moody street is the happiest man in the world today for his wife, whom he thought had been killed in the general massacre in Belgium by the Germans, after an exciting escape from her home country has arrived in Lowell none the worse for her experience. Mrs. Moras arrived in this city a few days ago, coming directly from England, where she had stopped a week, and she related a very pathetic story concerning the conditions in Belgium, where the Belgians are being threatened with death by starvation.

Mr. Moras came here last July shortly before the starting of hostilities in Europe. He left a wife and young child in Belgium, intending to work a few months here before bringing out his little family. However, the war broke out and his plans were frustrated. He wrote several letters to his wife but never received any reply, and finally he gave up all hopes of ever seeing her or the child again.

A few days ago when Mr. Moras returned from his work at night he was given the happiest surprise of his life, for when he entered the home of his wife in Belgium, he found her and the child. He had been told that the Germans had arrived in the afternoon. The baby, however, had been left in the care of the grandfather in Belgium and it may be months before the little one is brought to Lowell.

Mrs. Moras was seen by a Sun reporter yesterday and she told a very interesting story of her flight from Belgium and the treatment accorded the Belgians by the Germans. She was living at St. Nicholas, a small city of about 35,000 population and located near Antwerp. Before the opening of hostilities St. Nicholas was noted for its textile factories, there being cotton, worsted and silk mills as well as several large cigar factories, all employing about 15,000 people. Shortly after the bombardment of Antwerp the Germans entered St. Nicholas and ransacked the city. The large mills were totally destroyed and all the bridges leading to the outskirts of the city were blown up. Several thousand people were killed and all the residences, with the exception of three or four old houses, were demolished. The inhabitants of the city managed to secure cotton which they utilized in manufacturing tents for temporary homes.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Moras, who was living under one of the cotton tents with her father and other members of her family made up her mind to leave for America. She was not allowed to leave, but strict orders had been given by German soldiers on guard to the effect that no one was to leave the city. She said the Germans said to the residents of St. Nicholas: "You may show your white teeth all you want, but anyone caught leaving the city will be shot."

Despite the threats the young woman, accompanied by her father, left the city during the night and took refuge in the woods. The couple spent two days and two nights in the wilderness without a morsel of food. Upon emerging from the woods they managed to secure a quart of milk and they continued their tramp. They arrived at Hulls, Holland, safe and here the young woman was placed in the hands of the steamship ticket agent, while the father returned to St. Nicholas after promising his daughter he would later return to Holland with her on-months old baby.

Mrs. Moras remained in Holland a week and then sailed for England. She said she did not know anything of her father in Belgium, with the exception of her home city, Dendermonde, another small city about 5 miles from St. Nicholas. She said all newspapers are suspended publication and the Germans are very secret. No information whatever concerning general conditions in Belgium can be obtained. While on her way to Holland she saw a number of Belgian soldiers shot down on the platform of the railroad station by German soldiers.

Mrs. Moras has secured employment in the Merrimack mill and she said her sole ambition is to save enough money to return to England, where she expects her child will be brought. She said transportation rates from Holland to New York have been doubled. Last July when her husband came to this country he paid $42 for a third-class ticket across the ocean, while she had to pay $56 for the same trip.

While in Holland she visited her sister's brother-in-law, Auguste De Middeleur, a soldier in the Belgian army, who was made prisoner of war in Holland after the bombardment of Antwerp. This man who has a wife and five children in Belgium made his escape to Holland shortly after the invasion of the Germans and when he arrived in Holland he was taken prisoner by the Holland officials and will be interned there until after the close of the war. The Belgian prisoners in Holland number 31,000. They all live under tents and are well fed. They are given two francs a week for clothing and other needs and are free to do as they please providing they confine themselves to the camping grounds. Mr. De Middeleur, whose brother lives in this city has written several letters to Lowell and he states the Dutch people are very kind to them. The soldiers' camp is visited frequently by women of the neighborhood, who bring all sorts of good things to the prisoners. However, the soldiers would like to have their freedom in order to return to the colors and fight to the last for their king and their country.

MRS. PAUL MORAS

STATE OF WAR

Trouble on the Historic Chambord Estate of Prince Elias of Bourbon

PARIS, April 8.—A situation amounting to a state of war exists on the historic Chambord estate of Prince Elias of Bourbon, a Parma knight of the Golden Fleece, whose sister, Princess Zita, is the wife of Archduke Charles Francis, heir apparent to the Austrian throne. The tenants of the 35,000 acre estate, according to the Martin's Blois correspondent, are arrayed on one side of the conflict, while the agents of the prince's property, Mont De Reze, is on the other.

Reze is said to have managed the property according to the old feudal system, and his methods have necessitated several times the intervention of prefectural and judicial authorities. The police now are investigating a fire which broke out simultaneously at four different points in the magnificent park and destroyed over 300 acres of timber valued at $12,000.

The domain of the prince, which is situated in the valley of the Loire and was laid out by Francis I. in 1513, is isolated from the outside world by 20 miles of high walls. Notwithstanding this fact, however, and the precautions taken by Reze, the Martin says, reports of his evictions and exactions have become widely circulated in that region and feeling is bitter. The situation is aggravated by the belief that Prince Elias is fighting with the Austrian army, in which he is a captain on the general staff.

SUITS FOR $3,000,000

JUDGE GRUBB OF FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT HAS DISMISSED 24 SUITS AGAINST L. & N. RAILROAD

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 8.—Judge Grubb of the federal district court at Huntsville has dismissed 24 suits brought against the Louisville & Nashville railroad by English, French, German and Italian cotton firms who do business with the bankrupt firm of Knight, Yancy & Co. of Huntsville and Decatur. The suits involved more than $3,000,000 and the plaintiffs sought to fix responsibility for their losses on the railroad because of alleged negligence in the handling of bills of lading.

A PARTING LUNCHEON

TENDERED MRS. FREDERICK G. WOODWORTH BY LADIES OF DANCING CLASS

During the past winter season a series of delightful assemblies was held at the Highland club by a dancing class composed of a number of well known ladies and gentlemen, and a popular member of the class was Mrs. Frederick G. Woodworth, wife of the retiring president of the Highland club, who is about to remove to Philadelphia with her husband. Yesterday afternoon the ladies composing the class, to the number of 20, tendered a parting luncheon and reception to Mrs. Woodworth at the Vesper-Country club. A salubrious menu was provided and the ladies were charmingly adorned. In the center was a huge cluster of sweet peas, consisting of 20 corsage bouquets each gathered with pink ribbon, which subsequently were distributed to each member while at each cover was an attractive favor consisting of a tiny basket of rare confections.

Mrs. Woodworth was presented two monster bunches of violets and sweet peas. Mrs. J. A. Hume presided over the festivities and after the luncheon music and a social hour was enjoyed. Immediately after the luncheon Mrs. Woodworth departed for Boston, where she will spend a week with her parents before leaving for her new home. Mr. Woodworth proceeded direct to Philadelphia today.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEEDS

75,000,000 PACKAGES OF FREE SEEDS BEING SHIPPED TO CONSTITUENTS BY CONGRESSMEN

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Hundreds of thousands of packages of seed, provided and distributed at Uncle Sam's expense are being poured into the mails from the capital. Each senator and representative is shipping 35,000 packages of the seed, mostly vegetable, to constituents. Each packet contains five different varieties, making a total of close to 75,000,000 packages of free seeds furnished by congress to the agricultural constituencies annually.

$2200 IN CASH STOLEN

WESTFIELD POLICE SEARCHING FOR HOTEL CLERK WHO DISAPPEARED LAST NIGHT

WESTFIELD, April 8.—The theft of $2,200 in cash from the safe of the new Park Square hotel during the night was reported to the police today. The authorities stated they were searching for the night clerk, Carl Schurmann, who was reported to have left suddenly in an automobile for Springfield early in the morning. They believe he went either to New York or to Boston.

F. A. Blodgett, a local contractor, received $2,000 for the sale of some property last night. As the banks were closed he left the money at the hotel office for safe keeping. The rest of the funds in the safe belonged to the hotel. Schurmann, who is about 20 years of age, had been employed at the hotel for a year. He is a native of Switzerland.

COAST GUARD CUTTERS OF BOSTON DISTRICT RENDERED ASSISTANCE IN LAST FOUR MONTHS

BOSTON, April 8.—Although the mildness of the winter resulted in less strenuous work than in former years for the coast guard cutters Woodberry, Gresham and Acushnet the three cutters of the Boston district in the last four months rendered assistance to sixteen distressed coasting vessels which had on board 167 persons and which with their cargoes were valued at $334,000.

U. S. NOTE TO ENGLAND

STEPHEN PICHON ADMITS EMBARGO HAS RESULTED IN HANDSHIPS FOR NEUTRALS

PARIS, April 8.—Stephen Pichon, former minister of foreign affairs, commenting on the United States note protesting against the British order in council regarding German commerce, said that the embargo on German commerce is of a purely judicial and commercial character and does not sufficiently take into account the manner in which Germany is making war. At the same time, he admits that the Franco-British embargo on commerce has resulted in hardships for neutrals and says:

"We reduced as far as possible our defensive measures against Germany so as not to hamper the legitimate commerce of neutrals and perhaps other concessions are possible in that direction. Our main contention being maintained this is a point which may be considered; but however desirous we may be to wage war differently from Germany and keep intact our conception of the laws of humanity we cannot sacrifice ourselves for the pleasure of showing ourselves chivalrous."

Great Charity Ball Attracted Big Crowd—Beautiful Decorations and Inspiring Music

The great charity ball in aid of St. John's hospital, which has established itself as one of the leading social events of the season, was held last evening in Associate hall and once again it proved a magnet for many hundreds. Rarely has the hall presented a more animated scene and from the first concert number until the strains of the closing waltz at 2 a. m., laughter, gaiety and unbounded enthusiasm prevailed. Only those who have been directly interested in such a great undertaking have any idea of the difficulties to be surmounted and the many little details to be remembered, and it is to the credit of the active and earnest ladies of Charity that everything went so smoothly. The ball was a pronounced social success, and undoubtedly it will prove a financial success.

The dance hall was decorated with exquisite taste in a few well chosen colors, the entire decorative scheme being dominated by a most effective arrangement of soft lights. The royal table and in alternate streamers from the centre to the sides, and a filmy white gave the needed lightness to the general effect. Here and there, clusters of wisteria peeped out from the folds of the draperies, and immense clusters of the romantic flower were trailed on a graceful trellis around the stage. The lines of light were unusually lovely, curving overhead in great sweeps and outlining the gallery front, all shaded by flower effects in a rich golden yellow. An outline of lights was also used effectively around the stage, and at the back was a most artistic cluster of American flags. The hall was suffused with a soft glow in which the beautiful gowns of more beautiful girls showed to great advantage. Everywhere were palms and other potted plants, affording the natural touch without which no decoration is complete.

To the left of the hall was arranged a cosy corner where the patronesses of the affair sat throughout the evening. Everything had been arranged with an eye to informality. There was no march, except the march of the patronesses, escorted by aids. Many special features contributed to the spirit of informality. During some of the dances the lights were lowered, and a brilliant spotlight from Keith's theatre shined down on the couples. There were many moonlight dances and some unique effects in illumination.

Shortly after 8 o'clock there was a concert program by the famous Hopedale orchestra of Medford which played splendidly for the succeeding dances. A huge grand piano had been kindly loaned by the Steinert company. Following were the selections:

March, Universal Peace. Lanza. Gili from Utah. Selection. Kern. Somewhere a Voice is Calling. Hains. Solo by John E. Hyde. Hubbell. Excerpts from Peasant Gili. Prim. Moorish Gili, novelty. Hains. General dancing began shortly after 9 and continued until 2 a. m. Employment was written large on every face, and the evening will be for many a bright spot in the halls of memory.

Following were the officers of the evening:

General Manager, Miss Rose A. Dowd. Chairman Reception Committee, Hugh J. Molloy. Floor Director, William Purcell. Chairman of Refreshment Committee, Mrs. J. M. Murphy. YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS

In the matter of the daily dressing of the hair mothers have no end of little girl coiffures from which to choose. For the child with perfectly straight locks the Russian style, cut short and bobbing around the ears and neck, has long been a general favorite. Practical and comfortable, as it unquestionably is, the one objection to it is the extremely boyish look which it gives.

The latter is relieved somewhat by a slight pompadour effected by parting the hair on either side of the head at the front and tying the intervening locks at the left of the head. Or for the very young child, the hair is parted on a perfectly straight line on either side of the forehead and caught each in a small, bun-like bow of soft ribbon. This style of hair dressing is becoming only to a child with rather low brow.

The particular charm in either of these rather severe styles lies in the freshness and brightness of the bow or bows that set them off.

The careless, untidy mother has no right to expect nature to provide her with a fine, healthy child. He may be well proportioned and healthy when he comes into the world, but he will soon lose strength and health if he is not kept clean. Badly rinsed clothing causes eruptions, for the remains of soap, salt and lye irritate the baby's tender skin.

Carelessly washed diapers cause chafing and nervous affections. Eczema germs will find a lodgment in inflamed creases that ought to be dimpled, pink folds of healthy skin. A dirty or seamy scalp, itching, and itching keeps the baby awake, making him nervous and fretful.

I know mothers who spend hours sewing on lace and embroidering their frocks, yet who hurry through the process of bathing. This a grave injustice to the child.

Your child has a right to all the beauty you can endow it with. If your baby has thin eyebrows and lashes, try to encourage their growth. If your baby has a little redness on the face, with a little cocoa butter or vaseline.

If you are very careful you can even touch the lashes with a tiny camel's hair brush dipped in melted vaseline. I know a man and wife whose looks were marred by scanty lashes and colorless brows. When their babies came this woman determined to do something to improve the unfortunate inheritance.

She rubbed vaseline on the brows, had the lashes cut twice before the babies were three months old, asked the family physician, an excellent surgeon, to do this for her, and then she touched the roots of the lashes with melted vaseline. Her children, entertainment consisted of twelve or more tableaux representing scenes from Polyantha, the glad book. The cast of characters was as follows: "Polyantha," Gratia Dexter; "Aunt Polly," Mrs. Grafton Cushing; "Himself," Richard Burr; "Dr. Chilton," Gratia Cushing; "Mr. Pendleton," Royal Foster; "Miss Snow," Harriet New; "Nurse," Catherine Faulkner; "Nancy," Ruby Hull; Mrs. Herbert A. Barker was in charge of the entertainment and the April committee of the charitable association prepared and served the supper.

CONSTIPATION OR COMFORT?

There can be neither comfort nor good health where constipation exists. Most people suffer from this cause at intervals, many are chronic victims.

The old-time remedies for this very common complaint are nauseating doses of some powerful purgatives that leave the condition worse than before.

In the new laxative, Pinklets, is presented a dainty, sugar-coated granule, that is free from unpleasant effects, does not upset the stomach nor gripe but simply gives nature the needed assistance. Once used Pinklets and you will never return to salts, oil and harsh purgatives. Write the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Secaucus, N. J., for a free sample, or get a full size 25-cent bottle of Pinklets from your own druggist.

THE U. S. NAVAL RESERVE

Sec. Daniels Sends Explanation to The Sun as to Scope of Act Just Passed by Congress

In reply to a letter of inquiry from The Sun, Secretary Daniels of the navy department sends the following reply and a statement explaining the scope of the new naval reserve bill in which many Lowell young men are interested:

March 29, 1915.
Editor, The Lowell Sun,
Lowell, Mass.

My dear Sir:
Replying to your letter of the 24th instant, requesting information as to the recent naval reserve act passed by congress, the department takes pleasure in enclosing for your information a copy of the naval reserve act and circular letter which is being sent out to all honorably discharged naval men who have been out of the service for a period less than eight years, and would appreciate any assistance you may lend in helping to bring this important legislation before the public in your section of the country.

Very truly yours,
Joseph M. Daniels,
Secretary of the Navy.

Washington, D. C.,
March 14, 1915.

Sir:—There is forwarded herewith for your information a copy of the act of congress, approved March 2, 1915, creating a naval reserve of honorably discharged men, and authorizing graded pay according to length of service in the navy to men who elect to join the reserve.

This act contains features of much interest and importance to you, and deserves a careful reading. It was intended not only to create a naval reserve of honorably discharged experienced men but also to increase the efficiency of the regular service by offering substantial inducements to experienced men now in the navy to remain for longer periods and to ex-navy men in civil life to reenter the navy and, by so doing, have their previous service counted in determining the amount of gratuity pay they will receive when they join the reserve at some future date. This feature deserves your careful consideration as well as prompt conclusion in the matter as the navy quota is now almost full and enlistments will soon have to be suspended in order not to exceed the number allowed by law. A waiting list to all vacancies as they occur will have to be established at an early date. The bureau naturally prefers to fill vacancies by enlisting ex-service men rather than recruits and therefore, offers you this opportunity.

Consider first whether you wish to re-enlist in the navy and have your previous service counted for gratuity pay when you join the reserve at some future time. If you have been out of the navy less than 8 years and are less than 35 years of age and physically sound you are eligible to re-enlist in the regular service.

If you decide not to reenter the regular service, the advantages you will have by joining the naval reserve and having your name on an honor roll of the country, virtually established by an act of congress because the law allows only honorably discharged men to join the reserve.

There will be organizations of the reserve in every community where there are ex-navy members. They will be required to report at a designated place in their own community once each quarter for muster and inspection and to sign pay roll. Failure to so report will cause forfeiture of pay. Calling them into active service on board ship for drills and exercises is optional with the department, so called they will receive travel and subsistence and full pay of their ratings.

It is the intention, in this regard, to ascertain and suit the convenience of the men as far as practicable as to the time of such active service, as is done in the case of the naval militia.

Due consideration will be given to the occupation of the man and its requirement of his service and note the following:

(1) You must be a citizen of the United States.

(2) Your last discharge must have been honorable to enable you to join the reserve.

(3) If you decide to join the reserve within four months from date of discharge your pay will be $30 per annum. If you have served four years in the navy or for a minority enlistment $60 if you have served eight years, and $100 if you have served 12 years.

(4) If you serve 16 or 20 years in the navy you can be virtually retired on one-third or one-half of pay.

(5) If you re-enlist in the navy your previous service will count to give you these advantages.

As you know, men usually get to be chief petty officers before they have 16 or 20 years' service, and their pay in the reserve would run from $35 to $50 or more per month.

(6) If you join the reserve after four months and within eight years from date of discharge your pay will be $12 per annum, and you will get an outfit or uniform when first called into active service. You can, however, increase this pay by serving another enlistment in the navy and then applying to the reserve within four months from date of expiration of such enlistment. In this connection remember that all your previous naval service counts in figuring out the pay you will receive.

(7) Men in the reserve will be given a distinctive badge or button indicating their membership in the reserve as well as their honorable service in the navy.

(8) When called into active service you will get the full pay of your rating as well as travel allowance and subsistence.

After a careful consideration of this matter, act promptly. Go to a recruiting ship or a recruiting station, re-enlist in the navy or enlist in the reserve. At any rate fill out the enclosed card and mail to the bureau in order that a place may be saved for you in the quota allowed by law.

If you know the whereabouts of other ex-service men the bureau would thank you to communicate with them on this subject or send their addresses.

It is important to all concerned that they should know the opportunities which congress has so liberally provided for them.

Respectfully,

Victor Blue,
Chief of Bureau.

Establishing Naval Reserve

There is hereby established a United States naval reserve which shall consist of citizens of the United States who have been or may be entitled to be honorably discharged from the navy after not less than one four-year term of enlistment or after a term of enlistment during minority. The naval reserve shall be organized under the bureau of navigation and shall be governed by the articles for the government of the navy and by the naval regulations and instructions. Whenever actively employed with the navy or whenever employed in authorized travel to and from prescribed active duty with the navy, members shall be employed as members of the naval reserve and shall while so employed be held and considered to be in all respects in the same status as enlisted men of the navy on active duty, except that they shall not be advanced in rating in time of peace. When not actively employed with the navy, members of the naval reserve shall not be entitled to any pay, bounty, gratuity, or pension except the pay expressly provided for members of the naval reserve by the provisions of this act, nor shall be entitled to retirement by reason of such service in the naval reserve.

Enlistments in the naval reserve shall be made in the rating in which last honorably discharged from the navy for a period of four years unless sooner discharged by competent authority. No man shall be first enlisted in the naval reserve after eight years from the date of his last discharge from the navy, nor unless he be found to be physically fit to perform the duties of the rating in which last discharged, nor shall any man whose last service in the navy was terminated by any means other than by an honorable discharge be eligible for enlistment in the naval reserve. Reenlistment in the naval reserve shall be made under such regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy.

Enlistments in the naval reserve shall be made in two classes. Class one shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve within four months from the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy. Class two shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve after four months and within eight years from the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy.

In addition to the enlistments in the naval reserve above provided, the secretary of the navy is authorized to transfer to the naval reserve at the expiration of an enlistment any enlisted man of the navy who may, after two years from the date of approval of this act complete service in the navy of sixteen or twenty or more years and be entitled at the expiration of his enlistment to an honorable discharge. Such transfers shall only be made upon voluntary application and in the rating in which then serving, and the men so transferred shall be continued in the naval reserve until discharged by competent authority.

Members of the naval reserve of class one and men transferred to the naval reserve shall be required to keep on hand such part of the uniform clothing outfit as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy, and all members of the naval reserve shall be issued a distinctive badge or button which may be worn with civilian dress. Members of class one who have served less than eight years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $30 per annum, and those who have served eight or more years and less than twelve years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $60 per annum, and those who have served twelve or more years in the navy, $100 per annum. All members of the naval reserve of class two shall be paid at the rate of $12 per annum, and when first called into active service on board a vessel of the navy shall receive an allowance for an outfit of clothing not exceeding $30 in value, to be expended under regulations prescribed by the secretary of the navy.

Members of the naval reserve who have, when transferred to the naval reserve, completed service in the navy of sixteen, or twenty or more years shall be paid at the rate of one-third and one-half, respectively, of the base pay, plus permanent additions thereto, which they were receiving at the close of their last service in the navy.

Members of the naval reserve may, in time of peace be required to perform not less than one month's active service on board a vessel of the navy, during each year of service in the naval reserve and such active service shall not exceed two months in any one year. Provided, that the afore-said active service with the navy may be required to perform active service with the navy throughout the war, not to exceed the term of enlistment in the naval reserve.

Those members of the naval reserve who have been transferred to the naval reserve, who re-enlist in the navy within four months from the date of their discharge from the naval reserve, shall not be entitled to a gratuity of four months' pay, but their re-enlistment in the navy shall be held and considered to have been made within four months from the date of discharge from the navy for the purpose of continuous-service pay. The period of time during which members of the naval reserve were actively employed with the navy while enlisted in the naval reserve shall, for the purpose of retirement, be counted as active service in the navy in the case of those who re-enlist in the navy after service in the naval reserve.

RECEPTION AT Y. W. C. A.

Farwell Party to Miss Bontelle Who Goes to Take Up the Work at Canton, China

Miss Harriet L. Bontelle, who recently resigned from the local Y. W. C. A. to accept a position as general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Canton, China, was tendered a reception at the Young Women's Christian Association last evening. The affair was held in Kilton hall and about 200 friends of the popular young secretary assembled to wish her success and happiness in her new field. The board of directors and girls of the association presented Miss Bontelle a black leather suit, case and a purse of money. Refreshments were served and music was furnished by the Glee Club.

Miss Bontelle leaves Lowell on Saturday of this week for her home in Chelsea. From there she will go to San Francisco and thence to China.

Quickly Stops Sourness, Acidity, Belching, Bloating, Stomach Pains, Etc., and Makes Digestion Easy

Most folks who after eating experience a sour burning sensation in the stomach and are troubled with gas, bloating or a heavy lumpy feeling call it indigestion and take a peppermint or something of the kind to help the stomach digest the food and push it into the intestines.

In most cases these people have what physicians call an acid stomach. Their stomachs secrete too much hydrochloric acid which mixes with their food so that it ferments and sours and makes them uncomfortable. Instead of using something to artificially push this sour acid mass into the intestines where it will do almost as much harm as in the stomach they need a simple, safe and quick remedy which harmlessly neutralizes the acid in their stomach and make its food contents sweet. Then digestion becomes natural and painless and the disagreeable symptoms of heartburn, burning gas, belching, bloating, etc. all vanish. Ordinary Bismuth Magnesia which can be obtained at any drug store, is excellent for this purpose but should always be bought in sealed bottles to insure its purity and full strength, either tablet or powder form. And be sure that it is BISMUTH MAGNESIA—not just plain or diluted magnesia which are not good for this purpose. One to two teaspoonfuls of Bismuth Magnesia in a little water taken after meals will neutralize all the excess acid in your stomach and prevent or stop all stomach distress.

OUR STREET FLAWS

Last Monday evening what might have been a sensational accident was averted in this city only through the coolness and bravery of a driver for the fire department. A fine motor combination truck proceeding to a fire and going at a good rate of speed suddenly swerved on the Moody street bridge and was stopped only a few feet from the bridge railing. Had the driver lost his nerve, the heavy piece of apparatus with the seven firemen aboard would undoubtedly have plunged to the river bed, thirty feet or more below. That the accident was avoided so narrowly is a cause for deep and thoughtful congratulation.

There is another feature of the incident, however, which should be considered: What was the cause of the accident? The direct cause was the snapping of an axle, but the indirect and real cause was apparently the bad condition of the street at the junction of Moody and Merrimack streets. Many automobilists and drivers of other vehicles have complained of the cradle holes that are to be found there in abundance, and traffic will be menaced at that point until the street is repaired. Had the great auto plunged through the bridge railing and carried its occupants to death on the rocks, there would be a public outcry that would not easily be still, but in this as in everything else, prevention is best. In this one instance is food for thought for our officials, and the frequent warnings of The Sun have been justified. Yet, the condition at Moody street is only typical of conditions in all parts of the city.

The hearing at city hall Tuesday evening also served to call attention strikingly to our myriad street imperfections. Some of the gentlemen who were there to protest against the expenditure of $3000 for a military celebration July 4 said pertinently that when driving through the streets they came across many "depressions" and "elevations" that might be eliminated by the expenditure of the amount to be blown in for a holiday show. Any Lowell driver will support them in this statement.

Not for a long time have there been better or stronger arguments for the permanent repair gang or gangs that The Sun has long advocated and that the mayor referred to in his last inaugural. We should have such a gang, working independently of the larger street force and attending to the small defects that multiply so rapidly and that get so serious when neglected. At the present time all the minor defects in a street must apparently wait until the entire street is reconstructed, but this is not so in other cities. Anybody who takes trips along the fine state boulevards that run by the beaches may see little groups here and there all through the summer filling up holes and depressions and putting a binder on top so that the streets and roads are kept in permanent repair. The Lowell neglect is a costly one in the end, and we have seen in the auto accident referred to above that it is extremely dangerous. We will be lucky indeed if our shortcomings are not brought home to us in some regrettable tragic occurrence.

Another point, in relation to this same matter, merits close attention. Since the advent of the heavy motor trucks which have replaced the horse drawn vehicles, it is plain that much of our street surface is not able to stand the wear and tear. The horse traffic had a tendency to beat down the macadam surface, but the wheels of the auto trucks make ruts and holes that are enlarged and spread by the daily traffic. To meet this, our street department must plan for a system of street construction that will withstand the abuse of modern heavy automobile traffic. The lack of some substantial street paving is undoubtedly responsible for many of the flaws which have been brought to public attention recently.

There is nothing theoretical about Lowell street conditions. We are face to face with practical problems that call for practical solution. It is high time that the city maintained permanent repair gangs and paved the streets to meet modern requirements. The question is by no means a simple one, but it is one that must be met sooner or later, and the sooner the better.

WHAT IS UNEMPLOYMENT?

For some time past there has undoubtedly been a great deal of unemployment and general distress throughout the country, due to the effects of the war on the industries of our great centres, but some things that are now being exploited in the press under the name of "unemployment" look decidedly strange. Even conservative Boston has been giving columns daily to stories of the "unemployed" and the "jobless," and there are features of the agitation that seem to call for close investigation, if future danger is to be averted.

In Boston—and in other cities—certain wordy and windy agitators who masquerade as the friend of the down-trodden have organized bands of so-called "unemployed" and collected them in buildings dubbed "Hotel de Jobless" or something of the sort. Every day these leaders manage to stage some spectacular incident or group of incidents and in consequence the movements they represent are getting a great deal of publicity. Occasionally some condition is revealed which seems worthy, but many aspects of the agitation look like social disturbances of other days, backed by men with most sinister motives. The wolves that wear sheep's clothing so effectively may have found a convenient mantle in the term "unemployed" and it is for Boston and all cities to find out the truth before more harm is done.

It is for all individuals and cities that are confronted with demand in the name of the unemployed to ascertain if the jobless are out of work because of no fault of theirs or if they are opposed to work on general principles. Even when prosperity is at a high pitch, it would be possible to find scores of unemployed in all cities, but with them the condition is chronic. Shrewd agitators with an ax to grind would find it very easy to fill bonds with gentlemen of this ilk, but the charitable should not be imposed upon. When a short time ago many followers of another "unemployed" movement in Boston were offered jobs on farms, the same quickly disbanded. When self-selected leaders speak of "unemployment" it might be well for all to ascertain the brand of unemployment they represent.

POLICE OFFICERS' LIVES

The shooting of police officials while in the discharge of their duties is growing alarmingly frequent, and something should be done to prevent it. In most instances the crime is committed by thieves who are discovered in the act and who prefer to take a chance at murder rather than fall into the hands of the law for robbery. Some little while ago a noted criminal who was dining in a Boston cafe was approached by the late Inspector Norton, who quietly told him that he was under arrest. The criminal pulled a revolver and shot the inspector dead. A few days ago, Police Officer Corcoran discovered a thief in the act of holding up the employee of a Boston saloon. Corcoran approached, gun in hand, and asked the robber to surrender. The answer was a volley from the robber's gun, and Police Officer Corcoran lies in a hospital between life and death, with little hope of recovery.

If it comes to point where a criminal will shoot, the police official should shoot first. In the general run of things the man who goes into a store to rob a safe, or who enters a private residence for a haul of jewels or plate is armed to murder, and anybody who strives to stop him takes his life in his hand. Had Norton and Corcoran shot before their assailants had an opportunity to use a gun, society would be the gainer, and probably criminals would not find so much encouragement in the daily papers. When it is a choice between the life of a thief and the life of a protector of the public, let the life of the thief be sacrificed. The best way to speak to rabid criminals is through the barrel of a revolver, well aimed, and the bullet may prove a strong argument against crime.

CONTEMPTIBLE PLAGIARISM

Our New Universities Dictionary defines a plagiarist as "one who steals from the writings of another and passes them off as his own production; literary theft." A species known to newspaper editors is the unscrupulous individual who copies the poem of some standard author and palms it off on unsuspecting editors as his own. Luckily there are not many such, but there are enough to keep every editor on his guard, more or less. The dishonest plagiarist does not find it difficult in some cases to gratify his love of ambition and occasionally he is able to strut about in his borrowed plumage—a living example of the depths to which vanity may lead when linked with ignorance. Some years ago Lowell was temporarily burdened with a plagiarist who appropriated many titles and degrees from foreign colleges and for a time imposed on the credulous. Growing bolder as his success increased, he finally laid claim to some literary jewels of Tom Moore and incidentally attracted so much unwelcome attention that he found it convenient to leave town. The offense of literary theft as practised by this erratic character and others more recently is a contemptible form of petty deception that is unreservedly condemned by all decent men—in newspaper offices and everywhere else.

A breakdown is all right on a fiddle but not on an automobile.

SAFETY FIRST IDEA Here is an exemplification of the "safety first" idea as noted in a local restaurant. A man entered—a fine appearing man, immaculate in attire, though not with any flashiness of display, by the way—and going to the stand whereon were the glasses and the water bottle inverted in its receptacle took a paper napkin, carefully wiped the glass inside and out, then placed the glass a couple of times in the water, inside and out, with another paper napkin wiped his own lips and then took his drink of the water, which, it may be remarked, incidentally, he did not try to wipe with the napkin.

LAND FISHING Rep. Vollmer, answering at a Washington luncheon an attack against his armament exportation bill, said: "These men misunderstood my bill. They misunderstood it as completely as the young lady misunderstood the lasso. A young lady, pointing to the lasso coiled on his pommel, said to a cowboy: 'What is that line for?' 'To catch steers and horses, ma'am,' the cowboy answered. 'And the young lady, looking rather astonished, 'And what bait do you use?'"

AT HAMPTON BEACH There will be many changes at Hampton beach during the coming season, it is said, it being contemplated to extend the breakwater along the beach front, as a bill has been passed by the New Hampshire legislature, appropriating $5000 for the purpose. In addition to the $2500 appropriated by the town of Hampton, it is the intention to extend the breakwater, which also serves as a promenade along the shore each year until it will reach from White Rock Island to Great Neck's Head. The Hampton Beach Improvement society there will be 150 new cottages erected this season. This week the Goldstein Brothers, who have recently purchased the property, will commence on their new theatre. Among the new features at the beach this summer will be a roller coaster, which will be constructed in the rear of the casino and near the baseball grounds.

FOR EVERY SUFFERER FROM CONSTIPATION

Rheumal salts Insures Quick and Safe Relief

The safest, most pleasant and quickest way to relieve constipation and all the misery and ills that go with it, is to dissolve a little Rheumal salts in water and drink it while it is effervescing. Rheumal salts is a scientifically blended and chemically pure carbonated lithia drink that cleans out the stomach and intestines, eliminates toxins and poisons and leaves the intestinal canal clean and sweet. If you are bothered with constipation, headaches, yellow skin, coated tongue, bad breath, indigestion, biliousness, neuralgia or rheumatism, then you need Rheumal salts. Fine for both adults and infants. It is a uric acid solvent as well as a saline laxative. Instead of "doping" yourself with drug-forming, heart-depressing "laxative" pills and tablets, take Rheumal salts. It is delicious to the taste and acts quickly without griping or nausea. Rheumal salts is as pure as the natural laxative salts from the Mineral Springs. The next time you need a laxative, ask your druggist for about five ounces of Rheumal salts. If he hasn't the original Rheumal salts, write to the Rheumal salts Company, Minneapolis, Minn., who will be glad to see that you are supplied.

THE CHILD MIND

In his recent address before the Teachers' organization of this city, Superintendent Dyer of the Boston schools gave expression to several novel but sensible views that should be thought over and discussed by the parents and teachers of Lowell. He wisely condemned the old-time school severity that Dickens loved to expose and the contrary spirit of idealism that for a time threatened our school system—the spirit that acted on the supposition that the child can do no wrong. It is the opinion of Mr. Dyer that the normal child is neither good nor bad but may be made either, to a large extent, by education and environment. He regards the school pupil as a bundle of impulses, some good and some bad, and he thinks the primary aim of the teacher should be to cultivate the good and discourage the bad. To this end he advises closer study of the tendencies of children at various ages, and says that their training should be in accordance with their capacity and leanings. He differentiates between the kindergarten stage, the habit-forming stage, and the stage when the child begins to be swayed by reason and high ideals and says that any educational system cannot ignore the different periods if it would be fully successful.

DOCTOR SCORES AGAIN

"Not long ago," said a Washington lawyer, "I attended a trial in Baltimore, during the course of which there was summoned as a witness a youthful physician. It was natural, of course, that counsel for the other side should, in cross-examination, seize the occasion to utter certain sarcastic remarks touching the knowledge and skill of so young a doctor. 'Are you,' demanded the lawyer, 'entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?' 'Yes, sir,' 'Then,' continued the lawyer, 'I should like to ask your opinion of a hypothetical case. I was my learned friend, Mr. Reed, and myself to hang our heads together, should we get concussion of the brain?' 'Mr. Reed might,' smiled the youthful physician."

TWO CLUBS The man who had been keeping his seat in a closely packed car spoke at last to the young woman who had been eying him intently for five minutes or more. "I know I ought to get up and let you have my seat, madam," he said, "but I'm pledged against that sort of thing. I have just joined the 'Six Still Club,' an organization we have formed in our part of the town, and if I should violate the solemn obligation I took when I became a member of that body, I should be expelled and held up to the execration of all the other members."

"That's all right, sir," replied the young woman. "You mustn't mind my looking at you. I'm a member of the 'Stand and Stare Club.'" After which she continued to stand and stare at him—Exchange.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effect. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the teeth. It is a strong liquid. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that icky feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the system and how they "perk up" the spirits. At the 25c and 50c per box. All druggists. IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the Quickest and Surest Stomach Relief

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent tins of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspepsia, troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the toilet with a healthy appetite, but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation. This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, flatulency, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

your wardrobe From Rio Janeiro to Rome: The whole world is clad in the clothes that you had— Now think of the fellow at home. Don't give for the pride of the glivink; This isn't a charity call. The fellow whose need you are going to help, need. Is your brother, your neighbor, that's all. He is here at your door with his life in peril. He isn't in Poland or Nome, And the woes he endures are your city's and yours. So share with the fellow at home. —Selected Industry council, 1722, Royal Arcanum, met last evening in Odd Fellows hall with Regent Harry J. Chase presiding and transacted much business of an important nature. Communications from the grand council were read, containing instructions to representatives who are to attend the grand council session at the New American house, Boston, April 22-23. The committee in charge of holding what tournament reports that Lowell council, No. 5, was winner of the trophy. Industry council losing by five points. Under the head of new business, it was voted to conduct a whist tournament in aid of the hospital association. Remarks were made by Past Regents Alex. B. Rountree, James E. Gorman and J. W. Sharkey. At the conclusion of the business session, the evening was turned over to the following committee in charge of ladies' night: Thomas Wilson, John McKinnel, Harvey J. Chase, George H. Desrochers, George L. Stafford, R. T. Mower, A. E. Rountree, Harold Meehan, Alex. McCartney and James McKenna.

An interesting program was carried out with piano solos by Harold Meehan and Miss Wilson and songs by Miss Wrenn and James E. Gorman. Tables were arranged for whist and the tournament resulted as follows: First lady's prize, umbrella. Miss Anne Bryant; second lady's prize, umbrella. Mrs. A. T. Simpson; first gentleman's prize, shawl; second, Arthur P. Jordan; second gentleman's prize, five pound jar of tobacco, John J. Gookin. I. O. O. F.

Arrangements are being made for a series of whist, auction, pitch, forty-fives and domino tournaments to be held between Loyal Integrity and Loyal Wamsley lodges, I. O. O. F., M. U. At a meeting of special committees last evening it was announced that 12 men would represent each lodge. Admiral Farragut Camp

The handsome silk banner offered to the camp which secured the largest number of new members in the state during the three months ending March 31 was won by Admiral Farragut camp, Sons of Veterans. The banner bears the state seal and was presented by Frank J. Donohue, the retiring division commander. Admiral Farragut camp secured 54 new members during the campaign and now is the largest in the state. On May 23rd the camp will celebrate its 24th anniversary and it is expected that more new members will have joined the ranks by that time.

BRITISH-AMERICAN CLUB The following officers of the British-American club were elected at a meeting held last evening in post 120 hall with President Neil Waters in the chair: William A. Clark, reading and William Harrison, assistant secretary and Joseph M. Dawson, banjo selections. The banquet of the evening was Miss Margaret Breckenridge.

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR BY GWEN SEARS THE BEAUTY OF THE EYEBROWS When milady sets out with assiduous vehemence to transform herself into a rare beauty by the aid of cosmetics and other secrets, founded sometimes on facts and sometimes on fancies, she little realizes the importance of the eyebrows and lashes. Not knowing that they contribute much to the expression of her face. Scraggly or coarse, bushy eyebrows suggest a careless, ill-tempered disposition, while well-arched, graceful brows will create the impression that you are amiable and trustworthy. The brows should be brushed often, always in the direction in which the hair grows, if you would possess well-groomed eyebrows. The perfect brow is wide toward the nose, beautifully arched and tapers off to a sharp point. The hair should grow short and thick, but not coarse, and it should lie flat against the forehead. The eyelashes may be made to grow if clipped once a month. This should be carefully done, however, or they will become coarse. It is best to ask some one to do the clipping for you. Each hair that appears bent, split or out of condition is clipped at the end. Cutting the lashes in a straight line is inexcusable, as it would only insure coarse, stubby lashes. Be sure that your eyelids are in a healthy condition, for often this is the cause of unattractive lashes.

An investigation of the moving picture houses of Lowell has recently been conducted by a committee of the Middlesex Women's club and the committee has appealed to the mayor to have the pictures more strictly censored.

The committee's letter to the mayor is not filled with compliments for the police. The committee states that in some theatres members of the committee were obliged to vacate their seats to avoid insult from men sitting next them and the committee believes there is grave danger menacing the children and youth of the city unless something is done to correct conditions. The committee declares that its investigation discloses only too clearly that a large percentage of the pictures shown appeal to the vulgar and debasing side of life and they ask the mayor to do something toward the enforcement of adequate laws governing police supervision.

The mayor doesn't think he can do anything about it. He says that the license commission of Lowell might step in and decide to withdraw a theatre license unless a certain picture were withdrawn. Then the mayor had another think and the happy thought came to him that he might "threaten" not to grant a permit for a Sunday exhibition unless certain pictures were withdrawn. "Just what I shall do," said the mayor, "I cannot say."

Club's Letter to Mayor
The following is a copy of the special committee's communication to the mayor:

141 Parkview Ave.,
April 6, 1915.

Mayor Dennis J. Murphy.

Dear Sir—An investigation of the moving picture houses in Lowell has recently been conducted by a committee of the Middlesex Women's club. Beginning Jan. 15, the investigation covered a period of six weeks. During that time each theatre was visited six times by at least six different members of the committee.

This investigation was carried on under the direction of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, with a view to influencing legislation in the regulation of the exhibition of moving picture films in Massachusetts.

Knowing your interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of our city, the Middlesex Women's club submits the following report of its work:

Number of visits made.....72
Number of films examined.....274
Classification:
Good.....88
Fair.....109
Objectionable.....86

Films Objectionable
An examination of these figures shows that 32 per cent. of the films were classed as objectionable, in that they either pictured scenes that were immoral or obscene, presented vice as attractive, were grossly offensive to good taste or instructed in the methods of crime.

Many of the theatres are badly ventilated, lack ushers and police supervision, and are too dark. In two cases members of the committee were obliged to vacate their seats to avoid insult in the darkness by strange men sitting next to them.

As recorded in 35 visits, 2397 minors under 14 years of age were noted. There is grave danger menacing our children and youth of the present day in Lowell if so large a percentage of the moving picture films continue to appeal to the unnatural, sensational, coarse, vulgar and debasing side of life, as evidenced only too clearly by the present investigation.

Mayor Asked to Act
In view of these facts, the Middlesex Women's club recommends a strict censorship of all films shown in Lowell, by a competent official appointed by the mayor; also the enforcement of adequate laws governing police supervision, ventilation and lighting of the theatres.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. HARRY STOCKS, Chairman
MRS. CHARLES M. WILLIAMS
MRS. ALVAH H. STURGES
MRS. HENRY A. SMITH

UMPIRES FOR FIRST GAMES

CHICAGO, April 8.—President Johnson of the American League yesterday announced the assignment of the umpires in his circuit for the opening games on April 14, as follows:
Dineen and Nallin at St. Louis.
O'Loughlin and Hildebrand at Detroit.
Evans and Mullane at Washington.
Connolly and Chitt at Philadelphia.
Nallin and Mullane are new men on the umpiring staff, the former having officiated last year in the International league, while Mullane worked in the Texas circuit and also in the International and Eastern leagues.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE:
"When We Were 21" begins a three days engagement at the Lowell Opera house this afternoon, with William Elliott in the leading role. The production is from the Paramount studio and that is the best guarantee possible as to its quality. William Elliott, one of the best known actors appearing before the camera today, is his best in "When We Were 21," and his supporting company is fully up to the Paramount standard.

The Opera House has come to be recognized as the house of refined picture entertainment. It retains today the reputation built up by years of competent management, and Lowell people are constantly showing their appreciation of the efforts of the present management to provide high class entertainment. The management appreciates what is being done by the Middlesex Women's club of this city to standardize screen productions and feels that its movement must have the most satisfactory results. The Opera house has contributed its full measure to the work since its resurrection several weeks ago, and there can be no question as to the endorsement of Lowell people. Constantly increasing crowds attest the appreciation of Lowell.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The Six Water Lilies, who headline the bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, give the most varied exhibition of swimming and diving ever put on a local stage. Collectively it is doubtful if any more accomplished group of water mals has ever been brought together. While no individual star is featured, it is only proper to remark that Nora Leahy, the long distance swimmer and fancy high diver, shows up right prominently more than any of the others. Miss Leahy is a physical marvel, although none of the "lilies" is in anything but the best trim possible. A friendly amateur diving contest will be put on in connection with this act, and prizes of gold will be awarded to the winners. The remainder of the bill is up to the high standard set by the management this year. James Kyle MacCurdy & Co. will give the engrossing playlet, "Ten at the Old Rectory Bonnet," and Alice May Barker, a youthful violinist, will surprise with her wonderful knowledge of her chosen instrument. Other acts are: Varieties & Belt, Billy Davis, Ray Dooley, Trio, Spencer & Brown and the Heart-Set. Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE
If there is any funnier play than "Baby Mine," the offering this week by the Merrimack Square Theatre Stock Co., then it isn't in the remembrance of any present day players for any one who has yet seen it (and capacity audiences have been the rule this week) declares it to be far the best comedy ever seen. You'll see the same thing, too, after you've laughed for a solid two hours at this riot of action and complications. All the different members in the cast are exceptionally good in their respective roles and the result is certainly pleasing.

The coming Sunday, April 11, for two performances, the Williamson Expedition of Submarine motion pictures will be presented. This attraction comes to us direct from its Boston theatre run where it achieved a phenomenal success and will be given at 10 and 20 cents. Matinee at three, evening at 5.15. Next week's attraction is announced as being Augusta Evans, Williamson's famous play, "The Man From the Mountain," with St. Elmo, with Sam A. McHenry in the title role.

THE OVE THEATRE

The old-time crowds and the old-time popularity are apparent after the first night of the Ove theatre. The house was crowded, and the evening. Today's feature is a strong drama, telling of a woman's sacrifice. "What a Woman Will Do" is an exceptional feature. The other photographs are excellent, each production being from the best makers. "The Man From the Mountain" holds a special place on the program.

DANCED AT LINCOLN HALL

The Koocheekawans held their annual dance in Lincoln hall last evening. The affair was largely attended and all present spent a pleasant evening. Miner's orchestra was in attendance and the following officers were in charge of the event: General manager, Andrew W. Hunter; assistant general manager, Percy U. Pepler; door director, Jack A. Dow; chief aid, Paul E. Goward; assistant chief aids, Orrin L. Mackenzie and Alfred J. Healey; treasurer, Percy L. Donnellon. The matron's corner was presided over by Mrs. William F. Elvin.

DANCED WITH GREELEY

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 8.—Mrs.

Elizabeth Mills Moses, widow of Capt.

Edward Moses, U. S. N., died suddenly yesterday at the home of Mrs. William

R. Weston on Cabot street.

She led the grand march at the ball on Feb. 14, 1912, in Park theatre, New York, on the author's first visit to America. Miss Mills attended the ball with Horatio Bartlett, then editor of the New York Sun.

Mr. Bartlett introduced Dickens to her and the author asked her to be his partner in the grand march. She also danced that evening with Horace Greeley.

In 1843 she married Capt. Moses then in the merchant marine, who in 1862 became a captain in the navy, serving under Admiral Dupont. Capt. and Mrs. Moses came to this city in 1863 and Mrs. Moses has since lived here. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. Augusta Arnold of this city and Mrs. Lizzie Mills of New York, also one sister, Miss Emma Mills of New York.

Malden High Beaten in Fast 2-1 Contest Yesterday

PITCHER STURTEVANT Who Allowed Malden High But Two Hits Yesterday

A timely smash by Capt. O'Brien in the last half of the ninth inning sent over the winning run yesterday afternoon in the first ball game of the season in this city when Lowell Textile bumped Malden high in a hard fought 2-1 contest at Textile field.

It was a good game all the way through considering the early season unpreparedness of both squads. Textile committed but one error while Malden made three misplays, but on several occasions a suspicion of ivory was apparent especially with the local boys.

Both teams scored in the third inning. After fanning the first batter to face him, Sturtevant walked Fowler. A Texas leaguer to centre field allowed him to go around to third. A perfectly worked squeeze play with Fowler at bat then followed. A long fly to Hart ended Malden's scoring.

Textile was not to be denied in her half. With two out, Gunning reached first when his ribs obstructed one of Flanders' fast ones. Sturtevant was backed, putting Gunning on second. Baker, the classy first sacker of the local team, then came through in a pinch and scored Gunning with a pound over third. Sturtevant went out trying to score on the smash.

This ended the scoring until the latter half of the ninth. Sturtevant swung his club against a fast one and was returned to second before the horseshoe was returned to the infield. Cap O'Brien then proceeded to break up the game with a line drive to centre which easily scored Sturtevant.

Sturtevant pitched gilt edge ball for Textile despite the rather frigid weather. Only two hits were gathered off his delivery and he allowed but three passes. Baker, O'Brien, Hart and DeSa also featured. The score:

MAYOR ELECT THOMPSON OF CHICAGO STRONG FOR ALL KINDS OF CLEAN ATHLETIC SPORTS

CHICAGO, April 8.—William Hale Thompson, mayor-elect of Chicago, favors boxing for Chicago and Illinois.

If the sport is properly conducted and regulated, he asserted today. He indicated, however, that he intends to leave the question of whether this city is to have the glove sport with the state legislators. A bill to legalize the sport has been introduced at Springfield.

"I am strong for all kinds of clean athletic sports and that includes boxing," the mayor-elect said. "Boxing in Chicago would be great if we could have it governed under laws which prevail in New York and Wisconsin."

CITY BOWLING LEAGUE

Tuesday night's games in the City Bowling League saw the White Ways, the league leaders, get a setback, losing four points from the quintet from Carr's caused chiefly by remarkable bowling by the club.

The race for second place is still close between the Crescents, Rowlaways, and Carr's with the former team as the favorite. Martel still leads all individual bowlers.

Although Gordon who has only bowled two games has an average of 105.5. The standing of the teams and individual bowlers is as follows:

Gordon	106.5	Martel	103.59
Martel	103.59	Kempson	101.43
Kempson	101.43	Conannon	100.83
Conannon	100.83	Dwyer	100.53

Had Been Ill and Acting Queerly — Sketch of His Career in Business

Horace S. Bacon, one of Lowell's most prominent citizens, committed suicide in his home at 107 Stevens street at 6 o'clock this morning by shooting himself in the head with a rifle which stood in the corner of the room. Physicians were summoned immediately following the shooting but nothing could be done as death was instantaneous.

Mr. Bacon had been suffering from melancholia for several weeks and was under the care of two physicians. For the past two weeks or so he was more or less despondent on account of his illness and at times, it is said, he acted queerly. This morning he followed a night during which he had gained little rest as his illness seemed to affect his mind and he could not get relief.

Shortly before the suicide Mr. and Mrs. Bacon had been in the room together. The latter left the room for a moment but hardly had she crossed the threshold when she heard the report of a rifle and upon turning around she discovered her husband lying on the floor with blood pouring from his forehead where the bullet had entered. Assistance was sent for but Mr. Bacon had passed away before anyone arrived.

Medical Examiner Melge was called to view the body. The result of his examination showed that deceased had been suffering from an illness which he feared could not be cured. He was 45 years of age.

Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Baldwin Bacon, and was born in this city in 1853. He was educated in the local public schools, graduating from the high school in 1877. He then went to Boston where he was assistant paymaster of the Norway Steel and Iron company for two years. In 1892 he was appointed commissioner of deeds and had an office at 61 Central street. At about this time he was graduated from the Harvard law school though he never practiced his profession to any extent.

After discontinuing his office downtown, Mr. Bacon spent his time in caring for his real estate until appointed register of deeds in 1900 to succeed the late Capt. Thompson. He became a candidate for the office but was defeated.

After the suicide Mr. Bacon was buried in the family vault at Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Mr. Bacon was a member of the Lowell Historical society, a former secretary of the Highland club and was connected with other organizations.

He is survived by a wife, Melvina M. Bacon, two sons, Horace S. and Stephen S.; one sister, Mrs. Walter E. Murk; and one niece, Miss Dorothy E. Lyman.

At the time of his death, Mr. Bacon was recorder of his commandery and also the M. V. master of St. Calvary, chapter of Rose Croix, and was actively engaged in elaborate preparations of the excommunication of the 15th degree and had brought through his individual efforts that degree of rite to a state unequalled in its history in Lowell. His loss to Free Masonry cannot be realized.

Besides being connected with the Masonic bodies, deceased was an active member of the Lowell Historical society; a son of the American Revolution, a former secretary of the Highland club and was connected with other organizations.

2,500,000 MEN LOST IN EIGHT MONTHS—$4,000,000 SPENT IN SIX MONTHS

ROME, April 8.—The nations now at war have lost 2,500,000 men in the first eight months of the conflict and spent $4,000,000,000 in the first six months, according to figures prepared for the Avanti, a socialist organ, by its military expert. The article declares the only result of the war will be reciprocal weariness out of the forces engaged and not a military victory. It is calculated that nine or ten months more will exhaust the reserves of men and that the country which will suffer least from this exhaustion will be Russia.

TWELVE WOMEN AND CHILDREN KILLED BY BOMBS DROPPED BY AUSTRINIANS

PARIS, April 8.—Twelve women and children were killed and 45 others injured by bombs dropped by Austrian aviators in the market place at Podgorica, Montenegro, yesterday afternoon, according to a Cetinje despatch to the Havas agency. Many buildings were destroyed by the missiles, seven of which were dropped from the aeroplane.

BRITISH STEAMER ISMAILA ARRIVED AT RIO JANEIRO TODAY

RIO JANEIRO, April 8.—The British steamer Ismaila came into Rio Janeiro today and no sooner had she dropped anchor than speculation was rife as to her real character. She has on board 146 passengers and the captain declares his destination is the Falkland Islands. Lack of coal compelled him to come in here. He declined any further explanation nor has it been possible to learn why such a large number of passengers are going to the Falklands.

British warships are still believed to be in Falkland waters and it is being said here that the Ismaila is a transport taking 146 officers and men to reinforce their crews.

WESTERN SIDE OF YPRES COMPLETELY FREED OF GERMAN HANDS BY BELGIANS

LONDON, April 8.—A telegram from the Belgian minister of war dated yesterday which reads as follows: "The western side of the Ypres canal in the direction of Drai Grachen has been completely freed of the enemy by Belgian troops. The Germans fled in disorder leaving behind them machine guns and ammunition."

"Today passed off quietly. The hostile artillery showed very little activity."

BERLIN REPORTS THAT FRENCH HAVE SUFFERED ENORMOUS LOSSES

BERLIN, April 8.—The German army headquarters today gave out a report on the progress of hostilities which reads as follows:

"The fighting between the Meuse and the Moselle continued today. French attacks resulted in failure in the Voivre district, on the heights of Sombres, near the forest of Sclauze, north of St. Mihiel in the Alilly forest, near the forest of Apremont, to the north of Flirey and in the forest of Le Pretre."

"French losses on the entire front again enormous without obtaining the slightest success."

"A French aviator from Paris, compelled to land, said nothing was known in the French capital about the French losses in the Champagne fighting."

"On the eastern front there have been no developments. The weather continues bad and the roads are impassable."

FRENCH WAR OFFICE ISSUES REPORT OF PROG.

PARIS, April 8.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the fighting as follows:

"In Belgium the day was marked by artillery engagements."

"In the valley of the Aisne and the district to the east of Rheims our forces in spite of the abnormally bad weather continued with great activity and we have maintained our gains between the Meuse and the Moselle in their entirety while at the same time we are proceeding to make further progress."

"In the Brule forest we captured a German trench at the same time taking a large number of prisoners on this section of the front. This was reported last night."

GERMAN SUBMARINE SUNK BY MERCHANTMAN FLYING A NEUTRAL FLAG

BERLIN, April 8.—The press of the capital is virtually unanimous in declaring the fact that the British admiralty has not made public the details of the sinking of the submarine U-9 looks "highly suspicious."

The Tages Zeitung says that although the British made their first report regarding the submarine on March 25 nothing has been given out as to the time, place or manner of its sinking. The paper believes this probably is because the methods employed by the British were reprehensible and adds: "We can imagine no other reason for this delay than that British vessels surprised the U-9 while it was rescuing the crew of a steamer."

Other papers make similar suggestions, including the surmise that the submarine was sunk by a merchantman flying a neutral flag.

AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT OPENS NEGOTIATIONS WITH TWO POWERS OF TRIPLE ENTENTE

TURIN, April 8.—The Gazzetta Del Popolo declares reports that Austria contemplates concluding peace with Russia in order better to defend herself against Italy are not so visionary as official communications issued at Vienna would indicate.

The correspondent of the paper at the Austrian capital professes to have obtained reliable information to the effect that the Austrian government has opened semi official pour parlers with two powers of the Triple Entente and he believes a dramatic surprise is possible.

$5,000 FIRE AT ADAMS COLLINS BLOCK, THREE STORY BRICK BUILDING DESTROYED—FOUR BANKS IN BUILDING

ADAMS, April 8.—The Collins block, a three story brick structure in the center of the town, was burned today by a fire that threatened the entire business district for a time. The loss will exceed $5000.

Among the tenants of the building were two national banks, a savings bank and a co-operative bank.

SALEM, April 8.—Frank Packard, retired brigadier-general of the Massachusetts Volunteer militia and one of the most widely known military men of New England, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 6 Dearborn street, in this city. He had been ill for many months and succumbed to diabetes.

HILL REGARDED AS DEAD

ALBANY, N. Y., April 8.—The state-wide prohibition bill today is regarded as dead in both houses. A week ago the assembly re-committed it and the senate refused to discontinue the committee from further consideration of it.

CITY HALL NEWS

to go with a new high school, Mayor Murphy said.

Numerous suggestions have been offered as to the erection of a new high school, and since Commissioner Putnam made the statement at a meeting of the municipal council that work on a new school would be begun this year he has received all kinds of suggestions in order the commissioner says that it is not the whole shooting match; that the matter will have to be voted by the city council and that the building of the school will be up to him.

Some of the men and women who have talked with Mr. Putnam favor separate schools for the boys and girls. Others are diametrically opposed to any such system of segregation and this is one of the questions that, in all probability, will be thrashed out at the conference to be held this evening.

Blowing Water Main

The Lowell board of trade has sent a letter to Commissioner James H. Carnahan asking that the city water mains be given a thorough blowing out and cleaning prior to the first use of the street sprinklers. It is thought that if the blowing out should be thus early done it would relieve the water users from some of their distress from turbid water.

Collection of Refuse

Arrangements have been made through the board of trade with the health department for the collection of refuse in a portion of Central street at the Bradley building twice a week instead of once and to have the barrels taken by the department from the alley in the rear of that building in order to prevent future accumulations of litter in the street.

In the past the barrels have been placed in Central street where the high winds and the blowing of the breeze have scattered the refuse all over the street. Under the new system this will not occur.

The board of trade suggested to the agent of the board of health that a man be stationed at each dump to burn the loose papers which have been blowing in all directions from the dumps littering adjoining property. Several complaints about this came to the attention of the board of trade.

Agent Bates said he would endeavor to keep the dumps free of the materials which could blow about.

Watering the Streets

Commissioner Morse admitted today that he was at his wits end as to what to do about street watering. He has no positive knowledge as to when the street car sprinklers will start and he says if they don't start pretty soon he will put out his horse drawn carts.

The carts could take care of the paved streets in a way, said Mr. Morse, "and I will oil the other streets."

Plenty of Street Work

Com. Morse made the statement today that a third more street work has been planned this year than for any previous year in the city's history.

He said that the city will start a sewer gang at work in Stevens street this morning. About 150 feet of sewer will be laid in Stevens street at a depth of about 12 feet.

Mr. Morse started two steam rollers in Wentworth avenue this morning and will start another in First street in a day or two. Another roller is in operation in Lawrence street beyond the railroad bridge. The commissioner says he has collected about all the cinders the corporations have to spare at the present time and these will be placed on First street.

He said that the cinders have been thoroughly rolled. The gravel applied to Wentworth avenue is being taken from the Pollard gravel bank at the corner of Clark road and Rogers street.

Tanner Street Sewer

Work on the Tanner street sewer is at a standstill. Mr. Morse has been in communication with the railroad authorities relative to the removal of coal pocket supports that are in the way.

"These supports," said Mr. Morse, "will have to be removed before we can go ahead with the work. I have talked ahead with the railroad authorities, but the

CAR LINES ARE TIED UP

Service Throughout Central and Western New York at Standstill as Result of Strike

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 8.—Passenger service on interurban electric lines throughout central and western New York was seriously interfered with today as a result of a strike ordered by the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railroad Employees because of the refusal of the Empire line to recognize the association as the representative union body of their employees.

In Auburn City not a car moved today, the Auburn and Syracuse electric line being entirely tied up. On the Syracuse and Lake Shore line cars were running but each carried a deputy sheriff and was accompanied by an automobile load of police officers. No cars of the South Bay line were running into this city and union officers claimed that half the men employed on this line had left their work.

The New York state railways has agreed not to permit the Empire line to run cars over its tracks in Syracuse, Rochester and other cities. This action was taken by the state railways to prevent a strike on its own city lines.

The Lake Shore, or Oswego division cars run into the city on the Empire's own tracks and they were not in operation this morning.

Strike leaders declared today they had the lines tied up from Syracuse to Buffalo.

A temporary injunction was granted today to the Empire United line, preventing the New York State Railways from preventing the cars of the former running over its tracks in the city of Rochester. The court order is returnable Saturday.

ANOTHER STRIKE

AUBURN, N. Y., April 8.—All street car traffic in Auburn is at a standstill following the declaration this morning of a sympathetic strike by the 120 local employees of the Auburn & Syracuse Electric Railway company, which operates all lines in and around Auburn. No effort will be made here to move a car for the present.

NO TROUBLE IN ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 8.—The strike declared on the lines of the Empire United railroads is not likely to cause any trouble in Rochester, according to officials of the New York State Railways and the Amalgamated Association of Employees. Officials of the association state that their request to the New York state railways to stop cars of the Rochester, Syracuse & Eastern and the Buffalo, Lockport & Eastern lines running over tracks in the city of Rochester has been acceded to.

road is so short on cash that it doesn't want to do anything unless it is absolutely obliged to. The sewer, of course, is all right for the present, but I want to get it out of the way. I have to do it this year and the quicker the better. I don't want to be bothered by the engineer is not in favor of it. The supports we want removed are directly in the way of where we would have to drive our sheathing and they must be removed before we can go ahead with the work. I am going to give the railroad people another call today."

Fixing the Flag

In response to a request by the memorial day committee flags will be displayed on all public buildings tomorrow, April 9, in observance of the 50th anniversary of the surrender of Lee's army at Appomattox, which marked, practically, the ending of the Civil war.

The request that the flag be displayed was made to the municipal council and the matter was turned over to the city messenger with instructions to make the display as general as possible. The buildings from which the flag will be displayed will include city hall, the schools, fire houses, rifle range and other buildings connected with the various departments at city hall.

Removal of Tree

A. T. Cates has petitioned the park board for the removal of a big elm tree at 215 Middlesex street. Mr. Cates says he wants to cut the tree down and that the tree is directly in the way. The park board has also heard from ten other citizens relative to the same tree. They protest very vigorously against the removal of it and allow that if Mr. Cates puts the street through that persons using the street can run into the other side of the tree. The park board will meet this evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Manual Training Rooms

Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, stated today that work was being pushed on the completion of the new manual rooms at the Green and Washington schools. These rooms are to be used for manual training and will be ready for use before the close of the present school term.

There were ten bodies of adults and 21 of children and the burial took place under the direction of the Undertakers Amelie-Archambault, St. Joseph, Albert and Napoleon Biledeau, Rev. Joseph Boiduc, O. M. I., recited the committal prayers at the graves.

SAM WALTER FOSS CLUB

The Sam Walter Foss club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pratt, 255 Walker street, Mrs. Barker, was the assisting hostess. The president, Mrs. Hatch, presided over a short business meeting which was followed by readings by Miss Ruth Turner.

Dr. Van Dusen, the speaker for the afternoon, gave a very interesting talk on "The Passing of the Frontier." He described many personal experiences in Texas and showed pictures illustrating the vast changes that have taken place since the pioneer days of the frontier. He was assisted by Mr. Van Dusen who gave readings pertaining to the subject. Refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held April 21, with Mrs. Harris, 149 Matheson street.

PAWTUCKET CHURCH

The regular monthly supper of the Pawtucket Congregational church was held last evening under the auspices of the Mystic Opt. class of the Sunday school. The supper was served at 6:30 o'clock with the boys of the class as waiters. The entertainment, a comedy-drama entitled, "A Case for Sherlock Holmes," was given by the girls of the Hyacinth club. The following named young women took part: Ethelred Willmot, Cora Garnett, Anna Hall, Alice Willmot, Margaret Douglas, Edith Cameron, Clara Curran, Gladys Bigelow, Mildred Gray and Esther Douglas. The supper committee included: S. I. Garnett, chairman; B. B. Hart, H. J. Willmot, Leonard Ryan, W. F. Bliss, assisted by Miss Hattie Jamieson.

MOTORMEN ON LICENSE BILL WITNESS STAND IS AMENDED

Bay State Employees
Prefer Country Runs,
They Testify

Express Hope That Men
Will Get Wage Increase

BOSTON, April 8.—Having expressed to their superintendents the opinion that it was easier to operate a car in the country than in the city, seven Bay State Street Railway motormen were yesterday served with summonses at the instance of the company and appeared as witnesses before the board of arbitration in Kingsley hall, Ford building.

Most of these men have been long years in the service of the road, and all are members of the Amalgamated association. After saying that country runs were their choice, they were cross-examined by James H. Vahey, the company's counsel. To him they said they hoped the men would get an increase in wages and a betterment of working conditions.

Robert A. Wilcox of Brockton, who is 67 years old and has been 22 years in service, told Mr. Vahey that he believed in the union, but had no opinion about the graduated scale. Josiah B. Sherman of Brockton, who has been a motorman for 28 years, "guess" that country running was easier than city operation. He said he appeared as a witness only because he had to.

George Southworth of Fall River told Mr. Swift that he wouldn't have given his "honest opinion" to Supt. Seibel had he known that it was to result in his being called to testify. William A. Lapham of Fall River declared that he didn't think the company was going to make use of the opinion he had expressed.

Edgar M. Peck, who is 55 years old, of Whitman; Leroy W. Hazell of Brockton, 61 years old, and William Monteth of Newport, were the other Bay State men to testify on this matter. Then followed a delegation of Portland motormen and conductors, who came down from the Maine city to testify along the same lines, that suburban operation is easier than city operation. While in Boston these men are staying at a downtown hotel, the guests of the Bay State.

Those who testified yesterday were Albert N. Vining, Fred M. McNell, Ernest E. Moulton, Clifton Fogg and Lawrence Ebbesen. Gen. Supt. George H. Gray took the stand and described his visit to Portland to Mr. Vahey and his talks with the men themselves. He said he considered the Portland system fairly comparable with the Bay State lines north of Boston, which come under his jurisdiction.

Prof. Albert S. Richey of the time-table station resumed the witness stand late in the afternoon for further cross-examination. When he said he could not agree with Prof. Irving Fisher that the cost of living generally has increased as fast as the food prices, Mr. Vahey added: "I agree with you there."

Prof. Richey could not concur in Prof. Fisher's opinion that the general increase in the cost of living during the past four years has been at least 15 per cent. His figure was 8 per cent. for that period.

Today's hearing will be in Kingsley hall.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

FAMILIES ON ITS LIST

The feature of the monthly meeting of the board of directors of Lowell Social Service league was the reading of the report of Miss M. A. Cotter, the working executive of the league, who called attention to the fact that the league is interested in 75 different families at the present time and that 41 new families were added to the list in March. The league now has 1000 families on its "confidential exchange" meaning the number of families receiving aid of various kinds from the different charities in Lowell.

A committee was appointed to be known as the special membership committee and a plan will be evolved to make an effective campaign for a large number of members at one dollar each as well as many members contributing larger sums. Congressman John Jacob Rogers is the president of the league and was present at yesterday's meeting. There were about 11 directors present and a thorough discussion of the problems of the league was held.

Senate Changes Front
On the Factory Hospital Question

BOSTON, April 8.—The Massachusetts senate voted yesterday to hold no session today as a mark of respect to the late Ex-Gov. Curtis Guild. It will meet Friday at 10 o'clock, an hour earlier than is customary, in order that the members may attend the funeral services at noon.

The senate substituted for the new flag bill already passed by the house a bill introduced by Senator Bean of Cambridge. The substituted measure, which was placed in the orders of the day, has been frequently called the "Harvard bill." It prohibits the carrying of any red or black flag as a symbol of opposition to organized government, but permits a red or black flag to be carried by any religious, charitable or educational organization or institution, which shall file its distinguishing mark with the secretary of state.

The house bill, for which Senator Bean's bill is substituted, made no distinction as to color but provided that the symbol should not be against organized government or sacrilegious.

The senate reconsidered its action of Monday whereby it rejected the bill requiring manufacturers employing 25 or more persons to maintain and equip emergency hospitals for treatment of sick or injured employees. After a debate, in which Senator Wells opposed the measure and Senator Sheehan and Senator Doyle favored it, the bill was ordered to a third reading, 20 to 11.

The bill to prevent a licensed dealer from transporting liquors into a non-license city or town, which has already been passed by the house, was amended by the insertion of this provision: "Unless licensed so to do by the aldermen or selectmen of such city or town within which such delivery is to be made." The bill as amended was then ordered to a third reading.

In opposing the amendment, which was offered by Senator Farnsworth of Leominster, Senator Bean said the effect of such an amendment would be to nullify the very intent and purpose of the bill.

Another defeat for the temperance workers was the rejection, 11 to 6, of the bill to make the granting of pony express licenses by boards of aldermen and selectmen permissive rather than mandatory. Under the present law at least one pony express license must be granted by a municipality. The bill was passed by the senate, but its rejection yesterday by the senate means the end of its career unless the action is reconsidered.

The senate passed to be engrossed the bill providing that the amount appropriated by the city of Boston for school teachers' pensions shall be seven cents, instead of five cents, on each $1000. The bill also increases by two cents on each $1000 of property valuation the amount of taxes upon which the city appropriations are made.

Another bill affecting the school teachers' pensions, which the senate also passed to be engrossed, provides that the appropriations for the Boston public schools may amount to $4.07 on every $1000 of property valuation. The present limit of school appropriations is $3.95 on every $1000 of property valuation.

Committee reports read and placed in the orders of the day included: Ways and Means.—That the highway commission expend $35,000 to construct a driveway connection from Brooks street in Brighton to Charlesbank road in Newton, and $25,000 in the improvement of Concord avenue in Cambridge from Walden street to the Belmont line.

FRENCH DRIVE AGAINST ST. MIHIEL AN IMPORTANT MOVE OF THE WAR

MAP SHOWING GERMAN WEDGE ASSAILED BY FRENCH—FRENCH BATTERY
FRENCH ACTION

LONDON, April 8.—In an effort to dislodge the Germans from St. Mihiel, at which point is the apex of the narrow wedge which marks the southernmost advance of the invaders, the French troops are conducting a sustained and somewhat formidable offensive between the Meuse and the Moselle. "Greatest pressure is being exerted by the troops of General Joffre on the line running from St. Mihiel to Pont-a-Mousson. At Ailly, Apremont, Flirey and west of the forest of Le Pretre the attacks of the French were violent, according to the testimony of the German war office. Berlin admits the importance of this move. Now the Germans have been able to hold the St. Mihiel wedge, with an occasional offensive, is no longer a military secret. In the autumn of 1912 a German company rented a large plot of ground close to St. Mihiel for the manufacture of a chemical product. It was a big company and had need of big buildings with solid foundations and deep concrete cellars. In July, 1914, the company stopped operations and closed the plant. When, on Sept. 20, the Army of Metz arrived upon the scene it destroyed the buildings, but found in the concrete cellars perfect emplacements for heavy guns. For nearly two years the plant had been a fort in all but the armament. After Sept. 20 it had that, and the 42-centimeter howitzers so employed made short work of the French forts at Troven and the Roman camp, which were armed with 12-centimeter guns.

A DECISIVE BLOW

Obregon's Army in

Central Mexico

EL PASO, Texas, April 8.—By the defeat of General Obregon's army in the last two days in Central Mexico officials of the Villa faction declared today at Juarez that a decisive blow had been struck at the Carranza cause. Reports to the Villa headquarters said Obregon's force was retreating southward from a point midway between Queretaro and Tlaxcala. Villa personally is directing the pursuit. Each side had from 20,000 to 25,000 men, according to reports.

ALIEN WOMEN AND GIRLS

GREATER CONSIDERATION FOR THOSE DETAINED BY IMMIGRATION

AUTHORITIES

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Greater consideration is to be shown in the future to alien women or girls who have been arrested and detained by immigration authorities under amendments to the immigration rules which just have been approved by Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Hereafter, those detained or arrested on their arrival in this country will be placed under the supervision of special female officers who will see to it that they are properly cared for in the immigration station or in philanthropic or other similar organizations. Only in case of absolute necessity shall detained women and girls be placed in jails or other similar places.

"It being the purpose of this special procedure to humanize the administration of the law," says the bureau of immigration, "it is important that the cases of women and girls shall be handled in a particularly considerate and careful manner not only while the aliens are being detained in this country but in the event of deportation, after they arrive in the country of their activity at the port where they originally embarked for the United States.

DEITRICH OUT FOR GOVERNOR

Former Congressman to Run for Democratic Nomination

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald
and Cong. Phelan
May Be Candidates

BOSTON, April 8.—Ex-Congressman Frederick S. Dietrich of Cambridge announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor last night.

He will make prohibition, equal suffrage, a more efficient militia and the enactment of a law to prevent employers using the stop watch on workmen in manufacturing establishments his chief issues.

But it is on the prohibition issue that he bases his hope of success, and in the statement of his position, the ex-congressman said that he believed that the opponents of prohibition would not hesitate to spend $200,000 in the fall campaign to continue local option in this state.

Mr. Dietrich's announcement did not create much of a stir in political circles. By some it was regarded as an attempt to draw out Gov. Walsh into a statement of his position. The governor had no comment to make, other than that his attitude would be made known after the prorogation of the legislature.

Phelan and Fitzgerald Mentioned

Those who are close to the governor are still of the opinion that he will not be a candidate for a third term. While Mr. Dietrich is the first candidate in the field, former Lieut. Gov. Barry has announced that if Mr. Walsh is not a candidate he will enter the running.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald is also to be considered if the governor decides not to be a candidate and there is a strong movement on foot for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Patton.

There is no question but that Gov. Walsh will have the united support of his party for a third nomination in case he wants it. But ex-Congressman Dietrich is stated to be proceeding on the theory that the governor will not again be a candidate. It is expected that Congressman Michael J. Phelan of Lynn will be in the running also, in case the governor is not a candidate.

Mr. Dietrich was defeated last fall for re-election in his district by Frederick W. Dallinger. He has served three terms in the house.

FOOL QUESTION, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Answers Reporters Who Asked If Progressives
Will Return to G.O.P.

Colonel at Philadelphia
Dee-lighted With Reception

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—"That's a fool question," snipped Col. Roosevelt, when asked on his arrival here, to express an opinion on the chances of the progressives returning to the republican fold. The colonel lectured last night on his recent explorations in Brazil.

As Mr. Roosevelt stepped from the train he was greeted by the four men who constituted the reception committee, and after shaking hands all round, tipped his hat to the several hundred persons, most of them arriving and departing travellers, who gathered about him in the station train shed. There were no cheers.

As the little party proceeded to two colonel's hotel, the colonel alternately scowled and snarled back at the reporters accompanying him and bowed and tipped his hat to friends who recognized him. Here's the story of the trip from the station:

(To the crowd) "Dee-lighted!"

(To the reporters) "That's a fool question."

(To the crowd) "This is bully; dee-lighted!"

(To the reporters) "Understand me? That's a fool question to ask now."

The colonel's reception committee was composed of Prof. William Tinglebach, president of the Geographical society of Philadelphia, for which the colonel's lecture was delivered; Dr. Hudson Chapman, vice-president of the society; Prof. Leo Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania and Dr. J. William White, an old personal friend.

The colonel's lecture was the first he has delivered since he has completed his conclusions on the findings of his Amazon expedition.

DICTIONARIES GO FAST

EVERYONE WHO HAS SECURED

THE SUN'S DICTIONARY HAS BE-

COME A HOOPER FOR IT

There is no let-up in the demand for

The Sun's New Universities Dictionary, and there should be for every body should want it, for it is the latest thing in dictionaries at a nominal cost, and The Sun is prepared to furnish a copy for every resident of Lowell.

They have gone like hot-cakes, and every person who has taken them up has been an enthusiastic booster of

The Sun's proposition. An objectionable feature to about every edition of the dictionary in the past has been the diminutive type, which has been difficult to read for many whose sight is not the best. This fault has been corrected by the publishers of the New

printed in type that can be read at first place by all. That it is the last word in the language of the day is evidenced by the fact that it contains words that have been accepted by common usage within the past few years, and which did not appear in the older

tionaries. Another commendable feature is the complete elimination of all indefinite and obscure words which have no place in correct and clean speech.

All words that one should know, however, will be found together with their

ing.
